STATE LIBRARY MASSACHUSETTS

Today

Mexico's Puzzle
Mr. Rockefeller Had Fun
Honor to Russia
Kellogg's Happy Day

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1928, by Star Co.

THE LAWS OF MEXICO make no provision for a successor to Calles now that Obregon is dead. But Calles has the army, which means that he has Mexico. He will undoubtedly run the government until he chooses, through the Congress, a man to succeed him. Or a dictatorship might arise.

Conservative Mexico, and foreign capital dread the seizing of power by an ultra radical labor group. But again, Calles has the army and the army has the weapons, and uses them without hesitation.

The young murderer of Obregon was evidently a political fanatic, quite willing to die in carrying out a plan. His last note, addressed "To my family" and signed Juan, read: "Knowing that I will die, in carrying out my principle, I bid you farewell."

Fortunately for peace and order, the instinct of self preservation prevents the writing of many such notes. Each man's life comes first in his estimation. Wise Providence arranged it so.

John D. Rockefeller, almost 90, enjoyed himself on Tuesday. He did not find an oil well, a diamond mine, or make twenty millions in a quick turn. That would not interest him.

He drove a coal wagon down the street in Oswego. With the driver's consent, he climbed to the high seat unaided, and was sorry to go back to his big limousine.

Learn, oh little man, that there is happiness in the world outside of owning a billion dollars, or a big limousine. The interesting thing is doing something yourself, driving a coal wagon, or raising the most wonderful baby.

Whatever your opinion of Russia and her bolshevism, you will notice this—Russia sent the ships and fliers that rescued the groups of men stranded hopelessly in the Arctic.

Credit for the work of courageous Swedish fliers, Russia did it that was done. Some big European powers were content to watch the Russian ice-breakers at work.

This is a happy day for Secretary Kellogg. Britain accepts his "No war plan," which now stands as an international agreement. Chamberlain was cheered as he announced British adherence to the House of Commons.

The world knows that war does not pay, and fears another war, which might actually wipe out what we call civilization. But the question is: "Can you bind the nations by good resolutions?" You might, with resolutions, plus adequate preparation.

Dr. James B. Murphy, of the Rockefeller Institute, tells the London Cancer Conference of a "growth substance" in nature that causes tumors to grow.

This substance, injected in chickens, has caused growth of tumors 90 times in 100.

It is hoped that where there is a growth substance there will also be found a growth PREVENTING substance.

Once discovered, that would conquer or check cancer growth.

Gradually science draws closer to the cancer mystery. The healing of a wound is like a cancer growth, except that it stops when the healing work is done. The experiments with chickens are important, because, as explained to this writer at the Rockefeller Institute, the production of cancerous growth within the body of a chicken is so difficult as to be almost impossible. In only one case had it been possible to create cancer in a hen. There were scores of rats and mice.

Please Turn to Page 18, Column 3.

TODAY'S BANK STATEMENTS

Boston balance	$38,000,000
Boston clearance	75,000,000
New York balance	106,000,000
New York clearance	914,000,000

The Weather

Thunder showers; not so warm; northeast and west winds.

High tide, 1:18 a. m.; 1:53 p. m.

Sun rises, 5:24; sets, 8:16.

Light all vehicles at 8:56 p. m.

Beat Woman in Mill Strike

SPORTING CLOSING STOCKS

BOSTON DAILY AMERICAN

A HOME PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE WHO THINK

VOL. 25—No. 100 | Published Daily by Hearst Newspaper Publishing Co., 8 Winthrop Square | BOSTON, THURSDAY, JULY 19, 1928 | Entered as second class mail matter at Boston, Mass., under the act of March 3, 1879 | 2 CENTS WITHIN 50 MILES OF BOSTON | 3 CENTS ELSEWHERE

THE Peach

TILDEN DROPPED FROM U. S. CUP TEAM

Mercury Drops 10 Degrees in an Hour

WIFE OF OBREGON SLAYER ARRESTED

How Peggy Got 'Em! Love Secret Is Out!

(Editor's Note—The announcement a few days ago that the famous Peggy Hopkins Joyce had become engaged again—this time to the wealthy Lord Northleah of England—set feminine tongues wagging all over the country. "How does Peggy do it?" was the general theme. International News Service sent Ruth Ridenour, staff writer, to find out from Peggy's friends, the secret of her charm.)

By RUTH RIDENOUR
(International News Service Staff Correspondent.)

New York, July 18—The accomplishments of Peggy Hopkins Joyce are the subject of conjecture and debate from the days of Salome and Cleopatra, Catherine the Great, George Sand, Lady Hamilton, and so on down to our own Peggy Joyce.

We read of the destinies they have controlled, the achievements they have effected. We read of their "genius," "contemporaneous appearance—and everybody wonders still more.

Sidney Giles explained it by a two-letter word which took into account every angle and phase of the case. Others explained it by words which are no more help because so many ineffectual phrases have "beauty," "charm," "personality," "brilliance," "sex appeal" or "what have you" which never does explain the fascination that one of these few has.

It looks as though there is some

Please Turn to Page 4, Column 5.

14 OTHERS LOCKED UP WITH HER

Mexico City, July 19 (AP)—Secrecy was intensified today for those whom President Calles termed the "intellectual directors" of the assassination of Gen. Alvaro Obregon.

Fourteen persons, prisoner in the restaurant El San Angel, where Obregon was killed, and all employes of that place were arrested and held for investigation. El Universal Graffico said the mother and wife of the assassin also were under arrest.

Gen. Obregon's body was en route to his native state of Sonora, some 1005 miles distant, aboard the presidential train which he would have used had he lived for inauguration in December. The body will arrive at its last resting place tomorrow.

Police identified the slayer as Jose de Leon Toral, 28, art student and a native of Lagos, in the state of Jalisco.

President Calles in a signed statement

Please Turn to Page 4, Column 1.

TILDEN OUT, LOTT QUITS

Because Big Bill, captain of the American Davis Cup team, has been dropped from the team because he wrote articles about the Wimbledon tournament while playing in it, George Lott refuses to play in the doubles, and a big row is started that threatens the success of the American team.

TILDEN OUSTED FROM U. S. DAVIS CUP TEAM; LOTT QUITS WITH HIM

Paris, July 19 (AP)—Charged with violating the amateur rules of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, Big Bill Tilden, lanky Philadelphia veteran of the outfit, was dropped from the American Davis Cup team today.

This unexpected development came as a result of Tilden's newspaper syndicate articles on the British championships at Wimbledon, where he was a participant.

Announcement of Tilden's dismissal was made by Joseph Wear, of Philadelphia, chairman of the American Davis Cup committee, and was concurred in by Samuel S. Calhoun, president of the United States Lawn Tennis association.

Wear immediately announced his

Please Turn to Page 12, Column 4.

EAST WIND ENDS HEAT SPELL; SHOWERS DUE

An unexpected and unpredicted east wind, many miles in the past the saviour of Boston, swung out of the sea today and sent the mercury bursting down from heights which had caused the prostration of two more persons.

Following an impressive morning, with temperatures higher than those of yesterday, the wind conformed with the weather man's prediction and shifted from southwesterly to the north, holding the mercury down.

With the official thermometer still registering 85 at 12:30 the welcome east wind suddenly put in its appearance, and sent the mercury down to 75 in an hour, with indications of thunder showers to come.

The first heat victim was Augustus Cummings, 29, of Lowell st., Somerville, who collapsed at the Army Base while at work, and was taken to City Hospital.

George Mascott, 45 years of age,

Please Turn to Page 2, Column 6.

TEMPERATURES

	Yesterday.	Today.
1 a. m.	78	78
2 a. m.	75	77
3 a. m.	73	77
4 a. m.	72	77
5 a. m.	73	77
6 a. m.	71	76
7 a. m.	72	75
8 a. m.	76	78
9 a. m.	80	80
10 a. m.	84	84
11 a. m.	85	85
Noon	86	85
1 p. m.	86	79
1:30 p. m.	86	75

ALCOHOL RUB DEFENSE COSTS ENGINEER $100

The statement by John Wilson of Magnolia st., Arlington, internationally known engineer, that an alcohol rubbing was responsible for the odor of liquor, failed to prevent him from being convicted in East Cambridge district court today of operating an auto while under the influence of liquor. He was fined $100, appealed, and bail was fixed at $200.

Wilson, formerly a professor of Liberpool Technological School, and one-time chief engineer of the Liverpool Rapid Transit Company, was arrested on June 24 by State constabulary. They testified his breath smelled of liquor and that he admitted having had a highball.

In his own defense the engineer said he caught a chill in a rain storm while playing golf at the Winchester Country Club, and on doctors' advice, took a hot bath and alcohol rub.

CITY CAN'T BORROW TO IMPROVE HUB AIRPORT

Mayor Nichols, who wants to spend $250,000 for improving the airport, will have to find this sum inside the regular city debt limit.

The joint legislative committee, considering Governor Fuller's lease of the airport to the city, today voted adversely on allowing the mayor to borrow outside the established debt limit for this purpose.

City Auditor Rupert Carven and Corporation Counsel Deland argued against such a vote, declaring that the expenditure would be an extraordinary one.

Committee members in reply called attention to $650,000 returned to the city by the Elevated, and also to the cut in the state tax. It was said that if Boston was allowed to borrow outside the limit for airport purposes other cities would make the same request.

The expenditure was not extraordinary, the committee members declared, because the Legislature had passed a bill this year authorizing municipalities to make appropriations for this purpose.

Enjoy Summer Pleasures In Your Own Automobile

Through the ownership of a car to take you to the beaches and out in the country, you, too, can share the enjoyment of healthful summer days

A car selected from the Classified automobile columns will give you good service. It can be purchased on most reasonable terms.

Decide right now to make THIS summer different. Select a car from the Classified columns of today's

Boston Evening American

Largest Evening Circulation in New England

FLIER EXPLAINS WHY HE RESCUED NOBILE FIRST

Stockholm, July 19 (AP)—The reason that Gen Umberto Nobile, leader of the Italia expedition, was rescued first, explained by his Swedish rescuers was that all the circumstances, including the general's condition and his knowledge of the situation made it advisable to take him off the ice first.

The leader of the Swedish Spitsbergen expedition, Capt. Tornberg, referring to the rescue of Nobile on June 24 by Lieut. Einer Lundborg of the Swedish expedition, states that Lieut. Lundborg had orders to take off one of the wounded members of the Nobile party, but which one was left to his discretion.

Capt. Tornberg, however, impressed on Lieut. Lundborg that it was desirable to save Nobile first in order that he might assist them.

Please Turn to Page 2, Column 1.

"BEST DANCING ORCHESTRA IN BOSTON"
SAIL & DANCE TONITE
MAYFLOWER
Sail from Rowes Wharf 8:30 P.M. daily
EVERY WEEK DAY EVENING EXCEPTING MONDAYS
Sundays at 12 P. M. (Rain or Shine)

Beginning Saturday, July 21st
The Greatest Sunday Steamer
ROSE STANDISH
Will Inaugurate the Newest Form of Ocean Entertainment
Hour Cruise—Vaudeville—Dancing
Steamer Leaves Rowes Wharf 8:30 P.M.
Returns From Newellagt Gulf 11 P.M.
2½ Hour Sail
FARE $2.00 Plus Tax
A few hundred dollars wisely invested in Boston real estate now, will be worth thousands in a few years. Use the wonderful property values offered today in the real estate columns of the Classified Ads.

Treasury Balance

Washington, July 19—Today's balance, $168,869,748

$8,680,748.

United States customs receipts, $12,186,829.

MINUTE MAN
Cleveland and Chicago
Standard Time
BOSTON & MAINE RAILROAD

TREASURER CHARGED WITH TAKING FUNDS OF LODGE

Ernest D. Johnson, 38, of Copley st., Cambridge, treasurer of Pocohontas Lodge, No. 129, Colored Order of Elks, pleaded not guilty in East Cambridge court today to a complaint charging misappropriation of $3,800 of the organization's funds. Judge Stone continued the case to July 28, so as to enable Johnson to go over the books of the lodge with an expert accountant.

READ THE
Boston Evening American
Movie Directory
For Tonight's Show in Your Neighborhood Theatre

NEW BEDFORD WOMAN STRIKE-BREAKER BEATEN

New Bedord, July 19—Strike pickets today tore the clothing of a woman strike-breaker and inflicted injuries on both her and her husband is an effort to prevent the woman from going to work at the Nonquitt Mill. The ento the house, called for the police and the woman was escorted to work. Ser husband is not a mill worker.

SEARS ROEBUCK IS STRONG FEATURE

Sears Roebuck was a strong feature in the New York and Boston stock markets today. The big mail order house issue rose 1 3-4 on active demand. Pittsburgh Coal and Byers added more than $2 a share. Bethlehem Steel and Tinkham showed special strength.

HUB GAS RATE BOOST HITS SMALL CONSUMER

A new schedule calling for a 50-cent service charge, an increase in the rates for small users and a corresponding reduction for large consumers, was today filed with the state public utility commission by the Boston Consolidated Gas Co.

Several months ago a proposed schedule of new rates with a service charge of $1 was disapproved after hearings held by the commission.

A comparison of the present rates with the proposed new rates follows:

Present rate	Rate on file	Proposed rate
$1.80	1.800	65.7c
2.60	2.600	1.30
3.60	3.600	1.95
4.80	4.800	2.60
6.00	6.000	3.25
7.20	6.900	3.90
8.40	7.900	4.55
9.60	8.700	5.20
10.80	9.500	5.85
12.00	10.300	6.50

The commission today set Monday afternoon at 2:15 as the date and time for a public hearing. The company intends to put the new rates into effect on Aug. 1, if approved by the commission. The present schedule has been in effect since Feb. 1, 1924.

SUFFOLK LAW SCHOOL

Four-year course, LL.B. degree. Registration daily. Also Monday and Friday eves. Call, write or phone for catalog. 20 Derne Street (Rear of Hale House) Rec. 0826. OLLISON L. ASHLEY, LL.D. Dean.

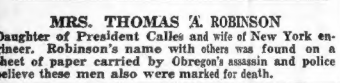
Obregon Assassination Bares Plot to Kill Others ⁓ U. S. Man in Danger ⁓ Possible Successor to Killer's Victim

FOE OF OBREGON
Luis Morones, secretary of labor in the Calles cabinet and bitter enemy of the slain President-elect, is under heavy guard against possible reprisals.

HEAD OF NATION
President Plutarco Elias Calles, who declares Obregon's assassination was the result of a religious plot and directs search for instigators.

AARON SAENZ
Former minister of foreign affairs in the Calles cabinet, who may become provisional president, then call a special election to continue Calles in office.

This is the last known posed photograph of Gen. Alvaro Obregon, assassinated President-elect of Mexico, whose death at the hands of a young art student is attributed to a plot of "master minds" for whom police are searching.
International Newsreel Photos.



MRS. THOMAS A. ROBINSON
Daughter of President Calles and wife of New York engineer. Robinson's name with others was found on a sheet of paper carried by Obregon's assassin and police believe these men also were marked for death.

German Press Says Nobile Sacrificed Men for 'Vanity'

Berlin, July 19 (INS)—An attack on Gen. Nobile was printed today by the Deutsch Tageseitung, as the German press joined Scandinavian papers in criticizing the conduct of the Nobile expedition.

"Gen. Nobile endangered and sacrificed noted neutral scientists purely for national vanity," said the Deutsch Tageszeitung. "He defied the warnings of Professor Finn Malmgren and Professor F. Behounek in order to drop the Italian flag upon the North Pole on the anniversary of Italy's entrance into the war against a country whose hospitality he had enjoyed shortly before.

"That he also had the bad taste to drop the Pope's cross at the same time is merely another skillelght."

HEAT WAVE PUT TO ROUT BY OLD EAST WIND

Continued from First Page.

was overcome by heat in his room at Concord ave., Cambridge. A police ambulance was summoned but he revived before it arrived and so remained at home.

The forecast for Boston and vicinity—Partly cloudy tonight and Friday with probably some showers; slightly cooler, moderate northerly winds.

The weather man reported a disturbance along the Atlantic coast as far south as the Virginia Capes, which is expected to bring a storm to this section before night. There was also a storm area west of the Mississippi, which was said to be moving eastward rapidly.

The mercury stood at 78 at 1 o'clock this morning, the same mark as that of yesterday at that time, but failed to fall as far during the early morning hours. It reached a minimum of 76 at 7 o'clock and then began its upward climb to 85 at 11. Then the wind shifted and the rise was slower.

MANUEL TELLEZ
Mexican ambassador to Washington.

Heat Wave in New York Costs 13 Lives

New York, July 19—Heat has added 13 more lives to the season's toll in the metropolitan area. Eight of the new deaths were due to drowning. Three persons died of heat prostration.

One man, crazed by the atmosphere, killed himself. In Rome, Italy, two persons are dead from sunstroke and temperatures running up to 100 degrees Fahrenheit prevail in Italy today.

"Silence is Golden" is truly spoken of Classified West Ads—no noise, but they make a lot of stir—called Results.

CHIPCHASE IN HIS SECOND DIVORCE CASE

George Chipchase, North Shore professional horseman, who first won wide fame when he contributed his life savings to rescue an employer from business failure, is being sued for divorce for the second time.

Suit against him was filed in Salem probate court by Mrs. Helen Chipchase, who is acting as riding instructor at Bayard Tuckerman's Hamilton estate. She charges cruel and abusive treatment and asks custody of two minor children.

Chipchase was manager of the stables of Judge William Moore at Pride's Crossing many years ago, when the judge found himself suddenly facing failure. The chipchase savings, amounting to $4800, just turned the tide, and when Judge Moore died he provided handsomely for his employe whom he gave $25,000 in cash and income from a trust fund of $100,000.

115 Drown During Heat Wave That Sweeps Silesia

Berlin, July 19 (AP)—Drownings to the number of 115 have been reported from the Rhine provinces of Silesia since the start of the heat wave. The heat shows signs of breaking.

Sixty bathers were drowned in the middle Rhine district of the province, and of these 30 were residents of Cologne. In Lower Silesia 16 residents of Breslau were drowned in the Oder river.

TRAILS POISON IN LUNCH BY OWN ILLNESS

As a result of his experience in being made ill by sampling foods that struck down 200 workers of the Ford plant, Deputy City Health Commissioner Frederick J. Bailey declared the exact nature of the poison or bacteria would be determined today.

Back at his desk in a weakened condition, but well on the road to recovery, Dr. Bailey, who was stricken after eating chocolate cream pie from a box lunch, said he sampled the food because animals failed to react to it.

"I did this in no spirit of bravado," he said, "but because the guinea pigs and rats we experimented on, failed to react. I have frequently tested samples of tainted food for the same reason.

"I first tasted the jelly sandwich, and no ill effects were manifested, so I consumed a corned beef sandwich. Same result. Then I ate the chocolate cream pie which was in the box lunch, and three hours afterwards was stricken with nausea.

"This was followed by a five-hour period of vomiting, after which came 24 hours of weakness and nausea.

"Yesterday I was unable to eat anything, and today have partaken only of crackers and milk. I expect to have tea and toast tonight and tomorrow I will be back to nearly normal.

"I haven't determined exactly what was in the pie, but I have learned enough so that when further tests are made this afternoon I am confident the bacteria or poison will be revealed.' I know there was enough to overcome 200 workers in the Ford plant and myself.

ASK COURT HALT TROLLEY WORK

Atty. Robert G. Dodge of Boston, in behalf of owners of land abutting on the Newburyport branch of the Boston & Maine Railroad, today commenced proceedings in the Supreme Court to prevent the Eastern Massachusetts Electric Company, from constructing poles, towers and other structures on land of the plaintiffs for the transmission of electricity at a tension of 110,000 volts.

Harlan G. Kelsey, Salem; Chester Kilian, Hanford; Waldo A. Towne, Lynn; Laura M. Staples, Danvers; Edward F. Towne and Alice D. Towne of Haverhill, and Andrew L. Pierce of Topsfield, in bills of equity ask the court to enjoin the electric company from doing the proposed work.

William B. Poor and other members of the Topsfield selectmen, and Thomas E. Procter of Boston and Topsfield, in a petition against Henry G. Attwill and other members of the Department of Public Utilities, seek to have annulled a decree of that commission authorizing the Eastern Electric Company to enter on the land of Proctor.

Flier Tells Why He Saved Nobile First

Continued from First Page.

with information which would be invaluable in rescuing the other survivors.

Lieut. Lundborg declared that he considered Nobile's condition very serious and as conveying Natale Cecconi, the other injured man, who was much heavier, to the landing place would have taken more time, he thought it better to take Nobile rather than Cecconi.

The latter, in the meantime, was carried to the landing stage to await Lundborg's return.

It was on this return flight that Lundborg's plane upset in landing and he was unable to make any further rescues.

Sweden Recalls Nobile Rescue Party in Arctic

Stockholm, July 19 (AP)—The Swedish Spitzbergen relief expedition has been ordered to return to Stockholm.

There are two Swedish ships now in the north, the Quest, which was used as a base for aviation scouts from the northern entrance to Henlopen Strait, and the Tanja, which is riding at anchor and has aboard three Swedish aviators who will proceed home.

Russia to Speed Up New Nobile Rescue Work

Moscow, July 19 (AP)—The Soviet rescue commission announced today that its new rescue efforts in behalf of the missing Amundsen party will get underway as soon as possible.

Pilot Sergeev, attached to the ice-breaker Maligin which is proceeding along the southeast coast of the Spitzbergen archipelago, will start an immediate search for Amundsen in areas previously uninvestigated.

Rescued Nobile Men to Return to Italy at Once

Rome, July 19 (AP)—All the rescued members of the Italia will return to Italy immediately in conformity with instructions from Premier Mussolini.

The Premier has given orders to all the members of the expedition to refrain from all messages, declarations and interviews.

The base ship Citta di Milano will transport the rescued men to Narvik, Norway, and will then return to Kings Bay in order to aid in further search for the six men carried off in the bag of the Italia.

Believe Malmgren Left Notes of Fatal Voyage

Narvik, Norway, July 19 (AP)—The suggestion that Dr. Finn Malmgren had made notes concerning the fatal voyage of the Italia, which should be found, was advanced today by Pilot Nilsson of the Swedish plane Upland.

The Upland and the Finnish plane Turku arrived here by steamship from Spitzbergen, where they had been co-operating in the Nobile rescue work.

Nobile to Hurry Back to Rome, Says Report

London, July 19—A Central News dispatch from Kings Bay today said that Gen. Umberto Nobile would return to Italy shortly.

It was said he would travel to France on a motor schooner, traveling thence overland to Rome.

The reason of his departure is unknown, the dispatch added.

Playstead Station Fire

The Playstead station of the "Narrow Gauge" railroad in Winthrop was damaged by fire, caused by a spark from a passing locomotive.

Dainty Dessert in Lunch Box Probe ⁓ Sends Hub Health Expert to Bed

HIS OWN DOCTOR, SO HE RECOVERS
Dr. F. J. Bailey, city health expert who ate chocolate cream pie in testing "poison lunches." His daughters, Eleanor and Mary, nursed him when pie made him ill. Middle photo shows him stricken in bed.

STAGE FOLK BRAND NEWPORT SOCIETY "SNOBBISH"

Hub Woman Golfer Modest About Golf Record Of 2 Holes-in-One in Succession

THE STROKE THAT WON

Mrs. Kathleen Capper of Brookline made a world's record at the Chestnut Hill Golf Club links, but insists it was just downright luck.

TWICE ENOUGH

"Why didn't I try it the third time? No such luck. I'd have to get myself patented."

"OH, MOTHER, SMILE!"

So mother smiled and called the strokes that brought her fame the flukiest kind of a fluke.

—Boston Evening American Staff Photos

ALL SET FOR A PRACTICE ROUND

Mrs. Capper and her daughters, Margaret and Anne. Although Mrs. Capper has never played in a tournament, and says she doesn't know how to play, she thinks partners will be easy to find now.

BOSTON AMERICAN

BOSTON, THURSDAY, JULY 19, 1928

SOCIETY BARS STAGE FOLK AT BAILEY BEACH

Swats "Snobs"!

New York, July 19 (AP)—Society folk who bathe at the ultra-fashionable Bailey's Beach at Newport have been accused of "snobbishness" for a reputed bar to members of the theatrical profession.

Dorothy Jardon, opera singer, who is the wife of Capt. Harry Oelrichs, nephew of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, was so peeved over it all that she summoned reporters to the offices of the Actors' Equity and gave vent to her feelings.

"The whole thing is snobbish and un-American," she said. "I have just enough Irish in me to give them a swat in the eye.

"I know many actors and actresses who are ladies and gentlemen of the highest type. So-called society people are glad enough to call upon the theatrical profession for aid in giving benefits. And they dance with them in night clubs and cabarets. Why aren't they good enough to associate with us as social equals?"

Miss Jardon, who sails for Europe on Saturday to sign an operatic contract, said she personally had experienced no lack of cordiality.

She was especially exercised over a statement in a theatrical magazine attributed to William Young, superintendent of Bailey's Beach, in which he was quoted as saying that no actors or actresses would be allowed on Bailey's Beach during the Newport Casino theater season and that "nobody of consequence in society circles would have the players as their guests during the morning bathing hours."

Mr. Young denied at Newport that any affront toward the theater folk was intended. "It is a fact," he said, "that they must be put up by members, but that is a requisite of all clubs."

When the Casino season opened, he explained, a few members of the stock company went to the beach, believing they could use it without sponsorship, and were denied admittance.

FLAYS SOCIETY AT NEWPORT

Dorothy Jardon, opera singer, wife of Capt. Harry Oelrichs, who says Newport society folk are "unAmerican and snobbish." Her ire was roused when her stage friends were barred from bathing at exclusive Bailey Beach.

WOMAN CALLS GOLF RECORD JUST LUCK

Setting a world's record in golf by making two holes in one in succession is a huge joke with Mrs. Kathleen Capper of Brookline, but not so with her tanned and chubby children, Margaret, 11, and Anne, 10.

"Mother, oh mother, do it again today," they begged in unison, over and over, as she left for the links with the avowed intention of improving her game.

As if a world's record could be improved.

"But that was just downright luck," she said.

The record was made by Mrs. Capper yesterday at the Chestnut Hill Golf Club. She made the second hole in one, during a practice round, and immediately tried it over again and repeated.

Mrs. Capper, young and the picture of buoyant good health, laughed heartily from start to finish as she told of her achievement.

SMILES FOR DAUGHTER

The only time she didn't laugh was when posing for pictures with her clubs, forcing little Anne to exclaim:

"Oh, mother, smile," with much childish emphasis on the "smile."

Anne, as young as she is, caddies a bit for her mother sometimes, and both she and Margaret confided in the reporter that their mother was "a peach." They'll also tell you their daddy was a track captain at Harvard.

"I never played in a tournament, but I guess I won't have much trouble getting partners now," said Mrs. Capper. "Nothing like that would ever happen in a tournament, anyway.

"It was on a practice round with some friends and the flukiest kind of a fluke. I really don't know how to play, honestly I don't.

RIGHT INTO THE CUP

"What amuses my husband most is that I went back and tried it again. It was on the second hole which is only about 100 yards on the Chestnut Hill course. I often drive that far and farther.

"I took a drive and watched it land on the green, roll toward the cup and disappear. There was quite a shout from folk ahead of us who had turned to watch my drive and I was so flabbergasted I felt as if I were walking on air.

"I said to my friends, 'Gee, wonder if I could do it again,' and so I tried it and did it. I took the ball back to the tee and tried mighty hard to make a perfect swing and drive, and—well, it went right into the cup again.

"Now, I can see you're going to ask me why I didn't try it a third time. That's what everybody's asking me, but say, do you think I could ever have done it again? I would have to get myself patented.

"I have played golf for quite a while, but began taking it seriously about a year ago. I play very often, for I love sports.

The domestic help problem is solved by taking a Hitchcock's apartment and the best are advertised daily in the For Rent columns.

SON OF MEXICAN 'TERROR'

HIS NAME IS PANCHITO VILLA

Youngest son of Pancho Villa, the bandit leader, who before his death held Mexico in terror for several years, defying capture by both the Mexican and United States governments. Little Panchito, it is said, resembles his father, who used to say he wanted the boy to be a lawyer.

International Newsreel Photo.

SON OF 'BIG SIX' NOW AIR PILOT LANDS IN HUB

Christy Mathewson, Jr., son of the famous pitcher who was the idol of baseball fans, landed at the Boston airport today as a passenger in a big Stinson-Detroit plane, and was revealed as an accredited pilot with seven hours' solo flying.

Young "Christy" was in flying company, for another passenger was Marvin Horeman, who, although only 14 years old, has had several hours of instruction in the air and is ready for instruction in landings.

The boy reached his fourteenth birthday only two days ago and the trip here today in the big passenger monoplane, which came from Schenectady, was a birthday present.

Mathewson proved enthusiastic about flying and was interested in plans for developing the Boston airport. Never an ardent baseball fan, he has been engaged in research radio work for the General Electric Company as a student engineer. He is a graduate of Bucknell, the same college where his father began his career as a ball player.

Vincent Rickard was the pilot of the plane. He was to take back as a passenger Mrs. Anna Terrant, whom he brought here two weeks ago for hospital treatment.

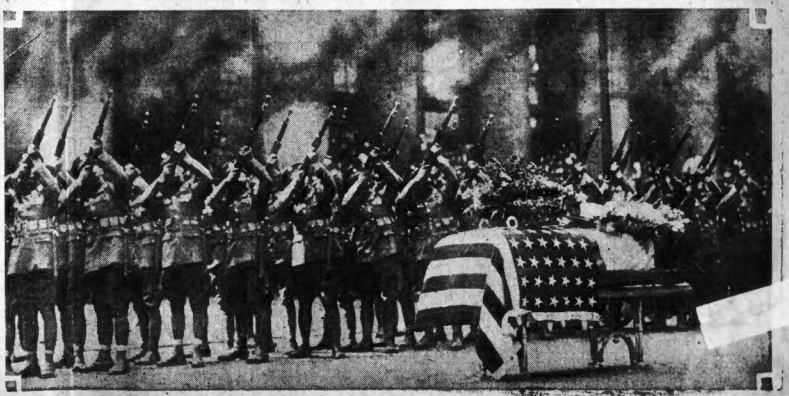
CHRISTY, JR., HIGH FLIER

—Boston Evening American Staff Photo

YOUNG MATHEWSON IN HUB

Son of the famous baseball pitcher was revealed as an accredited air pilot when he arrived at the airport as a passenger in a plane from Schenectady. He doesn't care for baseball.

Final Volley of Honor Sends "Mexico's Lindy" Home



Exceptional photo made at Pennsylvania Station, New York, shows troops firing the final volley in a salute over the casket of Capt. Emilio Carranza, Mexico's air ace, just before the body was borne to the funeral train which is carrying it back to Mexico City. Capt. Carranza, known as "Mexico's Lindbergh," was killed in the crash of his plane in New Jersey.

FIFTEEN NEW ARRESTS IN CONNECTION WITH OBREGON KILLING

WIFE AND MOTHER OF SLAYER ARE AMONG PRISONERS

Continued From First Page.

ment announced that the assassin had confessed that his crime was motivated by religious fervor and that the authorities had gained much information "complicating directly clerical action."

The government is determined, he stated, to punish not only the material author of the crime, but also to punish "as examples" those found to be "intellectual directors of the deed."

15 OTHERS ARRESTED.

Gen. Antonio Rios Zertuche, installed as chief of police after the tragedy, announced that the prisoner "had commenced to talk."

Gen. Limon, chief of the presidential staff, announced the situation throughout the republic continued tranquil despite the intense feeling the slaying had engendered. The army is under orders to maintain peace and censorship remains in force. Excitement in the capital, which caused numerous enemies of Obregon to flee in fear of their lives, quieted considerably.

The assassin, subjected to a continuous grilling, during which even President Calles had urged obtain information from him, was said unofficially to have refused to admit having had accomplices and to have insisted that he alone was responsible.

HAD PICTURE OF PRIEST

He is said to have lived at Guadalajara and to have come to Mexico City six months ago seeking work. Police asserted they found on him a picture of the Catholic priest Miguel Augustin Projuares, who was executed in connection with the attempt to assassinate Gen. Obregon with bombs last November. A rosary and other religious emblems were also found.

The permanent commission of congress was summoned to meet today. Whether Calles would continue in office after his term expired in December or whether another would be elected to replace Obregon was still a matter of conjecture.

SAENZ MAY BE CHOSEN

The constitution at present forbids direct succession of the president in two terms of office. Calles was elected on the slogan: "Effective suffrage; no re-election."

Various means of making such succession possible, however, were being discussed.

These include the appointment by congress of a provisional president to assume office on the expiration of Calles term in December, it was believed if this plan were followed Aaron Saenz, former minister of foreign affairs and now Governor of Nuevo Leon, would be named provisional president. Saenz was among the foremost of Obregon's supporters and is a brother-in-law of one of Calles' daughters.

A general election could then be called and Calles might offer himself for re-election without violating the clause in the constitution concerning direct succession.

Other suggestions are that a constitutional amendment allowing Calles to succeed himself in the present emergency might be asked or that the constitutional amendment that extends the presidential term to six years might be interpreted as applying to Calles, who was elected for a four-year term. This would retain him in office until 1930.

The body of Gen. Obregon today was travelled along a route over which recently he had journeyed on his way to the capital in triumph after his election. His body rested in a casket upon a catafalque hung with Mexican flags in the baggage car of the presidential train. Floral offerings were heaped around the slain statesman.

Col. Alexander McNab, military attache at the United States embassy, and for a long time a personal friend of Gen. Obregon, was accompanying the body as were numerous prominent members of the Mexican government.

CALL FOR VENGEANCE

Just before the train pulled out of Mexico City, thousands of Obregon followers raised their right hands and took a solemn oath to sustain his principles and to see that punishment was visited upon those responsible for his death. This was done at the instance of a member of Congress who, as the Congressman given, turned to President Calles standing nearby and said:

"We demand of you justice by the punishment of those guilty of murdering Obregon."

A When the funeral cortege reached the Colonia railroad station impromptu orations were made by Valdez Ramirez of the Congressman Aurello Manrique, both declaring that "such men as Obregon never die because their spirit and principles live on forever."

ORIGINAL "F. A. G." AUTO

Mollie Dalnick placing a Goodwin plate on Harold J. Coakley's auto. He introduced them in Boston.

—Boston Evening American Staff Photo

Quake Two Hours Long

Faenz, Italy, July 19 (AP)—What was described as a terrific earthquake was registered at the Observatory of Raphael Bendandi. It lasted two hours. The center of the phenomenon was about 8375 miles distant. The seismic disturbance was reported to be continuing.

PEGGY JOYCE'S CHARM SECRET REVEALED

Continued From First Page.

secret system, some Abracadabara to account for Peggy's series of "successful"—from a worldly viewpoint—marriages. All women want cream and incidentally diamonds. From the feminine viewpoint Peggy Joyce is a total success. The average woman feels lucky if she gets milk and one man to pay the bill for it.

Peggy herself has never been able to explain how she does it. She is unaware of her own gifts, unconscious of the fact she is unusual and does not realize her attainments are conspicuous. Her lack of self-consciousness and conceit is one of her greatest charms. She is natural and sincere, according to her friends and acquaintances.

SHE'S IRRESISTIBLE

The queen of the night clubs has a great admiration for the queen of marriage licenses.

"Because she's a great girl," Texas Guinan said. "She has more charm than any woman I've ever seen. She's irresistible. She's lovely.

"I think the secret of her charm is her ease. She is always relaxed, never gets excited. She is like a spring breeze. There are many more beautiful women than Peggy in the world, but none so fascinating."

Texas introduced Peggy to Stanley Comstock, and to Lord Northesk, she says.

"Lord Northesk had a ticket for Hollywood," she said. "When he met Peggy he tore up his ticket and bought one for Europe, where Peggy was bound for. He'd have gone down and bought the Woolworth Building if she had wanted it.

SHE HAS A RADIANCE

"There is an air about Peggy, a radiance. She doesn't need clothes. The last time she came into my club she had on a simple tailored suit. Everyone else had on gorgeous evening clothes. But she was the most striking figure in the place."

Earl Carroll took time out from rehearsing his new vanities to analyze the mysterious essence of Peggy's talents, and to express his admiration for her. He attributed her success to the work of the gods.

"Is Caruso had a God-given voice, John Singer Sargent a genius for painting, and Dempsey a natural physique, just so has Peggy been blessed with a God-given gift for being charming," he said.

"Very few men are able to withstand her attraction. She is not beautiful in the perfect sense of the word," continued the expert in appraising women. "But being a champion in her class she is unquestionably the greatest woman of our time in being able to attract those of the opposite sex.

SHE'S A GILDED BEAUTY.

"A hundred years from now, some great revue will feature Peggy as one of the gilded beauties of the 20th century."

George Jessell of jazz singer fame tried seriously to analyze Peggy's mysterious power. "You see it's this way — haughty Peggy — cold-as-ice Peggy. She makes a splendid appearance. She has had the most fortunate publicity. Peggy might not like me to say this. But I know it's true.

"I was in love with her myself once. That icy criteria of hers—it sets a man wild. Peggy holds out promise of much. She makes a man hope—well, none of her marriages have lasted very long. The man who fails for Peggy may dig, dig, dig —but he never finds any fire. No warmth. Some day maybe Peggy will fall in love. Then—whizzzit!"

HOW SHE GOT A START

Some years ago Walter Kingsley, well known newspaper writer, and more recently publicity expert for Ziegfeld, met a girl who had a $35-a-week job in some road show. She interested him—and before long she had a $100-a-week part in a Ziegfeld show. That was Peggy Hopkins Joyce.

"Why did you like her?"

At that time it could have been neither clothes, diamonds, reputation, publicity nor any of the splurge to which many people ascribe her later successes.

"She wasn't beautiful (they all agree on that) but she was so genuine, so sincere in her devastating eagerness to get ahead. She made no pretence about what she wanted.

"Peggy's greatest asset is that she never talks out of turn. If she has an opinion she keeps it to herself. No, she is not dumb. She is extremely clever. She knows when to be silent.

HER SYSTEM EASY.

"Peggy's system is an easy one if other women want to follow it," said this veteran student of women. "her gates are let down only on that path which leads to the altar. No one can say anything against her character, because she has been married to every man her name has been coupled with."

"How does it happen she has landed such wealthy and aristocratic husbands?" he was asked.

"I have known all of Peggy's husbands. They are what I would call the 'defaulted' type. They have money and position, but they are not Don Juans. If anything they are the other extreme. The type of men girls would ignore in a crowd. They have never conquered women or worlds or anything else. But they have money and position, and that's what Peggy wants. Easy shooting for a girl with no other desires at heart."

ONE MISSING ON WRECKED R. I. SCHOONER

Newport, R. I., July 19 (INS)—The air of mystery which hung about the capsizing of the two-masted schooner found floating half submerged in the cruel waters of Narragansett bay was dissipated when the vessel was found to be the Eliza Hearn, out of Providence for New York, wrecked on the rocks off Pine Tree Point when she swerved in attempting to avoid an incoming vessel.

This was ascertained when Hahn Jahu, the surviving member of its crew of two, was picked up by the U. S. S. Bainbridge near the scene of the wreck. The other member of the schooner's crew, J. Cenzu, of New York, was still missing.

The capsized boat, which was discovered early this morning only to be lost again when it drifted out to open sea, was relocated by the members of the coast guard, but sank while being towed to shore.

When the floating hulk was first discovered by the son of the harbor master no explanation could be offered for its accident since the waters of the bay were placid.

The schooner had been shortly before it capsized sailing out of the bay under full sail with no other ship in its immediate vicinity and Harbor Master Tetreau was at loss to explain the wreck until Jahu was brought ashore by the Bainbridge.

Had "Free Ride"

IRENE GORDON

Eight-year-old Paige st. Dorchester girl who cut her foot on a clam shell at Columbus park bathhouse, South Boston, thought she was having a taxi ride while being taken away in a police ambulance.

Women Aid Smith Fight

As the Elephant and Donkey Race

New York, July 19 (AP)—Headquarters for the presidential campaign of Governor Smith are to be established in the General Motors building at Broadway and 58th st.

The move from the Hotel Biltmore where governor's campaigns in recent years were centered, was ordered by John J. Raskob, Democratic chairman, and also by a financier, chairman of the General Motors Corporation.

The entire eighth floor is being remodeled for headquarters and on other floors will be quartered the Democratic senatorial and congressional committees.

Temporary offices already have been established and the first meeting of the unofficial cabinet, the members of which probably will form the executive committee of the campaign, was held there.

It was decided to form a women's advisory committee to be headed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the man who at three Democratic conventions nominated Gov. Smith for the presidency.

Atlanta, Ga., July 19 (AP)—Hoke Smith, former governor and senator and last living member of Cleveland's cabinet today was sponsor of a call to "loyal Democrats" of Georgia for a militant campaign on behalf of the Democratic presidential ticket.

Declaring himself a Democrat since the days members of his party were "obliged to arm themselves to reach the ballot box" the former senator deplored the "inactivity" of the constituted authorities of the Democratic party in Georgia for having "taken no steps toward an organized, aggressive campaign." He believed action was particularly imperative in view of the "wide spread and aggressive campaign already inaugurated against the nominees."

Washington, July 19 (INS)—Only four government departments reduced costs in 1928. Congress practiced economy and its expenses amounted to $16,402,000, a reduction of $3,000,000. Operation of the White House cost $350,407, a cut of $23,000. State Department expenses were $11,607,00, and those of the Interior Department, $289,000,000, a cut of $4,000,000.

Pine Bluff, Ark., July 19 (AP)—Senator Robinson, Democratic vice-presidential nominee, today declared Governor Smith had "perhaps done more" to bring the benefits of government to masses than any American statesman in last 50 years.

Des Moines, Ia., July 19 (AP)—Iowa State Republican convention has endorsed and pledged support to Hoover-Curtis ticket.

BIG INCREASE IN BUILDING IN BAY STATE

The aggregate value of the building permits in the 39 cities of the state and 16 of the larger towns for June exceeded by 19.5 percent the aggregate value of permits issued in May, the division of statistics of the state department of labor and industries revealed today.

The cities as a group showed an increase of 25.3 percent with the towns falling off 5 percent. This year's June total also was greater by 6.3 percent than the corresponding aggregate for the same month a year ago.

Here are the totals: June 1928, $17,607,445; May 1928, $14,736,248; June 1927, $16,596,907.

Of last month's total of $17,607,445, $10,163,100 went into new residential buildings, $4,572,368 into new nonresidential, and $2,917,017 for additions, alterations and repairs.

Among the largest individual projects were: Boston, additions to plant of Packard Motor Car Company, $400,000; service and sales station for Norfolk Buick Company, $190,000, Cambridge, Langdon Hall Law Library, Harvard University, $.1909,-000; Quincy, bank building with office and stores, $400,000, Springfield, hotel with stores, $500,000, Taunton, hotel with stores, $300,000.

The new residential buildings planned number 1082.

COTTAGE FARM BRIDGE OPENING DATE NOT SET

The bridge spanning the Charles river from St. Mary's st. to Memorial drive, on the Cambridge side, will be torn down by contractors as soon as the new Cottage Farm bridge is open to the public, it became known when bids were asked for this work.

No date for the opening of the new Cottage Farm bridge has been set by the Metropolitan District Commission, one of the members said.

Unhurt in Air Crash

Providence, R. I., July 19—Chester Voght of Erie, Pa., a pilot with the Gates Flying Circus here, crashed in an old plane after the ship had refused to rise more than 100 feet from the ground. He made a skilful landing, missing spectators on the field and was himself unhurt.

FIND 4-YR.-OLD SLEEPWALKER SEEKING 'SODA'

The title of youngest somnambulist—a big word for a little tot—was handed John Bedrossian, four, after he was found wandering the streets of Watertown early today.

John Bedrossian

John, son of H. H. Bedrossian, Watertown druggist, knows not the meaning of the word, but he knows it was hot this morning and that his father's store might supply a refreshing drink.

He left his home in Union st., clad in pajamas and was stepping high along the cool sidewalks until Patrolman Joseph Walsh sighted the vision amid the usual stream of milk deliverers.

The arm of the law was snubbed by the boy, who mumbled only that he was en route to his father's soda fountain. And wasn't somnambulist a much bigger word than cop, or police, or patrolman even?

Justice was, however, and the boy started the trek for home, but only after the puzzled officer called on the aid of a milkman for the boy's address.

Still asleep—and still thirsty—he was handed into bed while a tired druggist and his wife securely locked the door against further interruptions.

THREE HORSES, 17 COWS SAVED AS BARNS BURN

Norwich, Vt., July 19—Fire destroyed two large barns on the farm of Clinton A. Tilden. George and Carl Tilden rescued 17 cows and three horses. Spontaneous combustion in a loft of fresh hay is said to be the cause of the fire. The loss is estimated at $16,000.

The Luxurious Night Train between BOSTON and MONTREAL

The New Englander

Leaves Back Bay (So. Station) 8:00 P.M. Daily
Arrives Montreal 7:05 A. M. Daily
(Standard Time)

All steel train, latest equipment. Combination type Compartment-Drawing Room and open-section Library Lounge Sleeping Cars.

For information, tickets and full particulars apply to ticket office North Station or to T. F. Pringle, 333 Washington Street, Boston, Mass. Telephone, HUBbard 2165

BOSTON & MAINE RAILROAD
CENTRAL VERMONT RAILWAY
CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

2 PLACED ON POLICE RETIREMENT LIST

Two more officers were placed on the retirement list at police headquarters when Lieut. William J. Hennessey of the Mattapan station, a veteran of more than 36 years, and Patrolman Herbert R. Harrington of the La Grange street station left the department.

Filene's Automatic Bargain BASEMENT

Bracelets earrings pendants festoons chokers scarf holders
60 in. chains graduated necklaces brooches, rings

Compacts cuff links lariat chains cigarette cases bob hair combs hat ornaments cigarette holders
1 to 7 strand necklaces

From one of the largest importers and makers of novelty jewelry in this country. Hundreds and hundreds of individual pieces—some originally worth a great deal more money—READY FRIDAY AT 9 O'Clock!

thousands of pieces of new imported or domestic costume jewelry

19c—39c—69c

hundreds of samples and surplus stock—hundreds and hundreds of individual pieces—reproductions of high priced antique jewelry—Chanel's new cut simulated crystal jewelry—new modernistic "gold"—"silver"—pearl (mfg.), and other imitation jewelry—and whether you are a connoisseur or just a lover of unusual jewelry—come in—you'll probably find just that "rare" piece you were searching for.

EXAMPLES OF THE SAVINGS

antique set stone rings 39c
27" graduated pearl necklace 19c rhinestone studded bracelets at 39c
Chanel's long chain cut simulated crystal 69c
sterling silver button pearl earrings 39c
27" sterling silver chain pearl drop 39c antique "silver" (mfg.) necklace with stone drop 69c

OUR PLAN
(Originated by Filene's)
If we fail to make the EXACT price we extoll the garments you know they are worth
Items sent C. O. D. selling days, 5c after 10 selling days, 10c after 20 selling days, goods cannot after 30 selling days. Every item absolutely guaranteed to please you

Our $250,000 ventilating system makes your shopping cool and refreshing

Filene's

Built on value; growing on value

See how inexpensively you can look cool and smart with misses' sleeveless dresses of washable crepe de Chine, $8.75

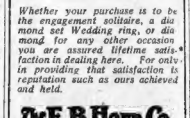
Practically everywhere you look, you see smart people in sleeveless dresses this summer. Not only for sports, but for street, business, even informal dancing. These dresses, though only $8.75, have enough detail in their design so that they can be worn for all of these occasions. Notice, for instance, the intersating pleating of the style at the right, the yoke effect of the style at the left. And there are other styles to choose from at $8.75. All of a good quality crepe de Chine that you can tub as frequently as you like. Orchid, yellow, green, pink, or white. Sizes 14 to 20.

Misses' inexpensive dress shop—fourth floor
Mail or phone orders filled while quantity lasts.

Diamond Engagement Rings



From $100 up to $500 in Exquisite White Gold or Platinum Mountings

Whether your purchase is to be the engagement solitaire, a diamond set Wedding ring, or diamond for any other occasion you are assured lifetime satisfaction in dealing here. For only in providing that satisfaction is reputation such as ours achieved and held.

The E. B. Horn Co.
Jewelers for 89 years
429 WASHINGTON ST.
Open Saturday Evenings

FISHER-FOLK ON FESTIVE DAY ADD TO GLOUCESTER CHARM

MISS BLACK FINDS TANG OF SEA IN CITY AND PEOPLE

By WINIFRED BLACK

Copyright, 1928, by Examiner Printing Co., and King Features Syndicate.

Gloucester, July 19—Whew, what a wind!

What a shouting, bellowing, calling, triumphant wind!

It sweeps through the narrow streets like a broom and sends the women and children scurrying before it like so many autumn leaves.

Capt. Ephraim Hopkins of the Gloucester fleet, doesn't mind it in the least.

Not he, his boat is safe ashore and his catch of shining fish is nearly all landed.

The sailors are already winding their nets on the great drying spools on the dock that has seen so many good smacks and schooners and their owners and their masters come and go.

How they rock at anchor, the stout boats that go so far to get the silvery codfish and the shining mackerel.

"Yes," said the captain, standing sturdily upon his wheel in his great sea boots, "the trade's coming back; it failed for a while there during the war, but now it's rising.

"We have 250 boats in the Gloucester fleet, most all of them called by their owners.

"Yankees, pshaw, don't you know that the Yankee sailor is a thing of the past?

"There are just about five Yankee captains in the Gloucester fleet today.

"Who sails the boats out of Gloucester harbor today? I'll tell you who sails them—the Portagee and the Eyetaliana, they're the ones that sail them.

"And they're good sailors, too, I'll tell you an all ought to know; I've been sailin' boats for 40 years and over.

"We used to send up to the Banks and the captain had his nephews or his sons or his brother-in-laws for a mate and the sailors were all his neighbors' sons and it was all like one big family, the Banks' fleet, but now—

"Pshaw, you look for a Yankee on one of the boats an' it would be like looking fr a needle in a haystack.

"The catch is a little different, too. We go out after the pollack now, when we didn't use pay much tention—these foreigners, they use them for—what is it they call 'em? 'Grefsellte fish, ain't it?' Anyhow, they like it awful well, same as we Yankees like cod, and if ain't so bad either, come a rainy night and a strong wind and a good cup of coffee to go with it.

"A Sailor Is a Sailor," Says Jolly 'Old Salt'

"Course I like the cod best myself, born and bred to it as I was, but there's lots we can learn from these foreigners.

"You take the 'way they take care of money. Now, we Yankees have the name of being terrible with money, but say when we get it we're always speculatin' with it. Take that Florida boom, there was lots of Gloucester bought in that.

"Of course, we all kept an anchor to the windward and we won't starve, but say, these Portagees and Eyetalians, they make money and they keep it—they're good, honest folks, too, and as long as you don't make them mad they're all right for neighbors; handy of handy with the knife once in a while, but what I always say is—a sailor's a sailor no matter where you find him.

"Our own boys, oh, they don't want to fish and they don't want to sail neither. They put on a pair of striped shoes and light a cigarette and hide out to the pictures and soon as they're old enough to shave there off to the big towns. They want the bright lights and plenty of 'em; and if it warn't for the Portagees and the Eyetalians they wouldn't be many folk gettin' codfish cakes for breakfast, either Friday or any other day of the week."

And Capt. Ephraim Hopkins, American sailor and citizen of Gloucester, Mass., with all his full rights and privileges of such, carried lightly upon his broad shoulders, smiled the quinzes Yankee smile and busied himself with the packing of his catch.

Silver, they were, bright and gleaming silver, the fish that came pouring out of their greedy nets. One or two sharks among them. What a sort of people fishes it was to see the sharks caught by their own greed.

Fisher Folk Are Civil to Passing Strangers

The dark packing-room was wet with seawater and a smell of seaweed and of salt and of fresh fish, freshly caught, was in there.

The fishing boats rocked like cradles in the wind and up and down the old wharf the men laughed and called to each other in some foreign tongue.

Dark men they were—tall and muscular and with clean out-of-doors good looks, not at all displeasing to the eye.

Courteous, too, with a gleaming of white teeth and a flashing of dark eyes, they stepped aside to let the strangers pass and were eager to answer any questions, no matter how stupid, and smiled apologetically to veil their real amusement at such landlubberly ignorance.

Up the narrow street that led from the wharf there was a great confusion—boys were running back and forth calling to each other; children darted in and out of a milling crowd; it was the feast of St. Peter, in Gloucester, Mass., and the Gloucester fishermen and their wives and children were celebrating the day.

In a dark room that must once have been a thrifty Yankee's store house, stood a tall statue of St. Peter, the patron saint of those who go down to the sea in ships.

At the feet of the statue were New England posies, great clumps of marigolds picked from the dark woods, roses that bloomed on bushes perhaps planted a generation ago by some good wife who would have thought it dreadful wickedness to honor any patron saint in any way whatsoever.

Old-fashioned phlox and garden pinks; they sent their sweet and searching perfume out from the dark room upon the crowded street as some sweet memory haunts sometimes a place of dull and somber aspect.

Eager to "Bob Dollars" From Hot Frying-Pan

A man held a frying-pan in his hand and in the frying-pan were silver dollars, wet and hot with grease; any boy who could pick up a dollar with his teeth could have it and hundreds of boys were clamoring for the chance.

A little orchestra made up of fisherman with an ear for music sat on a kind of platform and played Funiculi Funiculi—no, they didn't play the accordion, the time-honored instrument of Italy—they played with great gusto the saxophone and the trombone.

Pietro stepped out of the crowd to tell us what it was all about. Pietro was about nineteen—and dear me, what a handsome creature he was. Tall and muscular and broad shoulders, what teeth, what eyes, what clustering curls, and what a bow!

If you want a new Valentino, Mr. Director, you'd find him on the narrow street that leads from the docks in Gloucester. Ask for Pietro—he'll be waiting for you.

"No," said Pietro, "we have here no fine restaurants for the fish like you see in the pictures; we are poor fishermen.

"Nev min," says Pietro, with a flash of his white teeth.

"Some day I'll get money, too—one hundred, two hundred, three hundred dollars—and then I go to Hollywood, make the picture, be the big sheik, live in the bright lights—me, Pietro, the fisherman of Gloucester."

'Valentino!' Chorused by Happy Bystanders

"Valentino, Valentino," chorused the crowd of bystanders, edging closer and closer to the heart of the conversation. Black eyes shining, white teeth glittering.

"Well," said Pietro, "why not?" The laugh was gone from his eyes and he shut his hand into a dangerous looking fist.

"Why not, indeed, Pietro," said the tallest of the onlooking crowd, "why not, indeed," and he laid an ingratiating hand upon Pietro's shoulder.

Pietro laughed a great laugh that was like the roar of breakers on the sea.

"But now," said Pietro, "I catch always the fesh."

And with a great gesture of much grace and abandon, Pietro threw an invisible net, drew it in heavy with silver fish, emptied the fish at our feet, bowed, picked up the prettiest and most silvery of them all and handed it to us with a gesture that would grace any pantomime in any theater in the world.

Nothing Yankee about Pietro or any of his friends.

I wonder how long it will take him to forget how to laugh and how to sing and how to make for the Fiesta a little gay music?

Winifred Black's most interesting series of articles on all sections of the United States entitled "My Country 'Tis of Thee" appears only in the Hearst newspapers. Watch the Boston Evening American for further articles.

"I'll Keep Cool"

Little Dorothy Cameron and 250 more members of the Home Library Clubs of the Children's Aid Society gladdened the sad sea waves today as the children left for a Randidge excursion to Rainsford Island.

DRY CONFEREES MOBILIZED TO FIGHT SMITH

Asheville, N. C., July 19 (AP)—With more than 250 delegates in attendance the conference of Southern dry democrats to plan a campaign against Governor Smith turned its attention today to the report of its resolutions committee.

This group charged with outlining a campaign program is under the chairmanship of Dr. Arthur J. Barton of Atlanta, who, with Bishop James Cannon of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, issued a call for the conference shortly after Governor Smith's nomination at Houston.

The committee consists of two representatives from each of the Southern states. A sub-committee was named to draft the resolutions.

Mrs. Jesse W. Nicholson, president of the National Women's Democratic Law Enforcement League, was the principal speaker at a general session of the conference to which the public was admitted.

She asserted that 75,000 women, members of her organization, were opposed to Governor Smith. She denounced the nomines for his Tammany connections and his stand on prohibition.

"I have heard women in every state in the union say," Mrs. Nicholson declared, "that if Herbert Hoover was good enough for Woodrow Wilson, he was good enough for them, and they would refuse to vote for Al Smith."

Mrs. Nicholson presented a statement from Mrs. Ella Boyce, whose husband recently retired as chairman of the Democratic National Committee, saying that, "Regardless of what the Democratic leaders propose, dry Democratic women do not intend to support the wet ticket and joke platform named at the convention by the Tammany delegates."

W. C. T. U. Drive Based on Smith's "Saloon Record"

Chicago, July 19 (AP)—The national office of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union has announced the start of a national campaign to prevent Governor Smith's election.

The campaign was instituted, an official statement said, because "to the South and West particularly W. C. T. U. women and other dry are being told that Governor Smith is no more of a wet than Herbert Hoover."

"The saloon record of Governor Alfred E. Smith," said the first of the campaign bulletins, "is a fitting prelude to his promise that if he reaches the White House he will lead the way to legalisc liquor.

"The W. C. T. U. takes issue with Governor Smith in his statement that liquor can be sold legally with out the return of the old saloon. in Canada, where the liquor men promised the sale of beers without the saloon, liquor laws are growing more liberal, and the saloon is coming back in various forms in clubs or restaurants, or wine rooms. All the old saloon evils are reappearing in Canada."

Man Hit By Auto

John P. Monahan, 63, of Huntington ave., Hyde Park, was injured today when struck by an auto in Hyde Park ave. The machine was driven by John D——hue, 16, of Champlain ave., West Roxbury.

15 N. Y. FIREMEN INJURED IN CHEMICAL FACTORY

New York, July 19 (INS)—Fumes overcame firemen when ap lant in which chemicals are made caught fire in Brooklyn today. Eight of the firemen were removed to a hospital. The gases were produced when fire and water reached a storeroom in a building occupied by the Four Seasons Fertilizer Company, after starting in a one-story frame building next door.

Wesleyans Favor Merge

Liverpool Eng., July 19 (AP)—The Wesleyan conference here has adopted a resolution 402 to 77, favoring an enabling bill to bring about the union of three Methodist churches—the Wesleyan Methodists, the Primitive Methodists and the United Methodists.

at Gilchrist's

Washington at Winter — The Friendly Store — Liberty 9700

Clearance Sale in Five Dress Sections

All the latest styles are included for dress, sports, travel or business wear.

1/4 1/3 1/2 OFF

Misses', Women's, Little Women's and Extra Sizes

Originally $13.75 to $16.50

$8.75

Georgettes, wash crepes, flat crepes and printed georgettes and polka dot crepes—dozens of styles and every wanted color. Many of these styles arrived within a month.

Junior Misses', Women's, Misses', Little Women's and Extra Sizes

Originally $16.50 and $19.75

$11.75

Flowered chiffon, satins, acqua crepe, plain georgette, wash crepes and many georgettes. A group of smart styles for dress, business and travel. Also kashmir and print ensembles.

Misses', Women's and Extra Size Women's

Originally $19.75 to $39.50

$15.75

Organdies, taffetas, lace and printed chiffons, georgette crepes, navy blue georgette and crepes, also ensembles.

Clearance Inexpensive and Junior Misses' Dresses

Misses' Sizes 14 to 20. Women's 36 to 46. Juniors'—13—15—17.

Over 225 dresses in this clearance. Good values are always found at low prices in this section—therefore at these prices the savings are phenomenal.

Printed crepes, wash crepes and printed georgettes. Also plain georgette and crepes. Many in navy blue which is so smart this season.

Originally $10.75 $6

A group of Women's and Misses' originally $10.75—$13.75, now $7.95

Unusual Coat Values

Fur or Furless

$15

Every style that is smart for immediate wear and early Fall. Scarfs, capes, stitched collars, fur collars, self or fur cuffs. Best fabrics—Kashmir-twill, satin, moire and broadcloth. Mole, blonde vicuna, sunrae mole, full squirrel, fox, wolf or squirrelette fur trimming.

Clearance of Jewelry

50c $1.79 $2.79

Chokers, bracelets, pendants, hat ornaments, rhinestone pins, earrings. Hundreds of styles in imitation pearl and colored stones.

Pearl (mfg.) and crystal pendants, genuine rose quartz, gold baby lockets, sterling silver bar pins, cameo pins, silver collars, bracelets.

Chokers, pendants, cherry red, green and black; white gold filigree pins, Chanel-modernistic bracelets, pins, necklaces, etc.

$2 to $10 Men's Tie Clasps, Cuff Links, Stud Sets, Stick Pins, Silver Knives.

$1 to $20 Cigarette Cases, Mesh Bags, and Vanity Cases.

1/2 off

$7.50 to $25 Genuine Cameo Pins.

$5 to $8.50 White Gold Filigree Pins—Several Styles.

1/2 off

Championette Skirts

(Copyright)

Washable Flat Crepe

$4

Exclusive With Gilchrist's

1. 16 deep, hip-stitched pleats that stay in. Neatly finished bodice of silk.
2. Wide Hems. Two full widths of material.
3. Twelve fashion colors.

Wear them with sweaters or with blouses. Buy them in several colors. Just think—they form the better half of a complete costume and are only $4!

Children's Health Shoes

Styles for Boys and Girls

$2

With about 8 more weeks of playtime thrifty parents will be quick to take advantage of this sale! Soles made by a special process to give longer and more satisfactory wear. Built for good hard service yet smart in appearance. Patent leather and tan oxfords. Sizes 5 to 2. All shoes leather lined.

Order by Mail or Phone—State Size and Leather

Only 200 Cotton Printed Coolie Coats $2

A gorgeous array of coolie coats in brilliant red and smart black with colorful, striking floral designs. Wear them as negligees or as beach coats.

Of cool, light weight cotton with wide band trimming of box loom crepe of contrasting color on front, bottom and cuffs. Small, large and medium size.

SMITH TO PRESS HIS VIEWS ON PROHIBITION

Albany, N. Y., July 19 (INS)—In his speech formally accepting the Democratic presidential nomination, Gov. Al Smith will stress his stand on prohibition, emphasizing that he never has urged repeal of the eighteenth amendment but that he feels a proper modification of the Volstead law would do away with bootlegging and its attendant evils, according to his close friends.

The governor is said to feel that despite all he has said in the past, his views on prohibition are largely misunderstood by voters of the country because of statements issued from time to time by his political enemies and various reform organizations.

There is one thing more than any other that arouses Governor Smith, and that is to be represented as a friend of the saloon. Times without number, his advisers point out, the governor has declared in public speeches and statements that he is absolutely opposed to the return of the old-time saloon.

Farm relief also will be dealt with extensively by Smith in his notification speech, it was predicted. He already has sent word to the farmers of the Middle West, telling them he stands squarely on the plank in the Democratic platform which calls for farm relief, and promising them that if elected he will take speedy action to whip a concrete plan into shape for submission to Congress.

United States Senators Millard E. Tydings of Maryland and Harry B. Hawes of Missouri were the Governor's guests at the executive mansion today.

Washington, July 19 (INS)—A Republican campaign budget of $5,500,000 to $3,000,000 was forecast today as National Chairman Hubert Work prepared to receive J. R. Nutt, of Cleveland, treasurer, to fix the campaign's fiscal policy.

Chairman Work has indicated that no effort will be made to limit contributions but that a wide appeal will be made for small contributions so that requests for large sums from party multimillionaires may be avoided.

A car needs a home. Have you a garage for rent? Tell about it and give location in the Want Ads. That's the way to fill it.

HOOVER "ALIVE TO NEED FOR FARM RELIEF"

Aboard Hoover Train, Cheyenne, Wyo., July 19 (AP)—Friends who have conferred with Herbert Hoover during his westward journey to California have gained the impression that the Republican presidential nominee does not intend to advance any specific plan on farm relief in his acceptance speech at Palo Alto next month.

These same friends declare, however, that Hoover is thoroughly alive to the fact that the condition of agriculture presents a problem which calls for solution, and that he will pledge himself to make a thoroughgoing survey of the whole situation, and to dedicate his best efforts to the formulation of a practical plan of aid.

GETS CONFLICTING VIEWS.

Mr. Hoover has received somewhat conflicting views from leaders in the farm movement as to just what the situation in the Corn Belt really is as it bears upon his own political fortunes and those of his party.

Nowhere was this more pronounced than in Nebraska, where Gov. Adam McMullen insisted that only the equalization fee, or its equivalent, would satisfy the farmers and keep them in the Republican ranks in November. Charles A. McCloud, Republican national committeeman for that state, and other political leaders, declared the equalization fee principle was out and there was no doubt about Nebraska giving a substantial majority for the Hoover-Curtis ticket.

CONTINUES CONFERENCES.

Mr. Hoover today continued his conferences with political leaders, meeting a delegation from Utah and having as his guest Gov. Fred B. Balzar, of Nevada, who rode across the state with him.

Because of the death of Mrs. Hoover's father, C. D. Henry, all plans for homecoming celebrations at San Francisco and Palo Alto Friday have been abandoned. The special train will go directly southward to Leland Stanford University, where Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will attend the funeral of Mr. Henry in the university chapel.

FLYING SOLON SEES FORTS

—Boston Sunday American Staff Photo

CONGRESSWOMAN IN TATE HOP

Mrs. Edith N. Rogers of Lowell, the flying congresswoman," photographed at the airs with Lieut. Donald G. Duke just before they took off Newport to inspect Ft. Adams. They will inspect McKinley, Portsmouth, N. H., and Ft. Ethen Allen, Vt.

Lady Astor for Curb on Maternal Mortality

Plymouth, Eng., July 19 (AP)— Lady Astor, speaking on the question of maternal mortality at the Royal Sanitary Conference, said when she thought of what the women of the past had to endure she "rejoiced that men have begun to see reason and they will now have to reckon with us."

Lady Astor expressed the hope that the goverment committee on maternal mortality would deal fearlessly with the question of birth control and would give a considered judgment regarding far ignorance and quack medies were responsible for an necessarily high death rate. She d she did not believe the matrould be put aside by making is religious one and felt the ke must legislate impartially.

Constable Is Fined

Westboro, July 19—Charles M. Mason, a constable of the town of Upton, paid $15 fine in court here today when he was found present at a cock fight in the town.

AUTO ON PARK BENCH, 2 ARE ARRESTED

Following a wild auto chase through South Boston streets early today, two young men giving as their names, Clifford Rideout, 17, Forest Hills st., Jamaica Plain, and Walter Holzman, 16, of Parkman st., Dorchester, were arrested, charged with the larceny of an auto in Rhode Island.

A police car containing Sergeant William J. Harrow and Officers Geoghean, McDonald and McCarthy of the "flying squadron," pursued the stolen machine after spotting it on Broadway.

A command to halt brought greater speed from the fleeing machine, and the race led through L st., to the Strandway, where, according to the police, the driver of the stolen car twice attempted to ditch the police car.

At the entrance to Marine Park, the speeding car swerved suddenly, mounted a heavy park bench and hung suspended there, while the three occupants struggled to free themselves from the wreckage.

One of the youths, said to have been the driver of the machine made his escape, and is being sought at his home in Roxbury.

According to the police, the two youths under arrest admitted stealing the car in Providence.

POLICE CAN'T FIND PLANE GIRLS SAW FALL ON HILLS

Northampton, July 19 (AP)—Search was abandoned by State police today after hours of fruitless effort to find an airplane reported to have been seen to fall near Orient Springs in Pelham.

Mis Dorothy Kennedy, daughter of the Amherst College coach, with girl companions reported they saw a plane plunge behind the hills.

BROOKLINE FLIER SHAKEN AS PLANE IS WRECKED

Portland, Me., July 19—Lieut. George Lusk of Winthrop rd., Brookline, Mass., army flier, was shaken up and his plane was badly damaged today when he crashed during anti-aircraft practice. He was towing a flying target when the accident happened.

"LOVE LETTER" PIRATES GET BUSY AGAIN

"Love letter pirates" are blamed by the police for the theft of letters from the mail boxes in Bexley Hall, fashionable apartment house at 42 to 52 Massachusetts ave., Cambridge. A girl and two young men are said to be involved in the thefts.

For the past week or more the mail boxes in the building have been tampered with and in some cases they were found broken and the letters removed. It was at first believed the object of the suspects was to secure checks, but an investigation revealed most of the missing letters were ones containing love messages, the police say.

According to the police, there was an epidemic of letter thefts from the same building some time ago. At that time two men were caught in the act of tampering with the mail boxes and removing the letters. They were later arrested and prosecuted in court. Their object at that time, the police say, was to secure bank checks mailed to occupants of the house.

Their method of procedure in many instances was to put a piece of gum on the end of a hook, lower it into the mail box, slowly draw the letter to the opening and then ram the letter with a hat pin and pull it out.

W. L. SHARP OF CHICAGO HEADS KNIGHTS TEMPLARS

Detroit, July 19 (INS)—William L. Sharp of Chicago, automatically became most eminent grand commander of American Knights Templars today with the retirement of George W. Valley of Denver. Other officers move up one step each. Mark Norris of Grand Rapids leads for election as right eminent grand junior warden. The triennial convocation ends today after choice of the 1931 meeting place. Minneapolis is leading with Boston and Miami also in the running.

VICTOR-RADIO MERGER STILL A POSSIBILITY

New York, July 19 (AP)—A merger of Victor Talking Machine Company and the Radio Corporation of America is a possibility and further negotiations to this end are expected, Edward E. Shumaker, president of Victor Talking Machine, said today.

ELLEN TERRY NEAR DEATH; KING SENDS MESSAGE

Small Hythe, Kent, Eng., July 19 (AP)—Dame Ellen Terry, noted colleague of Sir Henry Irving on the English stage, lapsed into spells of unconsciousness today. She has been ill since Tuesday.

The aged actress, loved by a fair part though classified West Ads.

night but was weaker today. She was able to recognize her son and daughter, Edith and Edward Gordon Craig, only in occasional moments. King George and Queen Mary sent messages of inquiry and scores of other telegrams have come in hourly.

Profit awaits both buyer and seller who

FIRST IN MODERN COMFORT

Housen's

66 TEMPLE PLACE, BOSTON

Open All Day Saturday

Manufacturers' Samples

DRESSES—COATS

Prices much below cost of materials.

SILK DRESSES For Street and Evening Wear. A most attractive assembly of styles and materials, broken sizes. Usual prices $16.75 to $25 $7.75

COATS of White, Pink, Maize and Peach. Flannel and other textiles beautifully tailored, some belted styles, repriced from $15 and $25 to $10

DRESSES—ARE YOU STOUT?

DRESSES for the stylish stouts, size 38 to 50, in georgettes, chiffons, stunning prints and flat crepes which are so much in demand and hard to get. Formerly $25 and $20.50, specially priced at $15

COATS Tailored on slenderized lines in kasha broadcloth, sport tweeds, plain kasha, etc., in tan, natural, middy blue and black. Formerly $25 to $45, specially priced at $15

Paris Style Creators Define a "Higher Waist Line"

THEY suggest a more accentuated figure. Consequently Fashion introduces

New

CUP-FORM by Model

IT is the original and outstanding uplift bandeau, with inner silken cups which mould the figure into feminine lines that are fashionable today. Expertly fitted at Housen's, which insures definite satisfaction.

Have You Been Slenderized at Housen's?

This department is devoted to Women and Misses who seek individuality and smartness in their attire. Separate departments for stout and small women.

Tuttle's

604 Washington St. Wash.-Essex Bldg.

Our 2 Stores Open SATURDAY ALL DAY 9 to 6

Tuttle's

53 Summer St.—Cor. of Chauncy

Smashing CLEARANCE of Summer Hats

Thousands of Summer Straws formerly $1.98 to $3.98

ONE ENTIRE FLOOR DEVOTED TO THIS SALE!

$1.00 FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

All of these Hats are smart and neat—many have only been in stock a few days, but every one goes into this sale at $1. Fancy straws, felts and leghorns in all the smart Summer colors, including WHITE, and in styles for Miss and Matron. Large and small headsizes.

Don't Miss This Sale!

Mail Orders 20c Extra

Friday & Saturday

Sensational Values!

Straws and Felts

Don't Miss Them!

$3.00

Every One at This Price

Formerly $5 to $12

Ballibuntle
Crochet Viscas
Fur Felts
Wool Felts
Hair Hats
Fancy Straws
Fancy Viscas

Mail Orders 20c Extra

Beautiful quality Felts and Imported Straws—Hundreds of styles at $3. Our most expensive and exclusive hats included in this event! Imports, one-of-a-kind models, all at this amazingly low clearance price. Large and small headsizes—Hats for Miss and Matron. All the best colors, including WHITE.

Final Clearance—Our Entire Stock of Children's HATS 50c

Kiddies — tailored, sport and dress hats — drastically reduced. $1.95 to $4.95 Values

VACATION SPECIAL

Beret TAMS 49c

The newest and smartest hat for Kiddies' summer wear. In white and the best colors. Mail Orders 6c Extra

TUTTLE'S—604 Washington Street (Washington-Essex Building) — AT OUR 2 STORES — TUTTLE'S—53 Summer Street (Corner of Chauncy)

MRS. LADD BUSY IN GLOUCESTER ART STUDIO, SAYS BETTY ALDEN

Sculptress Now Working on St. Elizabeth of the Roses; Has Recently Done a 'Lady Lindy' BURIED DEEP IN HER SYLVAN STUDIO RETREAT AT ARDEN, MRS. ANNA COLEMAN LADD is one of the North Shore's very busiest of artists. One day of high artistic creation follows another, almost without break, except that Mrs. Ladd generously allots Wednesdays to visitors, those many admirers who wear a footpath to her door whether she is at the Shore, here in town or over in New York. And Arden just now is a sylvan retreat of rare beauty. The visitor finds much over which to enthuse, even though the workroom itself is a forbidden place.

ARDEN'S DELLS AND WOODED HILLOCKS AND TINY GLENS AFFORD SETTING most perfect for sculptures. And this season the vista is particularly charming, since Mrs. Ladd had done many new and interesting things in the past few months, and the models have been perfectly arranged by a well known landscape artist. Golden bronze, antique bronze and marble, each has a leafy background to bring out contours in high relief. Some of Mrs. Ladd's very newest works are still in the soft clay stage, not yet transposed to enduring marble or bronze.

CHIEF ATTRACTIONS OF HER STUDIO WORKROOM NOW ARE A BEAUTIFUL Saint Elizabeth of the Roses, done in the Gothic manner for a large Gothic Church, and a spirited and marvelously lifelike "Lady Lindy." Miss Earhart saw herself as done into bronze by Mrs. Ladd, and was delighted at the characteristic replica, which now adorns a private and famous New York collection. It is like Mrs. Ladd to be up to the moment with her modeling, and the girl aviator is inspiring copy for every artist.

GLOUCESTER PEOPLE PLEASANTLY RECALL THE DELIGHTFUL MISS DOROTHY ROSS, amateur actress of more than ordinary charm, who is now a bride. Her marriage in Utica last April made her a matron with the cognomen Higgins. And as wedding aftermath there is a long, long honeymoon journey of about a year that takes her and her husband around the world, and eventually to India, where in that sometimes turbulent country Mr. Higgins has interests.

MRS. HIGGINS BELONGS TO THE JOHN ROSS FAMILY, AND SHARES THEIR ardent interest in and support of theatricals of the amateur variety. A company and an intimate theater were the outgrowth of this interest and support. So when, as Miss Ross, Mrs. Higgins was a summertime ornament about Gloucester naturally she gravitated to Stillington Hall and its stage. I believe last season she played second lead, and most satisfactorily, too, to the audience. This summer her pater, John Ross, continues the family's representation at Stillington, not before the footlights but behind the scenes, at the very necessary manipulation of lights and such.

EVERYONE DOWN ALONG THE SOUTH Shore is talking pop concert, as Saturday draws nigh bringing the evening devoted to that annual and jolly affair, which benefits the First Parish Church. Down that way they stage pop concerts to perfection. Long experience at such midsummer informalities gives this perfection, and means that details progress with velvet smoothness. Edward B. Hale Souther is in charge. And prominent Cohasseters never flag in their assistance, the whole creating a gay pattern for the event.

THE LOCAL ORCHESTRA, FOR WHICH DONALD GAMMONS swings an accustomed baton, is the pride of the town and the high light of the pop concert. Without Mr. Gammons and his brasses, saxophones, traps and strings the pop concert would be bereft indeed, for not only are they all local favorites, but they rank high as amateurs. Each year there are more and more members, a swelling of numbers quite gratifying, since the only payment comes from honor of membership.

OF COHASSETERS SEEING TO THIS AND that there is a brave enlistment, including Mrs. Russell Tower, Mrs. T. Frederick Stoddard, Mrs. Ralph Menard, Mrs. Elmer Olmstead, Mrs. Everett Gammons and Mrs. Charles Gammons. The patroness list is everything a patroness list should be. It has on its Mesdames Guy Bancroft, George S. C. Badger, Howard Kay Bartow, Stoughton Bell, Clarence V. Burrage, Alanson Bigelow, William Henry Brown and Arthur W. Moore among many others equally scintillant. And Miss Ada Dawson gets together an usher-waitress corps that promises much in adornment of the lively scene.

NEWPORT TO MISS FRANCESCA BRAGGIOTTI presents interestingly brilliant facets. Teaching Newport elite, children and grown-ups, to pirouette and pose is not so much a task as a pastime to so talented an instructress as she. A dip now and then into the social whirl savors the sauce piquantly.

—International Newsreel Photo.

MRS. JAMES CLEWS

New York and Newport society leader as she appears in an unusual gown at Bailey's Beach, adding to that kaleidoscope of fashion a most individual bit.

Miss Braggiotti's month or more in the social stronghold is as smartly sponsored as it is pleasantly diverting.

PILLARS OF THE SOCIAL STRUCTURE, SUCH as the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Roderick Terry, have done pleasant things for the Boston girl, whose Newport advent was sponsored by Mrs. Maude Howe Elliott. Miss Gloria Braggiotti soon joins her older sister at the Newport studio, and there for a month or more they will be ever so busily engaged with little ones and older ones of Newport's upper crust their pupils. Miss Francesca Braggiotti is usually in the Brookline home for week-ends.

Betty Alden

YOU CAN'T tell it either way

How do you like your evening coffee? Steaming black? Or do you prefer it in a tall, refreshing glass . . . iced! Either way, you can enjoy Kaffee Hag Coffee to your heart's content—and sleep! For though you can't tell it from tasting, 97% of the drug caffeine is gone.

Try this delicious blend of the finest coffees. Real coffee—how much better than substitutes! Let all the family enjoy wonderful iced coffee for supper—without hesitation—now! At dealers. Steel cut or in the bean. Full-pound cans.

Now a Kellogg product

KAFFEE HAG COFFEE

Not a substitute—but REAL COFFEE—minus caffeine

WORLD RACERS WILL LAND TOMORROW

By JOHN HENRY MEARS
Written exclusively for the Boston Evening American

Copyright, 1928, in the United States, Canada, Great Britain, South America and Cuba by the New York American, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part absolutely prohibited. Violation of this copyright will be vigorously prosecuted.

Distributed by Universal Service

Aboard the Steamship Empress of Russia, July 19—We will arrive in New York Sunday at noon

This is now our confident expectation as this sturdy steamship sails toward the last leg of our globe-girdling tour. It is now as reasonable certain as anything can be that we will disembark from the ship Friday evening, at Vancouver.

This will give us a daylight start for our hop to Seattle and thence to New York. My companion, Charles B. D. Collyer, and I, are optimistic that once we get into the air we will soar across the American continent well up to our schedule, if not ahead of it.

No time will be lost when the Empress of Russia lands at Vancouver. We are completely rested after our flight over Europe and Siberia. Indeed, we are growing restive. The ship is maintaining good speed, doing 460 knots again yesterday.

The Empress of Russia, when the above radio was filed by the two New Yorkers racing with the moon, was within 3000 miles of the American continent. They have approximately 4000 miles to go, most of it by plane, before they will have circumnavigated the globe. They left this city at 45 seconds past 5 a. m., on June 29. Thus they will have encircled the earth in 23 days, smashing all records, even the moon's.

John Henry Mears and Charles B. D. Collyer are now steaming eastward across the Pacific on their attempt to establish a new world record by girding the globe in less than 28 days. They will continue to send the story of their attempt exclusively to this newspaper.

Leviathan Due Saturday

The giant steame. Leviathan is due in Boston Saturday morning and will go into drydock at South Boston in the afternoon. She is coming for her annual overhauling and will remain for five or six days. The workmen of the navy yard will do the job.

ROOT BEER WAR 'ABSURD', SAYS DRY SOCIETY

The war on yeast in root ebar, started at Manchester, N. H., by members of the W. C. T. U., was described as "absurd" today by members of the Sons of Temperance, parent organization, in annual convention at Hotel Somerset.

The root beer was served at a party in the East Manchester Tennis Club and proved a "shock" to Miss Edith P. Flanders, former Hillsborough County president of the W. C. T. U.

"It is an absurd point of view and places a complex in the minds of boys and girls as to alcoholic content in beverages," Mrs. Ruth Blessing of Camden, N. J., said today. Mrs. Blessing is a past officer of the Sons of Temperance.

"While we object to yeast because of its fermentation, it is carrying the thing too far to object to root beer.

"It is very distressing that people go to such extremes."

Mrs. Blessing explained that the W. C. T. U. grew out of the Sons of Temperance because ideas failed to jibe at times in the organization.

Among others at the convention, Miss Ruth Copenhagen of Camden, N. J., also decried the controversy.

"If we object to root beer we must object to bread," she said. "Our principles are not against yeast."

CARRANZA TRAIN SPEEDS SOUTH

Aboard Carranza Funeral Train at Altoona, Pa., July 19 (AP)—Across the country to which he had come as a messenger of good will, the stolen body of Capt. Emilio Carranza today was being swiftly borne back to his native land.

In the rear car of the special funeral train the shades are drawn. The heavy scent of flowers fills the air. Two soldiers stand at attention at the head and foot of a bronze casket draped with the flags of the United States and Mexico and containing the body of Mexico's fallen idol.

In the baggage car ahead is the "cracked up" airplane in which a month ago the flier winged away from Mexico City returning the good will flight of Col. Lindbergh. The fuselage is twisted, the motor a shapeless, molten thing. One wheel lies nearby.

TWO RECEIVE $100 EACH FOR 'HIT-RUN' CONVICTIONS

Two more citizens of Massachusetts received from Governor Fuller rewards of $100 each for supplying evidence which resulted in the apprehension of hit-and-run motorists.

Noyes Gerber of Roxbury, taxi driver, pursued an autoist whose machine had collided with a taxicab at Tremont and Dover sts., injuring the driver and passenger.

Elmer Rose captured a motorist in Springfield after the hit-and-run man had left the scene of an accident in which his machine had injured two persons

Maurice Hats

STYLE WITHOUT EXTRAVAGANCE

Next to A. Stowell's 16-18 Winter St. Don't Forget the Number

Sale! White Felts

$1.98 Incomparable Values

Style! Quality! Selection!

Everything that is new and smart

Scores of other attractive models

Open All Day Saturday

OPEN ALL DAY SATURDAY TILL 9 P. M.

HAINES'

Friendship Week

Extra Special Offerings To Maintain the Patronage of Our Old Friends and To Gain Many New Ones

We owe our success to our friends and we are continually doing all in our power to maintain their patronage! This week, devoted to old and new friends, every department in this great store is outdoing itself in its tremendous bargain offerings! Come in this week, get acquainted with our courteous method of doing business—our liberal credit plan—our fine class of merchandise—and we know your friendship will be secured!

$5 DELIVERS ANY SUITE.

12 Pc. LIVING ROOM OUTFIT

5-Pc. Suite
Smoking Stand
3 Book Table
Occasional Table
Floor Lamp
Bridge Lamp
Magazine Rack
3 Pictures

FRIENDSHIP SPECIAL!
Suite of Persian Mohair With Harmonizing Velours!
Here you have an exquisite suite together with 9 extra pieces—reversible cushions! Stitched borders! Guaranteed construction throughout! "Friendship" Special Price!

$97.50 EASY TERMS

10 Pc. BEDROOM

A Complete Outfit!
Bow-End Bed, Spring, Fine Dresser, Mattress, Vanity, 2 Pillows, Wardrobe, 2 Pictures
$97.50 Easy Terms!
Suite of fine Walnut Veneers and American Gumwood!

12 Pc. DINING ROOM

Extraordinary Value!
Extension Table, 5 Guest Chairs, Large Buffet, Host Chair, China Cabinet, Buffet Mirror, 2 Pictures
$97.50 Easy Terms!
Attractive Walnut Veneer and Gumwood Suite!

FRIENDSHIP SPECIALS!

Couch Hammock 6.95 Easy Terms — Canopy and stand extra, if desired.

Simmons Mattress 3 Pieces 17.95 Easy Terms — In this 5-piece Bed Outfit!

3-Door Refrigerator 12.45 Easy Terms — Fully insulated.

"Guilford" Range $49 Easy Terms — Gas oven extra if desired!

Walnut Finish On Gumwood! 9.75 Easy Terms — Attractive Dresser!

5-Pc. Decorated Breakfast Set 15.75 Easy Terms — Drop-Leaf Table and 4 Chairs

Fibre Chairs and Rockers 6.95 Easy Terms — Cretonne Loose cushions!

Double Day Bed 12.75 Easy Terms — Mattress included. Covered all over in handsome cretonne!

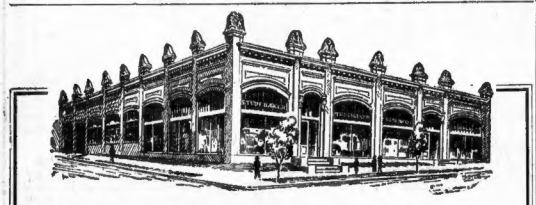
ORDER BY MAIL
Free delivery anywhere in N. E. by our own trucks, or at our option by freight, to nearest R. R. Station.

WHERE GOOD FURNITURE COSTS LESS
Haines
HONESTY COURTESY SERVICE
728 WASHINGTON ST.

FOR EVENING APPOINTMENTS CALL HANCOCK 4310
Old Customers Pay No Money Down — FREE RAILROAD AND TAXI FARES TO OUT-OF-TOWN CUSTOMERS. Purchases Held Until Wanted Free of Charge

3 Outfit Leaders!

THE "Elite" 4 ROOMS	THE "Economy" 4 ROOMS	THE "Maria" 4 ROOMS
$445 Easy Terms	$195 Easy Terms	$275 Easy Terms



WE HAVE MOVED TO 900 Commonwealth Avenue

at St. Paul St., Opposite the Armory

YOU are cordially invited to visit us at our new and commodious display rooms, where you may see, under ideal conditions, the new Studebaker and Erskine cars, whose new designs, new colors and new prices are the sensation of the present season.

The greatest value in years—The President Straight Eight, 109 horsepower, 80 miles per hour—$1685 f. o. b. factory

STUDEBAKER

The Great Independent

MISS EARHART IN PARADE

Chicago, July 19 (AP)—Chicago was bedecked with "welcome home" flags today in honor of Amelia Earhart, unknown when she graduated from high school here some years ago, but who since has won fame as the first woman to fly the Atlantic.

The famous aviatrix with her flying companions, Wilmer Stultz, pilot of the transatlantic monoplane Friendship, and Louis Gordon, radio operator, are to spend four busy days as guests of Chicago.

Today's program included a parade from the railroad station to the City Hall, luncheon at a south side hotel, and a banquet tonight.

A special escort of combat medal men, decorated for bravery, were named to lead the parade to the City Hall, where the fliers are to receive the city's official welcome from Mayor Thompson.

After tonight's banquet, Gordon and his fiancee, Miss Ann Bruce, are to be married in a public ceremony.

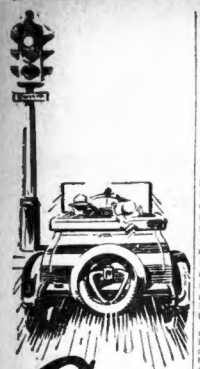
SENATOR WATSON SUFFERS FROM INFECTION IN EYE

Indianapolis, Ind., July 19—Senator James E. Watson of Indiana is suffering from an infected eye but he does not plan to let it interfere with his attendance at the midsummer outing of the Indiana Republican Editorial Association at West Baden beginning today.

Senator Watson was struck in the eye by a cinder during a train journey from New York while en route to speak at a Republican rally at Salem, Ind. The accident made it necessary to cancel his trip to Salem.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE RECORDER BY TONDORF

Washington, July 19—A "very severe" earthquake, estimated to have occurred about 5,000 miles from Washington in a southerly direction, probably in South America, was reported on the Georgetown University seismograph.



Go~

and keep going with

JENNEY GASOLINE

The green light flashes —a gentle touch on the accelerator and away you go!

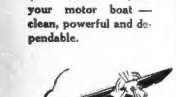
For a snappy get-away in traffic, extra pep on hill and open road, use Jenney Gasoline.

Stop at a Jenney Station for your motoring conveniences. You will always receive careful, courteous attention.

JENNEY ETHYL GASOLINE — ETHYL — TETRA ETHYL LEAD — BRAND OF ANTI-KNOCK COMPOUND — ETHYL GASOLINE CORPORATION

Jenney Ethyl (Jenney Gasoline blended with Ethyl Fluid) is particularly designed for high compressioned engines and cars that have an accumulation of carbon.

Use Jenney Gasoline— (and Oil as well) in your motor boat — clean, powerful and dependable.



And then there's Jenney Aero Gasoline, used by many aviators, including Miss Earhart, Colonel Lindbergh and Commander Byrd.

Since 1812 the name "Jenney" has been associated with dependable products.

JENNEY MFG. CO.—EST. 1812

RADIO DEALERS ATTEND TWO BANQUETS

By FRED TOYE
Radio Editor

Radio receiving sets have evolved into everyday devices which no longer require the services of an electrical engineer, a water bucket and a hydrometer to make them function.

This point was vigorously and amusingly brought home to 200 New England radio dealers at the first annual dinner and get-together of the Lewis Electric Supply Co. and associated retailers at the Statler Hotel, by Herbert H. Frost, vice-president of the Kolster Radio Co.

The night was a big one for the radio industry. While the Statler banquet was in progress, 200 other dealers, guests of the Post & Lester Co., were entertained at a banquet at the Kenmore Hotel and were given technical information regarding the new lines of Fada receivers and speakers by officials of F. A. Andrea.

NEW FADA APPARATUS

Great interest was manifested by dealers at the Kenmore dinner in the new line of Fada apparatus. The much discussed "227" circuit of the new Fada line of receivers was explained in detail by Frank X. Rettenmeyer, assistant chief engineer, who stated that the new circuit is undoubtedly the coming thing in A. C. set construction.

The new Fada line uses only 227 type tubes for detection and amplification, with the usual rectifier and power tubes. The various types of receivers, consoles and dynamic speakers being produced for fall distribution were on display.

Among those present at the Post and Lester banquet were C. M. Sherwood, Eastern sales manager of Fada; T. Norman Mason, N. E. sales manager; Ray Lynch, manager of the Providence branch of Post and Lester; Thomas J. McCue, sales manager of Post and Lester.

GUESTS AT STATLER

Guests at the Statler were entertained later in the evening with an elaborate vaudeville review. Other speakers included Jesse Hawley of Dartmouth fame, and head of the Newcombe-Hawley Co.; Oscar Getz of the Steinite Co.; Curt Wessell of Phonograph and Talking Machine Weekly.

The affair was in the hands of James J. Ago, sales manager of the Lewis Co. Others present included Edwin C. Lewis, president of the Lewis Electrical Supply Co.; David Kopps, factory representative of Steinite; William Hendrickson, N. E. sales manager of Kolster Radio; Carl Byre of K. Thompson of Newcombe-Hawley Co.; T. H. Emerson of the T. H. Emerson Co.

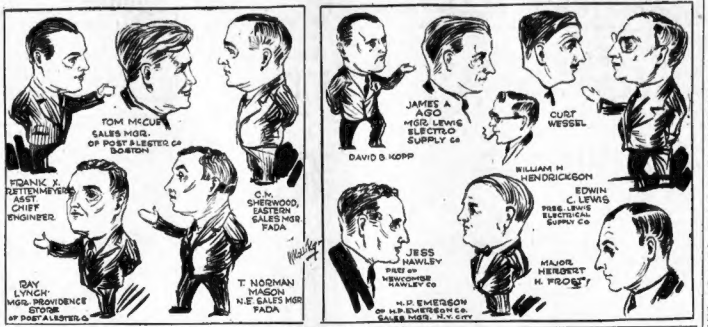
ONE DEAD, 2 DYING AFTER SYRACUSE PLANE CRASH

Syracuse, N. Y., July 19 (AP)—Two survivors of an airplane crash near here in which one passenger was killed instantly, were near death in Syracuse hospitals today. Stewart Slayton, 27, of Tully, is dead. Miss Genevieve Bullion, 20, of Mineola, and the pilot, Clarence O. Snyder of Boyson's Bay, were critically injured. Witnesses said the motor suddenly went dead and the plane went into a tailspin while flying low.

FLAT SPRINGS LEAD TO RUM SEIZURE IN AUTO

Attleboro, July 19—A small sedan with the rear springs almost flat on the axles, attracted the attention of Motorcycle Officer Joseph A. Fredette on South Main st.

Stations FEAST and FACT in Big Hook-Up



TOM McCUE SALES MGR. OF POST & LESTER CO. BOSTON
FRANK X. RETTENMEYER ASST CHIEF ENGINEER
C.M. SHERWOOD, EASTERN SALES MGR FADA
RAY LYNCH MGR. PROVIDENCE STORE OF POST & LESTER CO.
T. NORMAN MASON N.E. SALES MGR FADA
JAMES A AGO MGR. LEWIS ELECTRO SUPPLY CO
CURT WESSEL
DAVID B KOPP
WILLIAM H HENDRICKSON
EDWIN C. LEWIS PRES. LEWIS ELECTRICAL SUPPLY CO
JESS HAWLEY PRES OF NEWCOMBE HAWLEY CO
MAJOR HERBERT H. FROST
H.D. EMERSON OF H.D. EMERSON CO. SALES MGR. N.Y. CITY

NOW THE SCOTS WANT TO BAR THE IRISH

London, July 19 (AP)—The suggestion that a quota system should be established in Scotland for emigrants from Ireland, who would be allowed to enter Scotland only when sufficient work was available for them, is understood to have been made by a deputation received privately by Sir William Joynson-Hicks, home secretary, and Sir John Gilmour, secretary for Scotland, at the home office today.

The deputation, composed of representatives of the churches of Scotland, urged that the recent heavy influx of Irish immigrants into Scotland was calculated to change the whole character of the Scottish people.

GIRL AND MAN HURT IN CRASH

A man and a girl companion were seriously injured in a crash in Myrtle parkway, Winchester, today, when an auto driven by Lieut. J. T. Acree, U. S. N., ripped away 20 feet of fence on Aberjona bridge.

Rufus Clark of Cotton ave., Winchester, neighbor of Lieut. Acree, suffered compound fracture of the thigh, broken leg and ribs and other injuries. His name was placed on the danger list.

Anna Rowen, 28, of Kent st., Brookline, suffered lacerations of the arm and severe shock.

Lieut. Acree, after slight injuries were dressed, was placed under arrest and later held in bail of $2000 on charges of drunken driving.

All three were rushed to the hospital by Donald McDonald of Charlestown, who passed the scene soon after the accident.

Boy Swimmer Dies

Haverhill, July 19—Edward Roy, 21, of Federal st., who fractured his spine at a Broadway swimming hole two weeks ago, died today at Gale Hospital.

HUNT COAL MAN WHO HIT BOY WITH SHOVEL

Capt. William E. Tappan of the Revere police today instructed patrolmen to search for the coal truck driver who struck a five-year-old boy on the arm with a heavy shovel, injuring him so badly that he required treatment at the office of a physician.

The boy is the son of Morris Goldstein. The father told the police the lad was watching the man unload his truck and that when he failed to leave the vicinity when ordered to by the driver the alleged assault took place.

A car needs a home. Have you a garage for rent? Tell about it and give location in the Want Rent Ads. That's the way to fill it.

HARVARD EXPERT WILL LECTURE IN LOS ANGELES

Dr. Miller McClintock of Harvard traffic expert for Boston and other cities, is to head sessions on street traffic control at the Institute of Municipal Administration to be held August 13-18 at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles.

GLIDER ALL SET TO SOAR OVER CAPE COD

Truro, July 19—Following installation of a barograph and other instruments, the German monoplane glider here was ready today to attempt establishment of a new American endurance record.

The present record, made by Orville Wright in 1911, is only slightly more than 9 minutes, as compared to the world's gliding record of 14 hours 23 minutes.

This record was established in Darmstadt, Germany, by Peter Hesselback, ace of the German experts who have introduced the new sport to New Englanders.

A large crowd of summer residents of Provincetown and the Cape, mostly women, were on hand in automobiles to watch the initial ventures of the experts, who include Hesselback, Capt. Paul Roehre and Dr. Paul Laubenthal.

Despite the fact that a strong northerly wind was blowing, Capt. Roehre declared the flight would be made this afternoon. He said a westerly wind was preferable but unless conditions became much worse the monoplane glider would make its hop. About noon the sky began to blacken and there was every indication of a storm, but the weather cleared within the hour.

In addition to the monoplane glider there are two training planes here, and several students have already signified their intention of taking lessons in gliding, according to F. M. Blunk.

INQUEST VINDICATES LOWELL "STRANGLERS"

Lowell, July 19 (AP)—After an inquest on the death of Sylvio J. Desrochers, who was strangled July 4, Judge James E. O'Donnell of District court today found that no more than necessary force to protect themselves was used by Harry C. Kittredge and Dime J. Croteau in their fight with the man.

Desrochers had attacked Kittredge's wife and was said to have attempted to take from her the night's receipts of a dance hall that the Kittredges operate. Kittredge and Croteau went to the woman's aid and after a struggle Desrochers was found to be dead.

Nobody Loves a Skinny Woman

Gain pounds of weight in 3 weeks with new YEAST and IRON—or pay nothing

Folks are amazed at Ironized Yeast. They say 5 to 15 pounds are gained in 3 weeks! Skinny limbs easily covered with rounded, graceful flesh! Ugly hollows in shoulders filled up! Eyes sparkling with health. They ask—how does Ironized Yeast work so quickly?

Only when Yeast is ironized is it more effective—for Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building strengthening value of Yeast.

If you are underweight, nervous, or tired, you need Ironized Yeast. Start today. Absolutely harmless. Pleasant-tasting tablets in a handy bottle. They do not upset the stomach nor cause gas or bloating.

Go today to any drug store and get a full size treatment of Ironized Yeast. If not delighted with the quick results, get your money back. If inconvenient to buy from druggist, send $1.89 to Ironized Yeast Co., Atlanta, Ga., Desk 327-RK.

Motorists— please make this amazing 10 DAY FREE TEST

Here's a wonderful new way to make autos ride smoothly . . a way that ends bouncing and tossing . . . Minimizes squeaks and rattles . . . and prolongs the life of the whole car . . .

ACCEPT, please, this ten day free trial . . . and we'll promise to make your present car ride like new . . Ride like it cost a 1,000 dollars more than it did.

We'll show you an entirely new motoring sensation. Speed with comfort. Comfort over poor roads and bad. Comfort you never knew you could have before.

And all for only $15.00 (fifteen dollars.)

But Don't Pay A Penny For 10 Days

Remember, we don't ask you to believe. We just urge you to give the Indian shock absorbers a trial . . . on your car . . . for ten days . . . at our expense.

Put them to the test. Take them over all kinds of road . . . ruts, "washboard", cobbiestones and car tracks.

The results will amaze you.

No bouncing. No tossing. No racking and wrenching of car body. No strain or discomfort.

You just step on the gas and let her go. Smooth. Contented. Relaxed. Thrilled by the ease with which you speed over the bumps.

So, by all means, accept the free trial offer today. You can't lose. You're the judge . . . the only judge. And there is no obligation whatsoever.

If your car is not already equipped with shock absorbers, or if your present shock absorbers are unsatisfactory, straps broken, or other parts out of order, you simply cannot afford to let another day go by without trying Indians.

For in addition to the greater comfort they give, they cost only $15 a complete set of four . . . less than the price of repairs necessary on many of the older types.

Indians Save Your Car

Indians are based on a radically new and scientific principle. They work both ways . . . in exact proportion to the amount of each shock received. Both the bump and rebound are smoothed down to a minimum.

They also eliminate most of the spring vibration . . the thing that causes springs to weaken and break under the blow of some unexpected bump.

With Indians eliminating the bouncing, tossing, and spring vibration, the motor will last longer. The car body will have fewer squeaks and rattles.

And tires, too. By keeping the tires from skipping and bouncing, premature tread wear is largely eliminated.

Five Year Absolute Guarantee

We absolutely guarantee Indians for five years. There are no straps to break. No adjustments to make. No need for repairs. A set for every make of car.

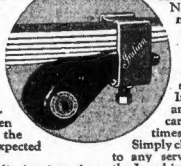
No holes to drill. 20 minutes to install a complete set of four.

Note Offer in Coupon

Just accept our free trial offer and you will see for yourself how Indians will reduce wear and tear on the whole car, and save you many times their low cost.

Simply clip coupon and drive up to any service station displaying the Laughing Indian Sign.

Indian Sales Corporation, Subsidiary of Indian Motocycle Co., Springfield, Mass., U. S. A.



Complete set of four Installed ONLY $15 Guaranteed 5 Years

Where the red, white and black Laughing Indian sign is displayed, you'll find a dealer ready to put this wonderful new riding comfort into your car —on a TEN DAY FREE TRIAL

Look for Red, White and Black Laughing Indian Sign at your Local Filling Station or Garage.

FREE TRIAL COUPON

Name.....

Address.....

This coupon entitles the bearer to our 10 day free trial. No deposit required. No obligation to buy. Either return shock absorbers to dealer any time within ten days or keep the set and pay dealer only $15.00 for a complete set of four. No charge for either installing or removing shock absorbers.
BA 7-12-28

BOSTON WHOLESALE MILLINERY CO.

3rd floor Elevator Service

59 Temple Place, Blake Building

OPEN ALL DAY SATURDAY

Special for Friday and Saturday

1000 WHITE FELTS

$1.49

Vagabonds Small Brims
Medium Brims
Off-Face Styles

OPEN ALL DAY SATURDAY

GOOD GIRL

By ROY L. FOLEY

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN
A HOME PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE WHO THINK
SECOND SECTION
BOSTON, THURSDAY, JULY 19, 1928

Can a Girl Have Too Much Feminine Appeal?

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Nancy Deane, golden haired, dark eyed, has been brought up by the O'Days in Worcester. She is really the daughter of Montague Deane and Julie Abbott, the former the disinherited son of one of a rich Boston family, but she is unaware of this relationship. She loves the O'Days and works in a lunchroom to help them. There she meets John Blair, who helps her out of a difficulty and invites her to go to the circus. Although she is wary of men generally she recognizes that Blair is a gentleman and accepts.

Nancy loses her job. Mrs. O'Day tells her she's heard from her mother who's in town with the circus and wants to see the baby she deserted 18 years before. Nancy hears the true story of her parentage. She goes to the circus realizing her mother is a performer in the big show.

Julie falls from a trapeze and Nancy fights her way to her side calling wildly that she's her mother. She faints and later runs madly to the hospital. Julie is dying, but Nancy vows eternal love for Muddy O'Day and realizes, too, where she has inherited her admiration for dancing and glittering things.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 4

NANCY had plenty to think about that night but she vowed that no matter what happened she would love Mud and Darry always, never hurt them or bring disgrace upon them.

It was not until the next morning at breakfast that she remembered she had no job. She explained to the astonished foster parents what had happened at the lunchroom, but Mrs. O'Day did not seem unduly disturbed. She reminded Nancy gently that they'd better be getting to the hospital. They both had a feeling that Julie Abbott might not be alive; as they entered the darkened room the pitiful figure lay with her eyes open on the white cot. A nurse tiptoed in, raised the shade a bit and started to take the patient's pulse.

Not until then did Nancy and Mrs. O'Day notice there was another person in the room. Kneeling against the dresser, her head on her arms, was a woman of the circus. Her face was hidden as she was crying. Beside her on the dresser was an open box containing papers, and a few letters.

No one said a word. The nurse tapped her watch, and made a gesture, conveying more eloquently than words the warning that death was in the room.

When she had gone, Julie opened her eyes and tried to speak. She attempted to raise her hand to Nancy, but it dropped back, and only the fingers moved, as though she wanted Nancy to come close.

"Are you—my—little—girl?"

She forced the words out, then closed her eyes again as though the effort had exhausted her.

Nancy dropped her head to the pillow beside Julie. Mrs. O'Day looked into the two faces, mother and daughter. How much alike they were. The moulding of their chins, the lips were the same. But Nancy's face was a young face, a child's face, frank and innocent while on Julie's the marks of a hard life insisted on showing through the beauty of her features and the fairness of her skin.

The eyes, blue lidded, startling against the white of her face, opened again.

"It's your—mother. Have they told—you?" The words were dragged out.

"Can you forgive—me—baby—girl?"

The effort of talking exhausted her. The blue lids closed again. Nancy took her mother's hand in her own.

"I loved—your—father—so—"

These were the last coherent words of Julie Abbott. She died with the arms of the baby she had deserted eighteen years ago about her neck.

The kneeling woman broke into loud sobs.

* * *

A sad company gathered about the grave of Julie Abbott that summer day. Nancy O'Day and Mrs. O'Day, the woman who had wept in the hospital room, a handful of chronic funeral goers, the Rev. Mr. Hemingway and John Blair.

Nancy clung to Mrs. O'Day; she didn't weep; no tears would come and she wondered if she were heartless. Julie's fellow trouper who had been with her when she died and who had collected money for flowers from the circus people, stayed until the grave was closed. She had promised Julie if misfortune or death came to her she would see her through.

"I'm keeping my word," she said to Nancy at the funeral parlors. "I don't care if I lose my job and never see another circus. I'm staying right here to be sure Julie has a everything. You're her daughter, but I was her friend. I knew her; you never did."

Nancy hadn't answered; there seemed nothing to say.

At the grave she heard the minister's words—"I am the Resurrection and the Life: The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away—in the midst of life we are in death—"

It all seemed like a dream. She looked at John Blair; he stood somewhat back from the grave but in hand, the wind rumpling his shock of sun-burned hair. She wondered why he had come; then she remembered how she had run screaming from him at the circus and that she had not seen him since. The newspapers had been filled with the story of Julie's tragic death. She didn't have to explain.

That night Nancy sat down to the dining room table with Mud and Darry to go through the contents of the box left by Julie Abbott. Julie's friend had delivered it over to the O'Days when Julie died.

"It's all she left," she had said. "I think you should have it."

In the box Nancy found a wedding ring, and in the ring was the inscription "M. D. to J. A."

A yellowed wedding certificate, a handful of gaudy jewelry, a tiny envelope in which Nancy found the tiniest bit of pale gold hair. She

Please Turn to Page 15, Column 3.

Heads Chamber

—Bachrach photo.

SUCCEEDS PETERS

Henry I. Harriman, unanimously elected president of Boston Chamber of Commerce to succeed ex-Mayor Andrew J. Peters. Harriman was president of the chamber, 1917 to 1919.

HUB CHAMBER BOARD ELECTS HARRIMAN

Henry I. Harriman, chairman of the board of the New England Power Co., was unanimously elected president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the chamber directors today.

Robert D. Brewer, treasurer of the Provident Institution for Savings; Carl P. Dennett, a director of the Griffin Wheel Co.; E. C. Johnson, president of the H. A. Johnson Co., and Louis E. Kirstein, vice-president of William Filene's Sons Co., were re-elected vice-presidents. M. D. Liming was re-elected secretary.

Mr. Harriman was president of the Chamber in 1917-1918-919, and so has a complete understanding of its many and varied efforts. He has taken an active part in New England's manufacturing and water power interests since graduating from Wesleyan University in 1895. He is chairman of the Metropolitan planning board of Massachusetts and has rendered notable service in many metropolitan developments, particularly the northern and southern arteries.

Upon leaving Wesleyan University, he attended the New York Law School, receiving his degree in 1897. He is an officer of many New England public utility organizations, particularly in the power field. Wesleyan University has recently been the beneficiary of his generosity by the gift of a dormitory and subscriptions to its endowment fund.

"Our Gang" Movie Contest Rules for Children

Children in New England from three to twelve years may compete.

Each contestant may send ordinary photograph or snapshot; or one in costume.

Each child may compete for only one character.

All contestants must have consent of parents.

All children may enter except children of employees of this newspaper, of Loew's Orpheum Theater or relatives of same.

Write PLAINLY on the back of each picture, full name, age, address of child and name of "Our Gang" player he looks like.

No picture will be returned. They will be held by Boston Evening American office for two weeks after contest ends, when they may be claimed by owners.

Address pictures to "Our Gang" Contest Editor, Boston Evening American, No. 8 Winthrop square, Boston Mass.

"OUR GANG" MOVIE CONTEST ENTRY COUPON

Full name.....

Age.....

Street and number.....

Town and State.....

I think I look like.....

of "Our Gang" and wish to enter the Boston Evening American-Loew's Orpheum Theater contest.

I agree to permit my above-named child to enter the "Our Gang" resemblance contest.

Parent's signature.....

HUGE P. O. ORDER THEFT

THRILLS IN 'OUR GANG' CONTEST

What a thrill the child who wins the Boston Evening American's movie contest is going to get when he goes to California and becomes a real member of "Our Gang!"

Nine-year-od John Connors of Monmouth st., Somerville, aptly expressed the thought, when, he wrote: Oh Boy! what a thrill if I am chosen to go to California and meet 'Patsy' of 'Our Gang'!"

John carries so much weight the boys have nicknamed him "Fat," he says.

That $1,200 which is to be awarded the boy or girl who wins first prize is going to give an additional thrill. And if the parents of the winner do not get thrills when presented round-trip railroad tickets to California, which is part of the first prize award, then the contest editor knows nothing about human nature.

Pictures of children from all New England entering the contest are coming in in ever-increasing volume

REVIEW BY JUDGES

For those not familiar with what it's all about, we repeat that we are in quest of a child in New England resembling one of the "Our Gang" kiddies.

The semifinals will be staged at Loew's Orpheum Theater. All children entered who believe they resemble "Freckles" will be reviewed there by the judges and one selected. The same thing will be done with respect to the youngsters who think they resemble the other five principals of "Our Gang."

These six children will be candidates for first prize honors—the three months' trip to California to act in real "Our Gang" comedies at $100 a week. They also will be the principals in a local "Our Gang" comedy to be staged in Boston and shown at the Orpheum Theater. Other children entered in the contest will appear in this local film as extras.

There aren't many more days to enter, so DO IT NOW if interested. When the gong sounds no more entries will be accepted.

"You certainly have handed the public a real thrill in this 'Our Gang' contest," wrote Mrs. Jessie A. Goldstein of West Springfield st. "It will be a wonderful opportunity for the child that wins, as well as for the parents."

ENTERS HER SON

Mrs. Charles Smith of Winthrop ave., Beachmont, of her six-year-old son, whom she entered, wrote:

I am entering my son Francis as "Wheezer," as so many people have remarked about his resemblance.

Please Turn to Page 18, Column 8.

Slain Wife

MRS. BOBBIE LEE

Low Choy, Chinese wife of Bobbie Lee, wealthy Chinese jeweler of Los Angeles. Her body was identified by her husband when found in a suburb. She had been missing for seven weeks.

RACE BOAT BEATEN BY R.R. TRAIN

Portland, Me., July 19—Steel rails won over sea waves today in the race of three speedboats against the time of the B. & M. flyer, the Pine Tree Limited, on the Boston-to-Portland run.

Their time was three hours and five minutes, against two hours and 40 minutes, scheduled running time of the train.

The boats, operated by Louis D. Pierce of Providence, Walter H. Moreton of Boston and Howell Sheppard of Winchester, started from the North channel entrance of Boston harbor at 5:54 a. m. They raced to Portland Head light at 9:31, but stopped 32 minutes for fuel.

Bone fog was experienced, the yachtsmen said, but otherwise sea conditions were excellent.

The boats will take part in the regatta off Portland Yacht Club Saturday.

The domestic help problem is solved by taking a bitchenette apartment, and the best are advertised daily in the For Rent columns.

$1,500,000 BLANKS STOLEN

Money order blanks that can be forged and cashed for a total value of $1,500,000 have been stolen from postoffices and subpostal stations in the United States this year and are being turned into money in all parts of the country, according to announcement today by postal authorities.

Of the stolen blanks, 144 were taken in the Boston postal district. All of these were stolen from a drug store substation and have a potential value to the thieves of 14,400.

Warning was issued to merchants, hotel owners and restaurant proprietors to be on the lookout for forged orders. According to Chief Inspector C. M. Clarahan of the New York general postoffice, each stolen order can be filled out for $100. This form of robbery has become very common, he said.

Most of the blanks were taken in robberies similar to the Boston case, substations being robbed at night or boldly held up by day.

DOUBLE DOLLS UP, TOO

ONE IN 'GANG,' OTHER WANTS TO BE

Charlotte Miller, 68 Johnson st., Lynn, thinks she looks like Jean Darling, of "Our Gang," and she's all set to do her dancing bit. Compare the two girls, and see what you think of the resemblance.

Boys' Khaki Sports Blouses, ideal for vacation wear. Sizes 6 to 15 years 59c

Boys' White Broadcloth Shirts, cotton, attached collar style. Sizes 12½ to 14 ..... 1.00

Jordan Marsh Company
Great Basement Store
The Famous Store Within a Store For the Sale of the Less Expensive Merchandise

Children's Cotton Pajamas, one-piece style. Sizes 6 to 12 years 59c

Children's Rayon Bloomers, well made and finished. Sizes 8 to 16 years 79c

STORE CLOSED ALL DAY SATURDAYS DURING JULY AND AUGUST

Cool things for young folks to wear

Exceptional value in Misses' Cool Wash Silk Dresses 7.95

Splendid variety of very chic dresses—in the very styles and materials the young miss wants for warm weather. Some sleeveless models. Beautiful pastel shades. Sizes to 20 years.

Little Tots' Peggy Cloth Play Suits 84c

Blue peggy cloth suits in one and two-piece styles. Cool, comfortable and easy to launder. Sizes 3 to 6 years. Splendid value!

Little Boys' Khaki Flapper Suits, with short sleeves and fancy sports belt. Sizes 3 to 6 years 98c

Children's Slip-on Sweaters, fancy stripes, crew neck. Sizes 2 to 6 years..... 1.45

Junior Misses' Hats 1.25

Attractive youthful styles and summery colors. Mostly rough braids.

Misses' Felt Hats at 3.50

Black and fashionable colors. Several chic models in the lot.

Children's Dress Pumps

Patent Leather one straps, sizes 8½ to 11, 1.98

Sizes 11½ to 2 at 2.45 a pair

Boys' Brown Canvas Shoes, 1.85

Lace bals, gum rubber soles, sizes 11 to 6

Boys' Long Khaki Pants 1.50

Good durable, strongly made pants, bar tack seat, pocket with tabs. Reinforced seams. Sizes 12 to 18 years.

Girls' Blue Peggy Cloth Play Suits 1.49

Full cut pleated bloomers, middy trimmed with rows of white braid and red tie. Sizes 7 to 14 years.

Children's 7-8 Hose 49c

Rayon, plated, white and popular colors.

Boys' Nainsook Union Suits 75c

Athletic style, cut full.

Another lot of those exceptional MISSES' White Flannel COATS that sold so quickly at 5.95

A low price that you never anticipated for these attractive coats. Unlined, stitched Johnnie collars. Sizes 14 to 20.

Real snappy Junior Misses' BATHING SUITS 2.95

All wool suits, one-piece style with skirt, stripe trimmed. Various popular colors. Sizes 13, 15 and 17.

W. A. GROZIER IS DEAD AT HOME IN MELROSE

Newspapermen all over the country today mourn the passing of William A. Grozier, for years business manager of the Boston Post, Death came at the Grozier home in Melrose.

On May 13, the widely-known newspaperman was stricken in his office and hurried to the Relief Station where it was impossible to move him for some time. Finally, he recovered sufficiently to be removed to his home, and for a time he rallied, but a collapse that meant death came last night.

Mr. Grozier was a well-known resident of Melrose, where for many years he lived at 71 Bellevue ave. He was the brother of the late Edwin A. Grozier, for many years editor and publisher of the Boston Post; and uncle of Richard Grozier, the present editor, publisher, and owner of that newspaper.

He was born in Brunswick, Me., December 9, 1863, the son of Captain Joshua F. and Mary Given Grozier, and was the third of seven children. When but an infant, he traveled around the world on his father's merchant ship, the Western Empire. His father was regarded as one of the most successful of clipper ship captains—a type of ship for which New England was famous in the 19th century.

LIVED ON CAPE

His grandfather Given, likewise was an outstanding character in the shipping world, and was a prosperous shipbuilder at Bowdoinham, Me.

His uncle, William Allen Given, for whom Mr. Grozier was named, was an agent for whalers and was one of Provincetown's best-known citizens.

One of the most famous of the Cape Cod whaling ships was named the William A. Grozier and Mr. Grozier took delight in her career.

Mr. Grozier's early youth was spent in Provincetown where he lived with his uncle and where he first started in school. He became connected with the American Express Co. and went to Denver, Colo., where a cousin, Joshua F. Grozier, an attorney-at-law, still lives. There he engaged in the real estate business.

When Edwin A. Grozier bought the Post, he became circulation manager of the paper. Shortly after, he assumed the office of business manager of the Post, a position that he had until his death.

Mr. Grozier's acquaintance was large and his friends were legion. Of a quiet and unassuming nature, his genuine love of his fellow man and a sincere desire to be of service wherever and whenever possible, prompted many generous deeds. This trait was particularly true among the men and women on the Post with whom he worked.

LOVED THE SEA

He never lost his love for the great out-of-doors and found much recreation in long walks. Every night after dinner he would be seen taking a walk with his pet dog "Junior."

His few hobbies included fishing and frequently he spent time with reel and rod in the company of his friend, H. C. Brine, well-known Boston business man. He always felt the call of the sea, an inheritance from his ancestors, and when taking a vacation he usually included an ocean voyage.

He was fond of reading and spent many happy moments in the large library of his home. He was especially fond of stories of travel and himself had travelled extensively in Europe, the Orient and South America.

He was a member of the Boston City Club, but was more devoted to his business and home rather than club life. He was married 31 years ago to Miss Florence Metcalf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Metcalf of Malden. A child, Marian Arlene, was born October 20, 1898, and died 19 months later. He is survived by his wife, and a sister, Miss Louise Grozier, of New York city.

WOMAN PROMOTED BY UNITED FRUIT CO.

Miss Gladys A. Taylor has been appointed assistant advertising manager of the United Fruit Co., with offices at New York City. Miss Taylor has been with the United Fruit Co. for 10 years in her new position she will have charge of passenger traffic advertising for the company's steamship lines between North America and Central and Southern American ports.

HAY FEVER
"That Awful Sneezing" Ended Instantly
Amazing new discovery, called Ercolin, brings instant relief. Nonalkaline pollen poisoning, stops irritation at once. No cocaine, no odor. Results Guaranteed. All druggists.
Ercolin

DENTISTRY WITHOUT PAIN
At Prices the Workingman Can Pay
We cater to the people who work, to those who cannot afford to pay high prices for their dental work. We give you first-class dentistry that is strong, durable and artistic, at the lowest possible price.
POSITIVELY NO RAISING OF PRICES
Broken Plates Repaired IN 3 HOURS
TEETH Upper or Lower
No More $15 No Less

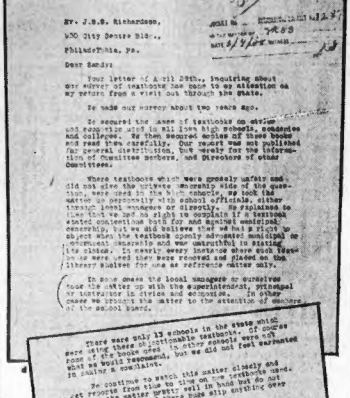
Crowns and Bridgework, per tooth $6
Painless Extraction $1
Silver Fillings $1
Porcelain Fillings $2
The CUT RATE DENTISTS
CHAPPELL DENTAL CO., Prop.
COR. ARCH ST. Hours 9 to 6
Phone Hancock 9758
48 SUMMER ST.

Textbooks Under Ban



IOWA COMMITTEE
PUBLIC UTILITY INFORMATION
Des Moines, Iowa
May 7, 1928.
Rev. J.B.S. Richardson,
[illegible]
Philadelphia, Pa.
Dear Sandy:
Your letter of April 29th., inquiring about our effort of textbooks has come to my attention on my return from a visit out through the state.
It was our survey about two years ago.
To secure the views of textbooks on civics and economics we sent to all Iowa high schools, academies and colleges. We then secured copies of these books and read them carefully. Our report was not published for general distribution, but merely for the information of Committee members, and Directors of other Committees.
Those textbooks which were grossly unfair and did not give the subject accurately side of the question, were used in the high schools, we took the matter up personally with school officials, either through local members or directly. We explained to them that we had no desire to conduct if a heralded, stated contention both for and against condemned, but we did believe that we had a right to point out the textbook authors' political or economical viewpoints and we contributed in stating the issues. In nearly every instance where such views were used they were removed and placed on the library shelves for use as reference matter only.
In some cases the local managers or ourselves took the matter up with the superintendent, principal or instructor in civics and economics. In other cases we brought the matter to the attention of members of the school board.
There were only 15 schools in the state which were using these objectionable textbooks. Of course some of the books were used in other schools with which we did not feel warranted in making a complaint.
We continue to watch this matter closely and get reports from time to time as to textbooks used. We have the satisfaction of knowing that we have succeeded to that any of these books are not being used in the state.
If there is any other information in this connection that you want we will be glad to give it to you.
With very kindest regards, I am,
Yours truly,
Director.

POWER publicity director tells of survey of civics and economics textbooks used in all Iowa schools and colleges. "School" officials were induced to put all "unfair books, advocating municipal or government ownership, on the library shelves—for reference."

19 FIREMEN IN NEW POSTS

The retirement of three members of the Boston fire department means transfers and promotions of 19 men.

Those to be retired are: Capt. Charles Fernald of Engine 48; Ladderman Charles E. Hudson of Ladder 5, and Hoseman Cornelius J. Harrington of Engine 13, appointed May 18, 1906.

The promoted and their new assignments are: Lieut. James F. Sheehan, who leaves Rescue Company 1, to act as captain at Ladder 2, replacing Capt. Frederick F. Leary, who goes to Ladder 25. Hoseman John F. Pettit of Engine 23, elevated to lieutenant, is sent to Ladder 22, and Hoseman John J. Leary of Engine 6, is made an assistant apparatus operator.

Capt. Florence Donohue of Ladder 23 fills the vacancy left by the retiring captain at Engine 48. Other transfers are: Lieut. William J Walsh of Ladder 23, to Engine 21; Lieut. David F. Sheehan of Engine 21 to Tower 3; Lieut. Jeremiah T. Cronin of Engine 34, Rescue 1; Lieut. John J. O'Brien of Engine 45 to Engine 47; Lieut. James J. Crowley of Tower 3 to Engine 34; Lieut. Patrick H. Kenney of Engine 37 to Engine 45.

RAIL MAGNATE SWALLOWS THREE FALSE TEETH

Mt. Kisco, N. Y., July 19 (INS)—John Magee, railroad and coal magnate, has three false teeth in his stomach, but does not intend to undergo an operation for their removal. He has seemingly awallowed them while eating. The magnate is going to Newport, R. I., today on a pleasure trip.

Bridge Whist Party

A bridge will be held at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon, July 24, at Pemberton Hotel by a group of Proparvulis Club members in aid of the Vacation House, Sunset Point. Miss Margaret Crowley is chairman, assisted by Misses Anna Doyle, Agnes Goode, Bessie Moran, Marie Keenan and Mrs. Mary Comerford.

POWER TRIED TO REACH EDITORS

Washington, July 18—Poor propagandists sought to influence members of the National Editorial Association against public ownership of utilities by raising a specter of heavy losses in newspaper advertising revenue, Federal Trade Commission records disclosed today.

Plans to this end were shaped on the eve of the association's convention in Memphis last winter, when the Boulder Dam and Muscle Shoals projects were pending in Congress.

J. D. Sheridan, Missouri propagandist, proposed to Guy P. Newbern, Tennessee propaganda bureau director, on February 9, that the newspaper men of the country be addressed during the meeting on the light and power industry.

"My crude idea is that if an address should be made, it should cover the public ownership menace, and, in a tactful way, let the publishers get an idea of the effect that public ownership would have on the advertising stimulated by private business," Sheridan wrote.

He said there was a propaganda bureau in Minnesota which no doubt had "contact with an officer of the association and added:

"Needless to say the Missouri committee will assist in any way possible."

Newbern, thanking Sheridan for his suggestion wrote:

"The details for the convention are being handled in this office, the state vice-president for the National Editorial Association being my assistant.

This assistant was Hugh Doak, who was also president of the Tennessee Press Association and editor of the Manchester Times, while drawing $238 a month salary from the propaganda bureau, according to the commission's record.

HAYDEN, STONE CO. TO HOLD OUTING MONDAY

The Hayden, Stone & Company organization, including all branch offices, will hold an outing jointly at the Winchester Country Club and at the residence of Jere A. Downs in Winchester, adjoining the club, on Monday.

This outing is an annual affair and is given by the senior partner of the Boston office, Mr. Downs. There will be golf, tennis, and bowling matches and minor sports during the day followed by a dinner and dance in the evening at the Country Club.

"CAPE CODDER" IS AGAIN IN SERVICE

The Cape Codder has again been placed in service by the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad. This week-end sleeping car train operates between New York and Hyannis and principal points on Cape Cod, leaving New York Friday night and Cape Cod Sunday night. A sleeping car operated on the Montrealer and the Washingtonian, connecting with the Cape Codder at New Haven affords the convenience of a through car between Washington and Cape Cod.

MISS DEL RIO IS TO APPEAR IN 'DEPORTED'

By LUCELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor of Universal Service.

(Copyright, 1928, by Universal Service.)

LOS ANGELES, July 19—In the midst of the flurry and bustle of getting ready for a tour of Europe with his star, Dolores Del Rio, Edwin Carewe has taken time to buy a story for her. You would think work and future plans would be of small consequence compared with the itinerary planned for this sensational European jaunt.

But stars must work and pictures must be made. So Dolores will leave Hollywood next week and New York early in August, with the pleasant knowledge that "Deported," an original story by Gouverneur Scarborough, has been bought for her.

"Deported," according to Mr. Carewe, is the dramatic tale of a Polish peasant girl. It is not unlike the role of Katusha in "Resurrection," Miss Del Rio's best characterization.

Fox is preparing the scenario which will be in readiness for Mr. Carewe and Miss Del Rio when they return from abroad. They will not make pictures in Europe, but they will meet Joseph Schenck in Paris and discuss with him plans for this new picture.

• • •

A TROUPER with Eugene O'Brien's experience, and an actor with his voice qualities, couldn't very well stay out of the talkies. Eugene O'Brien is one actor who is just born for these new talkies. He couldn't escape them if he would, and he probably doesn't want to. The rumor is now that he is going to make a movietone with Mary Astor, on the Fox lot. I say rumor because in the absence of Winfield Sheehan I wasn't able to confirm it, but it comes from a very good source. Winnie, by the way, will be back among us next week.

• • •

THE Universal Film Company considers it a matter of great importance that Otis Harlan has been signed to play the role of Captain Andy in "Show Boat." They are probably right, for Captain Andy, played by Charles Winninger in New York, is one of the best characters in the play. Universal considers it important also, because dozens of people out here have had tests made and dozens of rumors have been made about this and that one being chosen.

• • •

I THOUGHT that Norma Talmadge was all through with "A Woman Disputed." It was, therefore, somewhat of a surprise to see her with her make-up on, on the United Artists lot. "A Woman Disputed" has gone back into production with an added sequence. It doesn't mean that the scenes are to be remade, rather that new ones are to be added. I gathered this when I learned that Gladys Brockwell had been added to the cast. Miss Brockwell probably means some extra film intrigue, for she is a wicked screen vamp.

• • •

SUMMER is not affecting the activities of Columbia. The hot weather has only served to increase the number of new faces there. Sonia Levine and Beatrice Van, two well known writers, have been signed on long term contracts by the energetic Mr. Cohn. While he was doing a good job, he dipped his pen in ink and also purchased "Radiograms" from Louis Lewyn. "Radiograms" is a collection of Ralph Spence's wisecracks and they are the closest things to "Topics of the Day" on the market. What will happen when we have these things put to sound with our jokes being given to us via dialogue?

• • •

SHOTS of Hollywood collected at random: Douglas Fairbanks demonstrating his ability at indoor tennis before Mayor James Walker, Norma Talmadge, with a fine tan, greeting the Mayor's part at the United Artists' studio. Lupe Velez singing one of her own native songs for a group of celebrities at Doris Kenyon Sills taking her young son to call on some friends. Agnes Christine Johnstone being mistaken for one of the stars at the Carthay Circle Theater opening. Her dress of pale blue and orchid did the trick. Mabel Normand in a close fitting red hat and white evening dress, accompanied by Lew Cody, arriving early at the premiere of "Lilac Time." Dorothy Mackaill trying to dodge a persistent autograph grabber. That's all today. See you tomorrow!

FLEET COMMODORE IS AWARDED MEDAL

Capt. P. van den Heuvel, R. N. R., commander of the S. S. Rotterdam and present commodore of the Holland-America Line fleet, has today been awarded a special gold medal by the managing directors to commemorate forty years of service to that company, according to cable advices received at the Line's local offices.

Commodore van den Heuvel's record includes the progress of the Line with which he has been identified for so long a period. Born at Sea on February 25, 1870, on a sailing ship of 164 tons, the Anna Sanders, owned by his father, Commodore van den Heuvel has spent all but eight years of his life at sea.

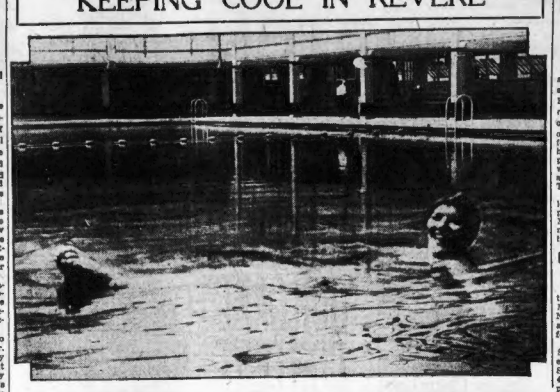
SAILING DATE FOR NEW LINER CHANGED

According to cable advices received by the New York offices of the Hamburg-American Line recently, the new motorship St. Louis will leave Hamburg for New York on her maiden voyage, December 6, 1928, instead of on November 22, as originally scheduled. She will sail from New York for Europe on December 27.

The new vessel will be launched at Vegesack, near Bremen, Germany, on Thursday, August 2, at which ceremonies a delegation of the Chamber of Commerce of the City of St. Louis will be present.

TRAVEL - TOURS - HOTELS - RESORTS

KEEPING COOL IN REVERE



OPEN NEW POOL AT REVERE

New England's largest outdoor salt water swimming-pool, known as the Nautical Pool, at Revere Beach, was formally dedicated last night. Frankini Bros. Co., Inc., of Medford built the pool in six and one-half weeks, breaking all records for this kind of a job. The pool is brilliantly illuminated at night, and produces many new ideas in underwater lighting systems, designed and constructed by the Charles H. Tenny Co.

A large outdoor Western Electric loud speaker has been installed to provide music for the swimmers. Madeline Berlo, well known mermaid, is in charge of the swimming instructors.

B. & M. EXCURSION TO MT. TOM, JULY 22

On Sunday, July 22, an excursion train will be run by the Boston and Maine railroad from Boston to Northampton, Holyoke (Mt. Tom) and Springfield, with opportunity for a trip to the summit of Mt. Tom. The excursion train leaves North Station, Boston, at 7:50 a. m. (eastern standard time), returning from Springfield at 4:30 p. m., Holyoke at 4:30 p. m. and Northampton at 4:45 p. m.

GRAY BUS OPENS NEW TOURS

The Gray Bus Line, Inc., offers to vacationists a most attractive means of travel in their de luxe motor coaches. The newest tour in Boston, known as the "Educational Tour," runs from Park sq. daily from 8 a. m., hourly, until 10 p. m.

Buses run from the Franklin Park terminal on the half hour. The route is over the city's finest parkways, down Commonwealth ave., through the Fenway to the Art Museum, thence to Jamaica Pond and the Arnold Arboretum, one of the most beautiful parks in the city, and finally to Franklin Park, with the largest zoo and aviary in the country.

Stops are made at all the above-mentioned places, and visitors may stay as long as they wish at each place because transfers are issued on all buses good on following buses either that day or a week hence. The price of the round trip ticket is 50 cents.

This innovation is fast meeting public approval for it opens an easy means of access to places that have been difficult to reach before.

NOTED RESORTS IN BIG TOUR

An arrangement has been completed by the Great Northern and Canadian National Railways to make available to tourists a circle tour of the three greatest playgrounds in the world. Under it tourists will be able to visit Glacier National Park, Waterton, and Jasper National Park, without loss of time and at a considerable reduction in cost.

The inter-change point between the two companies will be at Calgary where passengers for Jasper will take the Canadian National Railways and those for Waterton and Glacier will take automobiles to connect further south with the Great Northern Railway. The autos and the trains will make connections and summer tourist fares will apply in both cases. In the past it has only been possible for travellers to combine these places in one visit by making a roundabout and expensive trip.

In Glacier and Waterton Parks the Great Northern Railway operates a number of splendid hotels, among which are the Prince of Wales Hotel, The Glacier Park Hotel and the Many Glaciers Hotel. In Jasper is our own unique and distinctive summer resort.

EXCURSION TO OLD ORCHARD

A day at the seashore can be enjoyed by the entire family at a small expense—for the Boston and Maine excursion to Old Orchard on Sunday, July 22, provided safe, comfortable, convenient transportation at an attractive reduced rate.

Travel through interesting countryside brings excursionists to Old Orchard, one of the most famous resorts in Maine. Here is to be found one of the finest beaches on the Atlantic coast, a long stretch of clean, hard-packed sand which has been used by airplanes in test transatlantic flights.

Liner Smashes All Mediterranean Records

The S. S. Conte Biancamano sailed from Naples on July 4, and from Gibraltar on July 8, to New York, where she arrived July 17. This is a remarkably fast trip and eclipses all previous speed records for a Med terranean steamer.

Mr. Charles H. Flood, wife and daughter, also Mr. Rizzini of Boston were passengers.

Buy real estate where the values are. You will find a lot of valuable property advertised every day in the real estate columns of the Classified Ads.

Profit awaits both buyer and seller who meet through Classified Want Ads.

The Largest Outdoor Swimming Pool in N.E.

Nautical Pool, Revere Beach

THIRTY MYSTIC AVENUE

CONTRACTORS AND ENGINEERS
FRANKINI BROS. CO. INC.
MEDFORD, MASS.

MYSTIC $300 $201 $302 $303

Built and Completed by Us in 6½ Weeks

LEARN TO SWIM NOW!

Nautical Swimming Pool

ON THE BOULEVARD, REVERE BEACH

The Only Pool of Its Kind in New England

Open 12 M. to 11 P. M.—Pop. Prices

ADDED ATTRACTION

MADELINE BERLO

World's Famous Aquatic Queen in Daily Exhibition of Fancy Diving

MEZZANINE PROMENADE FOR SPECTATORS

Like an Ocean Liner Docking when the Great Ship "SEEANDBEE" arrives at Cleveland from Buffalo

Plan now to take a trip on this floating palace this Summer.
C & B Line Steamers leave each way every night at 9:00 p. m.; arriving at 7:30 a. m. (Eastern Stand. Time)

New Low Fare
$4.50 One Way; $8.50 Round Trip

The Cleveland and Buffalo Transit Co.
Buffalo, N. Y.

11-Day Vacation Cruise $84.50

All Expenses—BOSTON via NEW YORK to SAVANNAH and RETURN

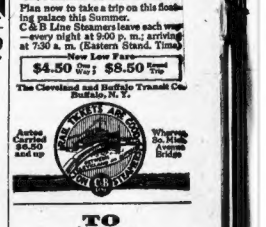
Where else can you spend a short vacation so delightfully and reasonably?

Seven jolly days at sea on a luxurious modern Savannah Liner, in all but size the equal of her transatlantic sisters. Right cool, restful nights. Menus that tempt. Dancing to the music of a college student orchestra. Radio concerts. De luxe accommodation. Deck games. Daily radio news bulletins.

A day each way in New York, with the ship as your hotel. Three days in old world Savannah. The finest hotel and sightseeing trips at our guests. Seven cruise sailings weekly. Make reservations now. Ocean Steamship Co. of Savannah, Pier 42, Hocsnt Tunnel Docks or the nearest tourist agency.

Savannah Line
"The Route De Luxe"

TO IRELAND (Queenstown)



You will feel right at home on board these cabin ships. Roomy cabins, tasty cuisine—Irish matrons—altars for devotional services. Landing at Cobh (Queenstown)—from there only 30% by rail to Cork, $2.50 to Killarney, $4.90 to Dublin.

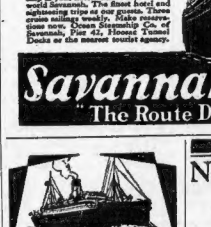
Next Sailings From New York

*S. S. CLEVELAND - July 21
S. S. THURINGIA - July 28
S. S. WESTPHALIA - Aug. 16*

*Tourist Third Cabin accommodations also available.

Round Trip Rates $150
Improved Third Class

HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINE
131 State St., Boston
or local steamship agents



Cunard Line
Boston—Liverpool via Queenstown
SCYTHIA July 21
LACONIA Aug. 5
SCYTHIA Aug. 19
Cabin, Tourist 1st Cabin and Third Class
Boston—Glasgow via Londonderry New Anchor Liners
CUNARD LINE
33 STATE ST., BOSTON or Local Agents

New York $5.00

Leave South Station daily except Sundays, 4:45 p. m., E. S. T. Sundays 4:45 p. m., E. S. T. Free motor bus transfer between Providence Railroad Station and Fox Point Wharf. Due New York, Pier 9, North River, 7:00 a. m., E. S. T. Automobiles carried.
Ticket Offices: 192 Washington Street and South or Back Bay Stations.

PROVIDENCE LINE
THE NEW ENGLAND STEAMSHIP COMPANY

BAY STATE LINE NEW YORK $4.00
VIA RAIL & BOAT
Rail connection, Gorham and Tremont, both Providence 2:00 P. M. (Standard Time) daily and Sundays. Tickets and Staterooms at South Station, Back Bay and Consolidated Ticket Offices, Boston.

STATEROOMS $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00

A home is a man's greatest asset! Do you own yours? If not, now is the time to buy. You'll find scores of sound values listed today in the real estate columns of the Classified Ads.

BAN ON TILDEN WRECKS U. S. CUP TEAM

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN — THURSDAY, JULY 19, 1928

WITH RACQUETS, TILDEN STORMED THE HEIGHTS OF FAME

Walk-Over Club Track Meet July 28

The Walk-Over Club will hold its annual field day and carnival on Saturday, July 28, on the club grounds, Perkins ave., Campello.

Numerous events have been arranged, including 50 yards dash open, 100 yards dash open, 440 yards relay race, team of four, each to run 110 yards, 50 yards novice, discus throw, running high jump, running broad jump and baseball throw.

Entries for this meet close with Maxwell J. Pearson, No. 23 station ave., Campello, or Bernice E. Snell, Supt. Walk-Over Club.

Real estate values are growing steadily in Boston. If you are inclined to own your home, buy it now! See the home bargains offered today in the Classified Ads.

HOMANS AND McCARTHY ON WALKER CUP TEAM

New York, July 19 (INS)—Maurice McCarthy, Jr., intercollegiate golf champion, and Eugene V. Homans, of Princeton, have been selected as members of the Walker Cup golf team, the United States Golf Association announces. The team will play the British stars in the annual match at Wheatley Hills, L. I., June 30 and July 1, and at Wheaton, Ill., late in August.

KNUTE HANSEN BACK IN U. S. WITH CHALLENGE

New York, July 19 (INS)—Knute Hansen, Danish heavyweight back here today from Europe with his Russian bride, said he would challenge the winner of the Tunney-Heeney bout.

'Most Extraordinary,' Says London of Tilden

London, July 19 (AP)—Dropping of "Big Bill" Tilden from the American Davis Cup team on grounds that he had violated the amateur rules, is the big feature of today's after[illegible] which print the story [illegible] comment.

The [illegible] quotes F. Gordon Lowe, well-known tennis player, as saying:

Tilden wrote many articles, but these were all legitimate comments about players. . . . The whole thing is most extraordinary and it will have the effect of thoroughly arousing all lawn tennis players to action."

"Silence is golden" is truly spoken of Classified Want Ads—no noise, but they make a lot of silver-plated Results.

Tilden Defeats the Italian Star in Exhibition Tilt

Antroll, France, July 19 (INS)—William T. Tilden, 2d, disqualified star of American tennis, scored the first victory for America over Italy today, but it was a strictly unofficial decision.

It came at the expense of Baron de Morpurgo, ace of the Italian team, who previously had declared that the decision of the U. S. L. T. A. had come as the greatest disappointment of his life because it prevented him from meeting Tilden, who he characterized as "the greatest tennis player in the world."

De Morpurgo accepted the invitation of Tilden to play today and was beaten easily in straight sets, 6—2, 6—1.

SOUDERS, AUTO RACER, SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Detroit, July 19 (INS)—The condition of George Souders, automobile race driver, seriously injured Sunday, was [illegible] improved today. He has regained consciousness.

Coast Teams Draw Well

The Pacific Coast League played to 1,366,040 attendance the first half of the summer.

U. S. CUP HOPES DASHED BY BAN ON BILL TILDEN

Continued From First Page

own resignation, effective as soon as the American team returns home.

Tennis sensation followed tennis sensation when Lott announced he would not play in the doubles, whether because of sympathy over Tilden's disbarment or disappointment because he was not chosen for the singles was not indicated.

Both Cullom and Wear [illegible] young player aside and [illegible] he must [illegible] reserve decision until [illegible] but it was confidently expected [illegible] after the excitement of a [illegible] had died down he will take over his assigned place on the team.

The turmoil of these successive episodes quite placed in the background the Italian-American matches tomorrow.

[illegible] it was announced that G. De Stefani, second ranking Italian, would meet Hunter in one singles encounter tomorrow with Baron H. L. De Morpurgo pitted against Hennessey in the other.

In the doubles of tomorrow Lott and Hennessey are to meet De Morpurgo and De Stefani with Hennessey.

Cullom said he would bide his time but would have something to say about the matter when Davis Cup competition is over.

With Tilden's passing from the team he captained went virtually [illegible] of regaining [illegible] the historic tennis [illegible] passed into the hands [illegible] Four Musketeers"—[illegible] Rene Lacoste and [illegible] at Germantown last [illegible]

[illegible] saw a possibility [illegible] Tilden's inspired play, [illegible] I knew might not even [illegible] one finals with [illegible] of a American veteran [illegible] Shaw in the inter-[illegible] to be made.

[illegible] Tilden" asked Pierre [illegible] president of the French [illegible] committee. "We can't go [illegible] Lacoste unless the [illegible] is present."

"Tilden no longer is captain of the American team," replied Wear. "[illegible] and present stars [illegible] offense while the [illegible] dignitaries and [illegible] grand [illegible]

In spite of Tilden entered the [illegible] with a spontaneous [illegible] cheering from French, [illegible] and Americans alike must [illegible] the action of Big [illegible] heart such as did no victory [illegible] ever won on the courts in a [illegible] and [illegible] tennis career.

BARON CONSOLES TILDEN.

Baron H. L. De Morpurgo, [illegible] of the Italian team, who was [illegible] to [illegible] Tilden with his [illegible] less opposition in the Interzone finals, rushed over to console the big American.

"I'm sorry Bill," he said. "This [illegible] out of it."

Amid impressive silence, Wear read the following statement:

"The amateur rules committee of the Davis Cup committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association having preferred charges against William T. Tilden, II, for having violated the amateur rules by writing current newspaper articles for pay or consideration concerning the Wimbledon tournament in which he was a competitor, and whereas it would be improper to retain as a member of the American Davis Cup team any player against whom such charges are pending, the United States Lawn Tennis Association has decided to withdraw Tilden from Davis Cup competition."

The statement was signed by Cullom.

Pandemonium broke and it was several minutes before Gilding, the presiding officer, could obtain silence.

Then upon Tilden, raising his racquet and over his head, said:

"I also have a statement to [illegible]

But before starting reading from his notes he said:

"I refuse all charges. We will

Please Turn to Page 13, Column 1.

Tilden Near Top of Game When Barred

Today's development puts the Davis Cup committee in the strange position of dropping the captain of the American team.

Tilden, veteran of nine Davis Cup campaigns, was appointed captain of the American team in March of this year.

Led by the Philadelphian, the American team advanced through American zone opponents, in [illegible] Mexico, China and Japan. [illegible] stalwarts at an age when most stars are content to lay aside [illegible] quests so far as national championships and Davis Cup competition are concerned, apparently had regained much of his old-time vigor.

TILDEN PLAYING WELL.

At Wimbledon he played very nearly as well as he ever had. He reached the semi-finals of the men's singles there but it took a master such as Rene La Coste to turn the trick.

The French star, at that, succeeded in defeating Tilden only after a five set struggle as strenuous as it was thrilling.

It was Tilden and "Little Bill" Johnston that brought the Davis cup back to the United States in 1920 after it had been taken away by the Australians in 1914.

The war prevented any cup competition after that period until 1919 when Great Britain, the challenger, was defeated by the Anzacs, four matches to one.

The next year the United States reached the challenge round and Tilden and Johnson defeated the great Australian masters, Gerald Patterson and Norman Brookes, five matches to none.

These two formed the backbone of the United States defense until 1924, when Tilden and Vincent Richards played in the singles against the challenging Australians, while Johnston teamed with Tilden in the doubles.

In 1925, when the United States defeated France, Johnston and Tilden again were the singles players as they were in 1926, and then in 1927, when Prince Feally succeeded in capturing the coveted trophy Johnston announced his retirement this year but Tilden decided to carry on.

In all this period, "Big Bill" won 18 singles matches in Davis Cup challenge round play and lost only two, one in 1926 to La Coste and the second in 1927 to La Coste.

Tilden has been at odds with the constituted tennis authorities on many occasions. For a time early last winter it appeared as though neither he nor Frank Hunter would be available for Davis Cup play.

Tilden and Hunter contended that with the French in such strength, America's only chance of regaining the cup was to pick two teams, one to play through the American zone against Japan, Canada, Cuba, China and Mexico who did not figure to provide much opposition for the United States, and the other to go over to Europe in time to become acclimated abroad. To defeat the great French team, Tilden and Hunter argued, the United States would have to have its representatives in first-rate condition.

Tennis officials could not see the necessity for picking two teams. After a dispute that lasted months, a compromise was effected when Hunter went abroad for play in the early European tournaments, only to join the French hard court championships, while Tilden remained at home to pilot the Americans through the pitfalls in American zone play.

BATTLES AUTHORITIES.

Tilden's first [illegible] with the authorities came early in 1[illegible] when announcement was made of the new amateur rule affecting players who wrote tennis articles for money.

Tilden was writing for [illegible] newspapers at the time and [illegible] pute waxed warm, and culminated in April with Tilden's announcement that he would withdraw [illegible] from the American Olympic [illegible] the Davis Cup teams. [illegible] Cup committee then informed Tilden that he was eligible to play, and the Davis Cup challenge round of 1924 again found Tilden and Johnston forming the nucleus of the American defense.

From time to time there were sporadic outbursts in the player-writer disputes, but in 1925, after the new provision had gone into effect, Tilden obtained a release from a clause in his newspaper syndicate contract by which he was freed of the necessity of writing of tournaments in which he himself participated. This satisfied officialdom and all was serene again.

Fort Banks A. A. Boxing On Tonight

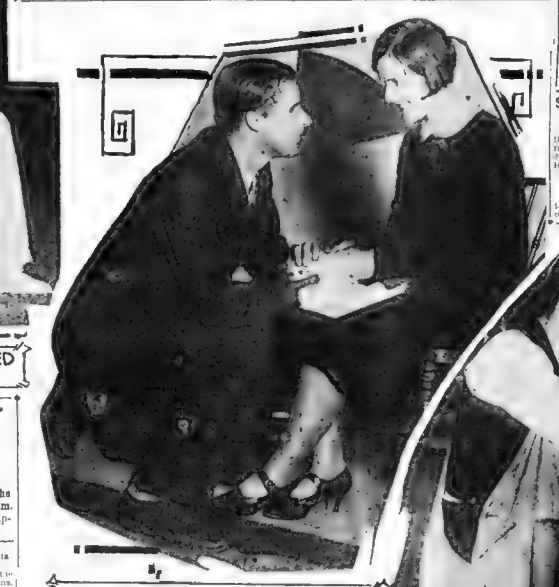
The cool breezes off the harbor and the card of boxing bouts arranged by the Ft. Banks A. A. to be staged tonight, will draw many followers of the sport to the Winthrop military post.

Seven bouts will be staged there this evening, all open to the public and with free parking for the auto fans, and from 8 o'clock until after 10 there should be plenty doing.

Frankie Moore of the North [illegible] with Cap Columbo, the Navy Flying featherweight, head the card they being booked for eight rounds. As the ring is small it shapes a rapidfire affair all the route.

Balchen to Wing Tunney to Fight

Speculator, N. Y., July 19—Gene Tunney's airplane flight from here to New York for his battle with Heeney, was arranged today. Charles V. Bob offered Tunney a Bellanca plane for the flight, and Bert Balchen as pilot. Tunney accepted.



THEN TURNED TO LOVE—UPON THE STAGE

Net Leaders Regret Loss of Tilden

Boston's leading tennis players and officials expressed regret today when informed that Bill Tilden had been dropped from the United States Davis Cup team.

Few seemed surprised, however, to hear the news and all agreed that the United States Lawn Tennis Association had sufficient cause for its action.

Richard Bishop, secretary of the Longwood Cricket Club, the leading tennis organization in New England, declared that every lover of tennis would regret the loss of Tilden on the eve of the Davis Cup matches with Italy, which start tomorrow, but that since he didn't know the facts of the case, he couldn't pass judgment on the action.

"Every tennis lover regrets the loss of Tilden on the eve of the big match with Italy," said Mr. Bishop. "I don't know the facts, so I cannot pass judgment either way. It is evident, however, that Tilden violated some rule and must abide by the decision."

Irving Wright, a member of the Longwood tennis committee, said:

"The loss of Tilden will be felt by all. I am sorry that this has happened, but I feel that the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association acted correctly in making such a decision.

"I am not surprised at the ruling of the association, but I am amazed to hear that Joseph Wear, chairman of the American Davis Cup committee, has resigned because Tilden has been dropped."

Miss Georgina M. Wightman, Boston's best-known woman net star, and wife of a former president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, was shocked to hear the news, but declared it had to be.

"It is too bad, but it had to be," said Mrs. Wightman. "I personally felt that he had a good chance of winning. He had been warned though, and should have known enough to live up to the rules."

Gerald M. Hill, another member of the Longwood committee, was one of the few who were pleased to hear the news. He said:

"It is a very good thing. It should have been done long ago. It will have a tendency to clear the atmosphere."

"I am shocked but it is far better to keep tennis clean than it is to win the Davis Cup," was the comment of Carl Koller, chairman of the Longwood tennis committee.

Berkeley Bell of Texas [illegible] ing player, who competed [illegible] den in 1925 and 1926, said:

"With the passing of Tilden, all chances of winning back the Davis Cup from France are ruined. It also weakens the team greatly against Italy, but they should survive until they meet France. It makes room for another player among the first 10 in this country. Tilden and Hennessy might have won in singles against France, while they surely would have been victorious in the doubles."

John Van Ryn, [illegible] and sixth ranking player in [illegible]

"It came as quite a surprise but I suppose the Lawn Tennis Association has acted as it thinks fit and properly. It has hurt America's hopes a great deal, yet the boys won't give up without a fight."

Frank X. Shields, National [illegible] champion, New York:

"It surely weakens the team greatly. However, I don't think it will have much effect on the members of the Davis Cup team. They are all youngsters in their first year of Davis Cup play and need nothing to make them work harder. They are right on edge."

John Doeg, winner of Longwood Bowl in 1927, and likely choice to take Tilden's place:

"I don't really know anything about the case. Yet I am very sorry for the whole affair."

A PAINTER, TOO, OUR BILL BECAME

BUT YET REMAINED THE TENNIS RAGE

BUT WHEN HE WROTE UP WENT THE SHOUT "HE'S NOW A PRO, LET'S THROW HIM OUT!"

Dempsey Arrives for Risko-Squires Go

Detroit, July 19 (INS)—Interest in tonight's program at Navin Field, featuring a 10-round bout between Johnny Risko, Cleveland, and Johnny Squires, South Africa, perked up today with the arrival of Jack Dempsey to referee the contest.

Dempsey was met by a cheering throng at the station and crowds gathered about his hotel to get a glimpse of the former champ.

Risko and Squires are in great shape for the fight. The Cleveland boy is a two-to-one favorite.

The Kid Golfers at Unicorn Can Pull All the Old Stuff—and How

EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

Great Matches Carded for Opener in Junior Golf

BEST BOYS TO MEET TODAY

Many Low Scorers Will Be Eliminated in First Round

By BILL GRIMES

Unfortunately, some of the finest matches of the championship are played in the first round of the juniors at the Unicorn Country Club. Although seven players were seeded, the draw came so as to place much of the strength in the upper half and to bring together some of the top notchers for the opening round.

Joe Lynch [illegible] Hopkinton, was seeded [illegible] the draw and the [illegible] pulled out. [illegible] A. W. Bridgeman [illegible] was John K. Bell [illegible] Hill Golf Club of Worcester.

The Lynch-Bell match would make a fine semi-final championship. Neither [illegible] were playing up to standard in the qualifying round. The [illegible] had an 81 and Bell [illegible] the pick of the [illegible].

But then, we believe in seeding, for they are stronger [illegible] play.

Naturally [illegible] to the Worcester [illegible] but [illegible] right [illegible] [illegible] the standing one of the week, both of course, [illegible] and Reed [illegible].

MEDALIST PLAYS BISHOP

W. P. Arnold, Jr., of Colgate, who was the medalist with a 36-hole draw Stanley Bishop of Worcester. Arnold turned in one of the nine holes on the outward round yesterday when he was 39. He was well within [illegible] par, there are a few players ever gave a better exhibition at Unicorn.

Bill developed a slight tendency to slug on the way home and did not do well. He has the confidence he gained yesterday, and is every reason to believe that he will break a dozen [illegible] this [illegible] and get to the final round.

Wilfred Crossley of Norfolk is pitted against the other Bell. Crossley was a treat to watch yesterday, and if he retains [illegible] of golf he displayed in the qualifying round, this will be an other thrilling match.

Although John Battery from the Scituate Country Club showed a marked tendency towards wildness both off the tees and on the greens, he was one of the trio that succeeded in breaking 80.

Battery appears to have found himself, for the first time since the [illegible] four [illegible] was [illegible] Dallin and Joe Fay, he won.

Battery will match strokes with Reid Hemenway of the Lenox Country Club. Hemenway [illegible] all to make the match play grade.

Thomas Fahey, the caddy champion, and Wm Adams of Abington should offer some opposition. Fahey is one of the brainiest players in the field and [illegible] the opening against Adams, who is a dangerous [illegible] in front of the Worcester boy [illegible] tees.

But they do not pay off on tee shots and Fahey can't game and more than [illegible] a loss of distance from the tees.

Charlie Eaton of Worcester, who is one of the real promising boys Art Cody, who tied with Tommy Fahey for the caddy championship last year and lost the play off.

BALDNESS
Is Unnecessary

A Good Head of HAIR Depends on You!

DO NOT NEGLECT
DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR and ITCHING SCALP. Our Specialized treatments for these conditions are only
$1.00 PER TREATMENT
FREE SCALP EXAMINATION
We Treat Men Only
The MERTIN SYSTEM, Inc.
Hair and Scalp Specialists
41 WINTER ST. 6TH FLOOR BOSTON

Outdoor Sports -:- -:- -:- By TAD

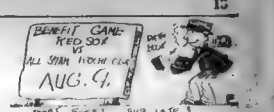
PLANE CRASH FAILS TO SCARE TUNNEY

By GENE TUNNEY,
World's Heavyweight Champion

Speaking [illegible] that [illegible] and [illegible] for me [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Hornsby, the Leading Hitter, Gets Plenty of Knocks Here in Boston

EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS



Bill Tilden Dropped From American Davis Cup Team

U.S. TEAM IS WRECKED BY BAN

Loss of Tilden on Eve of Match With Italy is Serious Blow win the Davis Cup next. I hereby apply for a job of training American Davis Cup members for the gruelling matches ahead."

Continued from Page 11.

TILDEN MAKES REPLY

Then he read this statement:

"I deny the charge of intent to violate either the letter or the spirit of the amateur rule of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, and state unreservedly that any articles which I wrote during the Wimbledon tournament were, to the best of my knowledge, straight comment articles and in no way an attempt to report a tournament in which I was a competitor. The articles, of course, are a matter of record.

"I consider that this is a deliberate misinterpretation of my articles and an attempt to embarrass President Colom and Chairman Wear. Two of the three disputed articles were out prior to the sailing of Wear and Collom from the United States. One of the articles was fully discussed in a committee meeting attended by them both, but no unfavorable comment was made by anyone present.

"It seems very strange that the same article was so much worse after Wear and Collom were two days at sea. I deeply regret the embarrassment occasioned Mr. Wear and Mr. Collom as well as to the team, but I am glad to say that all these gentlemen feel that there is no intent on my part to evade or violate the rule. Once more the gentlemen in the United States are interpreting my motives and once more incorrectly. I reiterate I have not, to the best of my knowledge, violated the spirit or the letter of the amateur rule. I have offered my services to Mr. Wear for practice for the team until the challenge round."

CHEERS FOR BIG BILL

Cheers greeted Tilden's offer to place himself at the disposition of the other members of the American team over which he has ruled for the last six months.

"Vive le grand Bill," Frenchmen roared.

"That's the right spirit," said Gillou to Tilden as he shook him warmly by the hand.

As the excitement reached its height, Frank Hunter, George Lott, John Hennessey and Wilbur Coen gathered about their deposed captain who Bill smiled sadly.

Meanwhile, Wear drafted the following cable addressed to the U. S. L. T. A. at New York.

"I hereby tender my resignation as chairman of the Davis cup committee, to take effect immediately upon arrival in the United States, of the American team. I also resign as a member of the Davis cup committee and of the advisory committee. The holding of a meeting in my absence of the committee of which I am chairman to rule after the alleged offense of Tilden in writing newspaper articles on July 7 and 8, when the matter could have been considered prior to my sailing on midnight on July 6, and my signing a brief total in this instance Tilden is being unjustly treated are the causes for my resignation.

"The action of the committee in demanding the withdrawal of Tilden at the last moment is incomprehensible to competing nations and makes us ridiculous in their eyes. The lack of confidence shown for Collom and myself is beyond understanding. We will play Lott and Hennessey in the doubles and Hunter and Hennessey in the singles."

Gillou told the Associated Press that France had made no representations concerning Tilden's newspaper activities at Wimbledon.

"The initiative for Tilden's disbarment did not come from France," he said. "We were the most surprised people in the world when this thing broke"

Every official pointed out that their federation permitted players to write newspaper articles without restriction. They even pointed out that Cochet's articles at Wimbledon appeared simultaneously with Tilden's.

Decision to Remove Tilden Unanimous, is Report

Philadelphia, July 19 (AP)—It was understood here today that the action of disqualifying William T. Tilden II. from playing in the Davis Cup competition carries with it suspension from further playing in amateur tennis unless his alleged infraction of the amateur rules

The meeting at which Tilden was taken out of the Davis Cup competition was held in New York last Tuesday night and the decision, it was understood was unanimous. It was also understood that members of this advisory and finance Davis Cup and amateur rules committees participated in the meeting

FENWAY PARK
Today at 3:00 P. M.
RED SOX vs. CLEVELAND
Seats at Horace Partridge's Liberty 6010

—BUT THE WATERS COME NOT FORTH

U. S. ATHLETES CHEER AT SIGHT OF LAND

Plymouth, Eng., July 19 (AP)—The last day on shipboard brought increasing restlessness for the members of the American Olympic team aboard the President Roosevelt.

The 268 runners, swimmers, fencers and other athletes greeted the first sight of European land, just before their ship reached here yesterday with cheers of relief after a week at sea, and began at once to make plans for their first workouts on land after they reach Amsterdam tomorrow morning.

Even before the first sight of Europe, arrangements were made for two post-Olympic meets for the members of the track and field team, one with an British team at Stamford Bridge, and another against a picked German team at Cologne.

At the same time others began laying plans to return to America by routes other than that the President Roosevelt will take bearing the largest part of the squad.

A squad of about 40 men will compete in the British meet with the Olympic games, taking part in five relay events, one team race and eight individual events.

For the Cologne meet only nine or eight or nine athletes will be chosen, principally from the ranks of the sprinters, who the Germans are especially anxious to see.

Eight members of the team received permission yesterday to remain in Europe after the departure of the rest to compete in meets on the continent and for sightseeing, while one, Robin Carr, will be allowed to leave for home ahead of the others.

The one open place on the American entry list which was sent out by radio was filled yesterday by the addition of William Axee of Baltimore to the entries for the 10,000 meter run.

Axee, who qualified for the marathon, may attempt to double up in the two longest races, depending on the final decision of the coaches. His nomination enables the American team to present an unbroken front with all of the places for every event filled.

The 22-year-old Baltimore youth is the youngest of the American marathon runners. His teammate Clarence DeMar, veteran of two Olympic marathons, is nearly twice as old, while Joie Ray, who also doubles in the 10,000 and marathon, is a youngster among the long distance runners, although he has been a leader among American speed sters for many years.

Debs to Keep Thin

New York, July 19 (AP)—Debutantes are to keep thin in the winter by playing squash. There will be two courts in the new clubhouse of the junior league which will cost $1,350,000.

MR. BOSTON

By Jack Conway

"DON'T weep too much about all the money you believe Tex Rickard and his 600 millionaires are going to lose on the Tunney-Heeney bout next Thursday night," orated Mr. Boston today.

"I have just got the low down on the finalicial end of the bout direct from Rickard through certain confidential sources.

"'If the bout draws $625,000 I will clear expenses,' said Tex. 'After that the show will be in the black, and Madison Square Garden Corporation will be making money.'

"You ask: 'What about Tunney's guarantee of $525,000?'

"Gather around, promise to keep what I tell you a secret and I'll give you the inside slant on the story of the $525,000 guarantee. In short, Tunney is not getting any guarantee. He is boxing on a percentage basis. He will get 50 per cent of what the show draws, while Heeney will receive 12½ per cent of the receipts.

"Here is how the thing happened: Tunney's original contract with Rickard called for him to be paid off with a $525,000 guarantee. The champion also had the privilege of accepting 50 per cent of the gate.

"The New York Commission then named Sharkey, Risko and Heeney as the challengers. Either Sharkey or Risko would have been a better drawing card than Heeney. But Gene wanted the New Zealand heavyweight as an opponent, as he figured he was made to order for him, an easy mark for a left hand.

"Rickard finally consented to let Tunney have Heeney provided he waived his guarantee and fought on a percentage basis. Gene agreed to this arrangement, as he felt that the show would draw $1,000,000, anyway.

Jack Conway

"With a gate of only $625,000 Tunney would receive $312,500 while Heeney would get $78,125. The Yankees would pull down $42,500 more under their agreement calling for 10 per cent of the gate. This would leave Rickard with $174,375 for preliminaries, overhead and taxes.

"In the event the show draws $1,000,000 Rickard's profit will be $100,000.

"The promoter's profit on big shows is not as great as the public believes especially when the main bout performers cut up between 40 and 45 per cent of the receipts.

"The Tunney-Heeney show is certain to draw more than $625,000 and so Rickard cannot blow money on the championship event.

"SINCE the Dempsey-Carpentier mill, champions have always demanded a percentage privilege along with a guarantee. The title holder one usually got 50 per cent and the challenger from 10 to 15 per cent.

"All this was last September Tunney took 40 per cent so that Rickard could meet Dempsey's demands. This percentage gave Gene $900,000 as his end of the purse.

"The heavyweight racket has got to a point where a champion can become a millionaire after two fifty defenses.

"Tunney's biggest money shot was the $800,000 he received for last time Tunney in Philadelphia. Jack also made a financial cleanup last year, receiving $250,000 from the Sharkey bout and $450,000 out of his meeting with Tunney.

"With such tremendous purses in sight, it is probably natural that hundreds of youngsters, blessed with weight and a punch, are seeking fame in the heavyweight division."

ERNIE SCHAAF TO BATTLE WINNER

By JACK CONWAY

ERNIE SCHAAF, fresh from his decisive victory over Pat McCarthy, has agreed to battle the winner of the 10-round bout between Jim Maloney and Henry Lamar which will top an Argonne A. A. show at Braves Field on next Monday night.

In carrying every round in his tussle with McCarthy Schaaf proved he is his old self once more. Ernie was operated upon for tonsilitis and for a growth in his nose following his match with Big Boy Peterson. The operation cleared up Schaaf's breathing apparatus and as a result he was able to step 10 rounds with McCarthy at a terrific clip.

Maloney continues to rule a favorite for his meeting with Lamar, but it isn't any cinch that shamus will win, Lamar has a slashing left hand, while he keeps moving around the ring at all times. Maloney will find it difficult scoring with clean blows.

Lamar is training at Bradford N. H., while Maloney is entrenched at Wareham.

Eddie Callahan has been added to Maloney's string of sparring partners.

IN the second fun-runner, Joe Acetta, lightweight champion of Rhode Island, will clash with San Filipo of New York, who has not met defeat here.

In the eight-rounders, Jimmy Amato White of the North End will take on Johnny Ciccio of Providence while Phil Flanagan of Malden will meet Young Granberg of Worcester in a return bout.

In the six-rounder, Tony Marino of the North End will meet Packie O'Leary of South Boston. In the four-round bouts Eddie Parks of Charlestown opposes Leo Morgan of Waltham, while Reg Ben Burlap of Westerly R. I. clashes with Joe Cosmo of Cape Cod.

JACK SHARKEY, Jim Maloney, Honeyboy Finnegan, Joe Moate and other ring stars have agreed to appear at the athletic carnival to be staged at the Medford high school field next Tuesday at 5:30 p. m., for the Francis Gilleand Fund. Festivities will be opened by a ball game between the Market Terminal team and the St. Joseph's outfit. There will also be relay races.

Farrell Proved His Gameness in Big Tilt

By Johnny Farrell

American Open Champion

NATURALLY I take pardonable pride in possessing for the first time the title of American open champion.

It is gratifying to know that you are the sole survivor of an enormous field of golfers that numbered more than 1100 at the time of the sectional qualifying rounds two weeks prior to battle of the fittest at Olympia Fields.

And though I exploit help but be keenly appreciative of the an unsual distinction my skill with wood and iron had brought me, it is not of this that I have been thinking most.

It is knowing that I have convinced myself it trust those many other people who had lost faith in me have been convinced, too that I had after all what my good friend, Eddie Freyne, so politely calls intestinal fortitude. In pugilistic they call it "guts."

In my own mind I knew that I'd not wilt when the battle waxed hottest, but I was ever grievously aware of the belittling fact that people thought that I did.

Perhaps they were justified. I had verged to the top so often, only to fall back among the also rans, that it was natural that they got this impression.

THIS belief among golf followers indubitably shook my confidence, but it did not weaken my determination. If anything, it served to make me more resolute.

I wanted to win at Olympic Fields if only to convince these doubting Thomases that Johnny Farrell was a man as unafraid as any of those others who had at one time or another won a major title.

I consider that I achieved this purpose two-fold. At the moment that Bob Jones came in to the 72nd hole with a par of 294 at Chicago I was most disappointed, but later on I was rather pleased that he had.

In the first place I had gotten myself on a level with one of the greatest, medal players that ever lived and, secondly, it gave me the opportunity of meeting the Georgian in a deadly serious contest, an ambition that I had long nurtured.

The playoff of the tie at 36 holes was a fair to a middy competition, the total number of strokes counting, virtually amounted to match play with the personal element strongly injected. Therefore, I got an extra kick out of winning what was paramount to my first match with the great amateur.

In golf players are often heedlessly accused of being deficient in courage when as a matter of fact they are strongly endowed with that attribute. They may have sensitive nervous systems that get out of kilter when the at no grows great.

Copyright, 1928, King Features Synd., Inc.

Fall Conquers

To fourth regular dinghy race at the Scituate Yacht Club was sailed over a five-mile triangular course in the inside harbor with a moderate southwest breeze. S. Fall scored a two-second victory over N. Fuller.

SALE GOLF SALE

Last Three Days of SMASHING
PRICE REDUCTIONS
So you can now play golf at

UNUSUALLY LOW COST
Don't Miss This Wonderful Golf Opportunity

GOLF CLUBS

"TRUE SHOT" Woods and hickory shaft. Guaranteed. Reg. 1.75. Now 1.15

"DEVONSHIRE" Woods and Irons—hickory shaft Guaranteed. Reg. 2.00 and 2.25. Now 1.40

"GLEANEAGLE" Woods and Irons—hickory shaft Guaranteed. Reg. 3.00. Now 1.65

"STEWART" Woods and Irons. Odd lot. Each 1.95

STEEL SHAFT Brassies Odd lot. $ 60 value. Each 2.95

STEEL SHAFT "Checker" Irons and woods. Guaranteed. Reg. $ 50 to $ 75. Now 3.75

BRINE'S MATCHED SETS—REDUCED 30 PER CENT

GOLF SET
Last three days at the SPECIAL PRICE
Wilson's Popular "Par" Set
Shipment Just Received From Factory

Four guaranteed hickory shaft clubs Midiron, mashie, putter and driver or brassie. Three steel-stay, canvas bags with ball pocket and aluminum bottom. List price 12.50. Now, for one week only
Complete Set 6.90

GOLF BALLS

Dreadnaught Golf Balls, $4.00 value, per dozen 4.90

Defiance Golf Balls, $9.00 value, per dozen 7.45

REPAINTED GOLF BALLS

No. 4, per dozen 1.85

No. 1 per dozen 2.60

No. 2, per dozen 3.25

Rewashed Golf Balls, per dozen 3.75

GOLF HOSE

COTTON GOLF HOSE—35 dozen. All sizes and a variety of colors. 1.00 value.
Per pair 59c
3 Pair for 1.50

ALL WOOL GOLF HOSE—All sizes and colors.
1.95 to 14.00
Reduced 30 per cent

No. 1 BAG

No. 1 Bag. Tan canvas bag with ball pocket and aluminum bottom. $4.50 value, now 3.15

All Other Golf Bags Reduced 20 Per Ct.

Special Reductions on Linen Knickers—Wool Knickers, Golf Sweaters, Golf Shoes, Caps, Hats, Grey Flannel Shirts, White Broadcloth Shirts, Etc.

SUNDAY BAGS

Sunday Bag. White or Tan canvas, ball pocket and zipper. $1.25 value, now 85c

Odd Lot of 5-inch Canvas Sunday Bags with metal bottom. Value $3.00. Sale Price 1.95

BIG BATHING SUIT SALE—for Men, Women and Children NOW ON!

JAMES W. BRINE CO.
ATHLETIC OUTFITTERS
SINCE 1870
Summer St.
BRINES 92 CORNER

Boston Store Hours—
8:30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Saturdays
8:30 A. M. to 1:30 P. M.

EVERY day the American publishes two thrilling and interesting stories by authors of recognized standing. Here you can find the latest serial fiction published in generous installments each day.

Magazine Page

Martha Lee Tells of Feeding Children

DOCTORS are of one accord in their opinion that, for the normal child, the promiscuous eating between meals habit is one to be distinctly discouraged.

From the very first days after birth babies are now up to upon regular feeding schedules, and the whole trend of scientific practice is to make them regular in all of their habits, especially in their food habits. As babies grow older their feeding hours are lengthened, usually from the age of two years, or earlier, every effort is made to establish the three-meals-a-day habit.

Martha Lee

What children eat between meals is equally important as what they eat at the table. As a matter of fact, more harm can be done through unwise eating between meals than can be overcome by wise diets at meal time.

The delicate digestive systems of children should not be required to work overtime. But a more deplorable result of eating between meals is that children who indulge in this habit usually consume candy or cake or other things which destroy their appetite for the more nourishing foods that they should eat at meal time.

If your child gets hungry between meals, give him a glass of milk to drink, or, if plain milk does not tempt him, make him one of the delicious chocolate malted milk drinks that are so popular now with both young people and adults.

Milk does not tax the digestive system. It is more easily digested than any other food, and it has a nutritive value above any other single food or drink.

There are several malted milk and chocolate malted milk powders on the market out of which you can make many nourishing and delicious drinks for your family at an inconsequential cost. Almost no labor is involved in the home mixing of these drinks.

Simply make a paste of the malted milk powder and a little cold milk, and then stir this into the remainder of the milk. Or mix the drink in a cocktail shaker, putting in first the milk and then the malted milk powder on top, and then shaking.

Here are several recipes for such drinks:

Chocolate Foam—Pour into a cocktail shaker one cup of very cold milk, and two tablespoons crushed ice. Make a paste of two teaspoons of chocolate malted milk powder with a little milk, and pour into the cold milk. Add a few grains of salt and a few drops of vanilla. Shake for several minutes until well blended. Then add one tablespoon whipped cream and shake until frothy. Serve at once. Chocolate or vanilla ice cream may be used instead of the whipped cream and the malted milk powder. The ice cream may be put into the drink with all the other ingredients before shaking.

Egg Malted Whip—Pour into a mixing bowl one cup of cold milk. Make a paste by mixing two teaspoons of chocolate malted milk powder with a little cold milk. Add to the milk, season with a sprinkle of cinnamon. Add one whole raw egg, and beat with an egg beater until the drink is frothy and thoroughly blended.

Serve at once, topped with whipped cream. This drink is very nourishing, and is especially beneficial for children who are inclined to be anaemic or for invalids. It is also a delicious dessert to serve at parties.

Marshmallow Malted Milk—Scald three-fourths cup of milk. Add to it a paste made by stirring two teaspoons of chocolate malted milk powder into a little cold milk. Stir until well blended. Pour one tablespoon of marshmallow whip into the bottom of a cup, and pour over it the chocolate malted milk. Stir and serve at once.

Chocolate Peppermint Shake—For the peppermint milkshake use one of the chocolate syrups that are made without the malt flavor. Mix one or more tablespoons of chocolate syrup with three-fourths glass of milk. Into tablespoons crushed ice and one drop of oil of peppermint. Shake well in a fruit jar or in a cocktail shaker. This is a delightfully cooling drink.

Faithfully yours,
MARTHA LEE.

Well-Designed Beach Costumes

A beach-set of heavy linen crash, gaily flowered, consists of coat, pillow and rug. The coat is worn over a Patou pajama of blue flat crepe. Pink and dark blue silk crepe is sewn together in a smart design, typical of this briefly cut bathing costume made by Mary Nowitzky this season. (Upper middle) Blue-pink silk jersey, with bands of darker pink, orange and blue. (Right) White jersey top, red monogram, blue jersey skirt.

Reproduced by special arrangement with Harper's Bazar.

Mineral Requirements for Health

THE most important mineral substances required in food are the salts of iron, iodine, phosphorus, calcium, manganese, potash and soda. Iron is required for the blood. The red coloring matter carries the oxygen all over the body.

About Danger Point for Girls

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX,
An Authority on the Problems of Love and Marriage.

MERCEDES has written me a letter—a sweet heart-broken letter—which she does not wish printed. In this indirect reply I have changed name and circumstances just sufficiently to protect her.

Mercedes is a nice girl in every sense of the word. There can be no doubt about that. Her letter is essentially clean-minded. Her parents are foreign-born. Her mother died three years ago. Her father is devoted to her, although "rather strict."

"I appeal to you as though you were my mother. Please, please advise me," begs Mercedes.

Then she explains that she is in love with the "man of her dreams." She believes that he also is in love with her, although he has not yet asked her to be his wife. He considers her pretty and sweet and in short all that is suggested by her nickname among her friends—"innocence."

Now Mercedes has not committed any secret crime to account for her unhappiness this last year. Nevertheless, her conscience does trouble her, and she is worried as to whether her sweetheart will learn the facts and condemn her.

Last summer a school acquaintance invited Mercedes to visit at her country home, and much to Mercedes' astonishment her father consented to her going, feeling that the change would do her good. "At her school friend's home, Mercedes found herself in the midst of a very gay crowd. Drinking, smoking, necking were the regular program for herself, her friend and the college boys who visited them every evening.

Mercedes did not drink or smoke, but she necked because she thought it was "sort of expected" of her. Sometimes with one young man, sometimes with another, always against her secret conscience she necked during the long "fourscore" joy rides she took with her hostess in her car.

After two weeks she returned to the "goodness and shelter of my father's home," and the episode closed. She realized the flapper friend was not her type, and the two gradually drifted apart.

Mercedes wonders whether her sweetheart would understand. She wonders whether she tempted the young men who necked with her and is responsible for them. She wonders whether she is "unworthy of a good man's love" because for a brief two weeks she necked freely, making herself cheap, although "nothing actually wrong happened."

Dear Mercedes, I hope you will stop worrying and tormenting yourself because of your foolish indiscretion a year ago. You are, indeed, as you suggest in your letter, making a mountain out of a mole hill.

Every worthwhile man likes to look up to the woman he marries. That is just as true in this "Age" as it ever was.

I know you would be glad and proud, now that you are in love with a good man who loves you, if you could tell him that you had not ever cheapened yourself by this pastime of promiscuous lovemaking, even for a short period.

But who is one hundred per cent perfect? Do not for one instant consider yourself bad because you were foolish and indiscreet on that one occasion. Simply resolve not to repeat the same mistake. Enjoy yourself and your new-found affection with all the light-hearted happiness to which your nineteen years is entitled.

When you become engaged, if your fiance asks you, tell him frankly about the little episode of the petting. I am sure you will find that he will forgive you if he really loves you and will continue to look up to you as a wonderful, sweet, good girl.

There may have been a time—though I doubt it—when our Puritanical ancestors thought a girl wicked because of a kiss or two stolen in the moonlight. Modern girls who are reaching out for the high, fine, wonderful types of harmony and love avoid cheapening promiscuous petting, believe in the value of reserve and control, do not make a vulgar pastime of lovemaking.

But when a girl consistently tries to express her best self, on all occasions, she is proud and glad that all the most fastidious of modern men will require, if he is consistent, of the girl he has chosen for sweetheart and wife.

Copyright, 1928, International Feature Service, Inc.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELLIA BEECKMAN

A Change of Name

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Your column has been extremely interesting and helpful to me and I wish you would be kind enough to answer a few questions.

1—We learned in school to put a comma after each item on the extreme right in the heading, and I have always tried to be very exact in all about them, but my sister says she is being taught not to use them. Now, which is really correct?

2—Is there any rule for the color of ink used in letter-writing? I suppose conservative colors are best in ink as well as letter-paper. Are they not? If that is the case my violet ink is "out."

3—What I really want to ask you is a problem that certainly has me worried. Well—one year after I was married I got a position in a department store. I was known as Mrs. Cornellia Beeckman. It isn't pleasant to sit opposite or with a person who takes a chicken bone in his or her fingers. Such a style of eating "ain't pretty."

ing, and running the return address into the address itself that, if your handwriting is large, I think that the back of the envelope is the better in this case.

2. You should not send cards of any kind. Write a note of thanks, on letter-paper, and make your note personal, articulate and appreciative. Don't use "ready-made" cards for this.

CHICKEN BONES

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Can one pick chicken bones with fingers if at a hotel or at a dinner party at home?

NO! Chicken bones are obviously in a class of "moist" foods, and therefore may not be taken in the fingers (unless one wishes to do this when one is eating alone and therefore is unobserved). It isn't pleasant to sit opposite or with a person who takes a chicken bone in his or her fingers. Such a style of eating "ain't pretty."

Namco BRAND

CRABMEAT

"The World's Finest"

From the cold, crisp waters of the Northern Pacific

Rich in Iodine contents

Delicious for salads

All good grocers have it

Periscope! Into Jaws of Death and Winning

By JOHN KNOX
CHAPTER 20.

BACK in 1833, when Congress was all excited over the war with Spain, they authorized the building of the "coast torpedo vessel" Stewart. She was to be 158 feet long and displaced 420 tons. She had a couple of three-inch guns and four six-pounders. By 1917 she was quite an antique. Built for coast defense 20 years before, she certainly had no business crossing the Atlantic and looking for trouble in 1917—but ships were scarce and everything that could carry a gun was sent over to prop up our slipping side.

The Stewart was weighed down by heavy tradition. She was named after Rear Admiral Charles Stewart of the old Navy, one time commander of the frigate Constitution in the war of 1813 and rejoicing, with his ship, in the nickname of "Old Ironsides." She was a proud ship to carry so great a name, but she did her best although her tonnage was only a fraction of the Constitution, built a hundred years before her.

A good old boat she was, but hardly in the class to fight submarines and the swift destroyers of World War days with their 50-inch guns of triple the range of her old pieces. When our part of the big war began, the navy department didn't want to hurt the feelings of the old Stewart so they made a sort of nightwatchman out of her. First they sent her down to patrol off the entrance of the Panama Canal, a long way from the scene of war activity, but in those first days of the war none could tell what might happen. Then they sent her through the Canal to stand by her in a lurid hour a year later.

Along in July, 1917 she turned up with the Whipple and the Truxton at the League Island Navy Yard in Philadelphia, where they worked her over for a few weeks and got her ready for more real service. Then for some months she patrolled up and down our Atlantic coast, manned by a crew whose eyes were longingly turned eastward. It wasn't until January, 1918, that the demands of the war god started the Stewart on her way across the Atlantic. She made the trip in three jumps—Bermuda, Azores and Brest. At the French port she took a week out for repairs and then got busy on the monotonous duty of escorting convoys into and out of the harbor of Brest. She was near the war but wasn't in it.

All this time she was commanded by Lieut. Harvey S. Haislip, who wasn't any antique, no matter what his ship might be. His and his crew kept the old ship shined and polished and ready for whatever events might befall them. Kipling says that ships have souls. Perhaps in the long watches of the night while she nursed French coasters up the Bay of Biscay, the Stewart drew her funnels a bit straighter and dreamed of days when the men whose name she bore had sailed his tall ship to the tune of roaring broadside and rolling guns, and perhaps she dreamed of battles in which she would sustain the tradition and send a haughty foe sliding down to the ooze.

It was dreary work though, this plodding up and down the Bay and out a few miles from shore just to be one of the many guards of sixty cargo boats. There was no excitement for the officers and crew and no food for the tradition. Still, it was wartime and one did what one was told to do and forgot dreams in the daily grind of work. Not much of the glory of war but maybe that would come.

The old ship's engines were good and they were spinning merrily on the night of the 17th of April, 1918, as she darted between the convoys in Quiberon Bay, a dent in the Biscay coast of France. Old friends were near. The Whipple and the Truxton, some yards close by in the dark. She was nearly 10 o'clock and there were a score of merchantmen in the two convoys to be shepherded. The northbound convoy was under way and the ships of the southbound convoy were riding at anchor, lights out, awaiting the dawn.

Suddenly there was a blaze of light from one of the anchored ships—a urgent flash that made the harbor light as day. "Like the burst of a Lashlight powder, terribly magnified," wrote Lieutenant Haislip. A batch blew off the ship—and then another and another.

The flame mounted higher and higher until it was a great volcano, 400 feet high. The stricken ship melted and fell apart under the eyes of the horrified watchers. It was the Florence H., loaded with 4000 tons of smokeless powder from Dupont and consigned to the French Government.

The powder was packed in metal boxes, each encased in a wooden case. The cases didn't explode. They burned. The volcano grew higher and vomited a shower of blazing powder cases which covered the whole area of the harbor. Most of the bay that had been so peaceful a few moments before.

"No a man will escape from that hell!" exclaimed an officer of one of the sailing destroyers. As the powder boxes fell into the water they blazed with a hissing roar like giant blowtorches, sending screaming flames 20 feet into the air. The other ships were hauling up their anchors to escape the hurricane of fire.

White eyes were still dazzled by the first burst of flame, a dark shape, throwing a great wave from her bows dashed into the sea. Lieut. Haislip had voices crying for help from the inferno and he drove his ship straight at the blazing wreck. The old ship's scarlet moment had come.

Right under the stern of the volcano Harvey Haislip drove the Stewart. The gun crews dressed and fell from her sides. The depth charges and torpedos on her deck were too hot to touch—but there were living men in the water.

Lifelines were over the sides and dripping figures clambered up the side. The Stewart's lifeboat shot into the water with men scrambling for the oars and more swimmers were snatched from death while little curls of smoke rose from the deckplanks of the Stewart. There wasn't much time left.

One man struggled feebly, surrounded by flaming powder boxes. Jess Covington, cook of the Stewart, and Frank M. Upton, quartermaster, saw him. In a flash both dived into the sea to the rescue. They got their man and dragged him aboard as the lifeboat came back with its load. The crew cheered as Covington clambered back on deck, the water sluicing off his skin.

Twelve minutes in the fire-swept area and the Stewart drew away for a breath of cool air; she had every swimmer in sight on board. The Whipple had driven into the blazing wreckage at some distance from the Stewart and she, too, had a cargo of rescued men. She, too, lowered her boats, which pushed into the area of destruction in search of survivors. Her motor dory, with an exposed gasoline fuel tank, went in after three men clinging to one of the Florence H.'s boats and fresh explosions shut the rescuers inside a ring of fire.

Lieut. J. E. Ware, commander of the Whipple, in his route his unemotional report, "discovered that the Whipple's motor dory had become jammed between the burning wreckage and exploding powder cases which threw flames of probably fifteen feet in radius. Realizing the danger these men were subject to, I immediately ran the bow of the Whipple into the floating wreckage, which covered an area of about a half mile, in order to make it possible for the dory to extricate itself and the lifeboat with the survivors. Continued steaming around among the wreckage inspecting boats and debris for any further signs of life. After completing this task, steamed around the sunken ship and finding that no more assistance could be rendered, ma chored in previous berth."

The Truxton's boat rescued one survivor who was surrounded by flames and going down for the last time.

The Whipple led the list with 16 rescues, nine by her whaleboat and seven by her motor dory, which drove straight into the fire with a wet tarpaulin over her gasoline tank. Five of the rescued men were badly burned and one slightly burned. None could have lived more than a few minutes unless help had come and it wasn't a pleasant task that threatened them.

The death prowlers with German submarines which punctuated life on our patrol boats were varied with heroic incidents like these where courage of a sublime order was exhibited.

During these thrilling moments none of the patrol ships was idle. We'll read their story next.

Copyright, 1928, by John F. Dille Co.

Tomorrow: Read how the escort ships risked destruction to give the survivors of the explosion a fighting chance for their lives—one of the greatest stories of cold heroism in the history of the navy.

CAIN'S Mayonnaise

Lends added relish to those good old home baked beans Saturday night or Sunday morning.

A vise for every need; 10c, 25c, 45c and 65c

Home Hints

To clean a clock. Take the clock from the case, putting carefully aside all screws, etc., and removing pendulum. Wind the works and place in boiling water and soda. Continue re-winding till the works seem perfectly free of dust and dirt. Lift the clock out of the water by means of a string, and place near a fire to prevent rusting. When the clock has run down return to its case. If oil is necessary apply a few drops of the best machine oil.

JUST SEE HOW WHITE—YET I DIDN'T SCRUB OR BOIL

ALL MY NEIGHBORS SAY "THE SAME ABOUT RINSO I MUST TRY IT

Whiter washes are easy ....this safe way

SCRUBBING and boiling are out of date! The whitest washes are fast and mild and rinsed.

Rinso's thick, soapy suds loosen dirt and stains like magic. This gentle way saves hands — saves clothes.

Rinso is marvelous in washers; the makers of 34 leading washing machines endorse it.

You can trust your finer comons and linens to Rinso's gentle care.

It's economical, too. Its suds are so thick and lasting — a little goes far. And Rinso is all you need—no hot soaps, chips or powders. Get it today—and see the difference.

Rinso

The granulated soap —soaks clothes whiter

Three-Minute Trips

By TEMPLE MANNING

"Remember, remember,
The fifth of November,
The gunpowder treason and plot;
There is no reason
Why the gunpowder treason
Should ever be forgot!"

ON November 5, 1605, a great gunpowder plot was discovered in England. Roughly, under the leadership of Guy Fawkes, a group of malcontents planned to blow up the Parliament House and destroy the city of London, in revolt against the Protestants. The plot was wrongly attributed to the entire Catholic party, but it was circumvented and the conspirators, including Guy Fawkes, were tried and executed.

Ever since, November 5 has been celebrated in England as Guy Fawkes Day.

A special service for the day was in the Book of Common Prayer, although today this has been abolished. But even to this day, at the opening of the House of Parliament the initial ceremony includes the march of the Yeomen of the Guards through the cellars of the houses in search of gunpowder. And of course, the burning of Guy Fawkes in effigy is a pastime that is celebrated on every street corner, and in all the schools.

Better Bran Flakes

try these BETTER bran flakes

POUR on the cream or milk. Your first taste tells you that these wonderful bran flakes made by Kellogg of Battle Creek are the best you ever ate. You get the peppy flavor of PEP. The nourishment from the wheat. And just enough bran to be mildly laxative.

Everybody will like these better bran flakes. Wonderful for children. Makes them peppy. Delicious served with milk or cream. Don't put off trying them. At grocers—in the red-and-green package. Crisp and delicious. The bran flakes you've been looking for!

Pep Bran Flakes are mildly laxative. ALL-BRAN—another Kellogg product—is 100% bran and guaranteed to relieve constipation.

Kellogg's PEP BRAN FLAKES

Kellogg's PEP BRAN FLAKES WITH OTHER PARTS OF WHEAT

Better Bran Flakes

6188

LADIES' HOUSE DRESS (FOR MATURE FIGURES WITH SLENDER HIPS)

6188. This is an excellent model for gingham, dimity, print, linen or percale. It will also be pleasing in cotton or wool crepe, or in tub silk or voile. The shaped front is especially adapted to larger figures and the plaits lend attractive fulness without expressing added width. The open neck is smart and comfortable. As here pictured the dress was made of printed voile with facings of plain voile. Rigoted lace and with facings of sateen would also be attractive.

This pattern is cut in 8 sizes: 36, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52 inches bust measure. To make the dress as illustrated in the large view for a 46-inch size will require 4 yards of 36-inch material together with ⅝ yard of contrasting material for the plastron, and facings on collar and cuffs. The width of the dress at the lower edge with plaits extended is 2¼ yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE SPRING AND SUMMER 1928 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

Address all orders to Boston American Pattern Dept., Box 188, Times Plaza Station, Brooklyn, N. Y.

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

I would like to know when addressing an envelope if you put your name and address in the upper left corner or on the back.

2. After receiving several birthday gifts what kind of cards should I send to the giver and each thanking for the gifts?

A FRIEND.

THE post-office authorities suggest that we write the return address in the upper left corner of the front of the envelope. So evidently this is considered the more convenient for the mail man, and he is the one to be considered. However, so often the means secured

DON'T miss Dr. Crane's meaty articles on the editorial page. They are comments on up-to-date topics for PEOPLE WHO THINK.

Fiction Page

This Day in Our History

THE U. S. superdreadnought Wyoming on July 19, 1912 made 22.045 knots per hour on her standardization trial. This was the largest and fastest battleship afloat at the time with 12-inch guns.

Money Love

by BEATRICE BURTON

Author of "SALLY'S SHOULDERS" "The HOLLYWOOD GIRL"

Which Power Is the Greater, Money or Love?

CHAPTER XV

PAT grinned sheepishly, and actually blushed as he began to open a tin of sardines with his pen knife. He kept his eyes on it as he answered Lily's question.

"Why, I don't know how to tell you who Elizabeth Erts is. She's just—Elizabeth Erts," he said awkwardly. "She's a trained nurse and a great friend of Sadye Jetterson's. An awfully nice, sensible sort of girl."

"Yes, but that's not what I want to know," Lily fixed him with her large, luminous gray eyes. "What I want to know is how she knows enough about me to talk me over with those Jettersons. She's never seen me—she doesn't know me!"

"She's seen you," said Pat, pouring coffee from the thermos bottle into two cups. "You remember a girl who was talking to me one day when you came up to my cab? A short little girl with big blue eyes?"

Lily nodded. "Yes, I remember," she said, and then asked sarcastically: "She has beautiful big blue eyes, has she, Pat? You've noticed them, haven't you?"

She remembered how she had asked him questions about the small plain girl the day she had found her talking to him, and how he had refused to answer them. She remembered how jealous she had been that day—and she was jealous now in just the same way.

"She's a great friend of yours as well as the Jettersons, isn't she?" she asked, and Pat nodded.

A man very often is as transparent as a sheet of glass to a woman—particularly if he happens to be in love with her, as Pat France was with Lily. And as she saw through him without half trying

"You've been going around with her for a long time haven't you?" she wanted to know. "You and she and the Jettersons must have had jolly times together—the four of you."

"We have," said Pat, miserably and then came out with the whole truth, as if he were tired of being cross-questioned. "And I'd probably have married her, if I hadn't happened to see you that rainy day in Albemarle street. We'd be going around together for nearly two years—she and I."

"And have you gone around with her much since then?"

Pat shook his handsome head, with its crisp waves of unruly hair. "I've never telephoned her since, or made a date with her," he answered, huskily. "That's how she happened to come down to see me that day when you saw us. . . . She wondered what was the matter with me. Thought I must be sick or dead or something. I'd forgotten all about her, to tell the truth."

Lily studied him with narrowed eyes as he broke a roll in two, buttered it and ate it hungrily. "Would you go back to her if I married Sinley Drummond?"

Pat shook his head. "No, I wouldn't; but you're going to marry Drummond right enough," he said bitterly. "It's the thing for you to do, and you know it—just as I know it."

there? But there's no use in quarrelling about them."

They got into the car and headed for home.

"I suppose two people from two different walks of life have married before now, and lived very happily," Lily said, sitting close to him with her hands locked on his shoulder, as she looked up at him. "If two people loved each other enough. Little things like cigarette smoking or pink stockings with black dresses wouldn't make any difference. They'd get along somehow, without much friction, no matter what argument came up—"

She stopped, let out a little cry, and turned in her seat to look back at a car that had just passed them on the other side of the road.

"We goofs! That was Mother and Mrs. Cain," she cried. "And she saw us. She saw me sitting here with my head all but on your shoulder! Up here in the front seat! Good grief."

Pat smiled. "What if she did?" he asked. "She knows you and I took the car and the picnic basket away. You can bet that Carrie told her everything about us that she could think of. . . . And, anyway, where's your courage? An hour or two ago you were ready to marry me today and let the rest of the world go by, Lily."

Lily climbed back into the rear seat. "Yes, and I'd do it now, too!" she declared firmly. "But I'm not going to be scolded and questioned and lectured about you around the house. Either I marry you and get away or I stay here and behave myself, from now on."

"I'm leaving on Saturday, anyway," Pat said. "So I won't be helping you to misbehave very much longer. I'm going to break the glad news to your mother this afternoon."

The skies darkened for Lily as he spoke. . . . He was going away on Saturday, and there would be nothing ahead of her but Staley Drummond and marriage for years and years on top of years.

They stopped at the house and she left him, without a word, at the front steps.

From the rear window of the upstairs hall she watched him sit in the automobile cushion on the grass in the back yard. He took out his little pipe and filled it again. She watched his fingers as they moved . . . She loved his strong, capable hands, with their blunt, straight-cut finger-tips. She loved the way his shoulders curved under his coat and the way his head was set on them. She knew that she loved everything about him as she never was going to love anyone again, no matter how long she lived.

She went into her own room, sighing as she went.

Carrie was cleaning it. A dustpan lay in the middle of the floor and the contents of her dressing table drawers were piled on the bed. The drawers, themselves, had been washed and were standing on the balcony outside the front windows in the sun.

Carrie was leaning against the dresser, holding something in her hands, looking at it closely. Lily saw that it was Pat's identification card, with his picture upon it.

"You give that to me!" she cried, and snatched it out of the maid's hands.

Copyright, 1928, Central Press Association

Tomorrow—Lily has a bad session with her mother because of her love affair with Pat.

Nancy Decides That She Must Discover More About John Blair

"Would you mind working in a factory?"

"You're the sweetest girl I've ever seen."

Lily Placed Her Warm Cheek Against His; He Seized Her

"Do you want me ?" Lily sat down on the grass beside him and put her warm, flushed face near his and her arm around him. She was perfectly frank and unashamed in her love for him.

And then he turned suddenly and seized her in his arms, holding her so close that it was hard for her to breathe. His kissed her and kissed her again.

He stopped for a second—long enough to mutter, "This is how I want you to marry him!" Then he kissed her again with rough tenderness all over her face and her hair and her neck, and Lily lay back in his arms and thought that Sinley Drummond's kisses and bow cold they had left her, always.

"If can't marry him, Pat—not if you want me," she said when he had let her go, and they sat looking at each other, their hands clasped on the fresh young grass that spread around them in a carpet of living green.

"You can't marry me, either, I can see that—more plainly now than ever before." Pat told her after a long pause. "No matter how much we care about each other, Lily, there are things that would always keep us from being happy."

"What?"

Pat laughed. "Well, things like Sadye Jetterson's clothes. You don't like the way she dresses, and so you call her terrible and wild-looking. But to me, Sadye Jetterson is the salt of the earth. . . . Inca a wonderful housekeeper, she's crazy about her husband and her children. She has the most hospitable house you ever saw. It's a sort of second home to me, and the dinners and apple pie you'd have to see lots of if you were married to me."

Lily laid her head gently on the heel of her pink-and-white slipper

"I shouldn't have said what I did about the women. She's probably just as nice as you say she is. . . . And Pat, you talk as if I were a snob. I'm not. I fell in love with you when you were in a chauffeur's uniform. I'm in love with you now when you're in a chauffeur's uniform. I'm in love with you the same if you were in a convict's stripes"

Pat took out his little French briar pipe and began to fill it. He stared down into the bowl as if he were reading a sand-diviner reading a future in its tobacco-scented depths.

"Lily," he remarked, slowly and thoughtfully, "but after we'd been married for a while, and all the novelty was gone from me, how would you like being married to a poor mechanic who worked all day in filthy clothes, and came home to cabs and touring cars, and came home at night with grease on his overalls and under his nails? Who couldn't take you anywhere but to the picture show or over to the Jettersons to play cards? . . . Sinley Drummond and his cars and that big house of his would look pretty slick to you then, eh, Sister?"

Lily Placed Her Warm Cheek Against His; He Seized Her

"Do you want me ?" Lily sat down on the grass beside him and put her warm, flushed face near his and her arm around him. She was perfectly frank and unashamed in her love for him.

And then he turned suddenly and seized her in his arms, holding her so close that it was hard for her to breathe. His kissed her and kissed her again.

He stopped for a second—long enough to mutter, "This is how I want you to marry him!" Then he kissed her again with rough tenderness all over her face and her hair and her neck, and Lily lay back in his arms and thought that Sinley Drummond's kisses and bow cold they had left her, always.

"If can't marry him, Pat—not if you want me," she said when he had let her go, and they sat looking at each other, their hands clasped on the fresh young grass that spread around them in a carpet of living green.

"You can't marry me, either, I can see that—more plainly now than ever before." Pat told her after a long pause. "No matter how much we care about each other, Lily, there are things that would always keep us from being happy."

"What?"

Pat laughed. "Well, things like Sadye Jetterson's clothes. You don't like the way she dresses, and so you call her terrible and wild-looking. But to me, Sadye Jetterson is the salt of the earth. . . . Inca a wonderful housekeeper, she's crazy about her husband and her children. She has the most hospitable house you ever saw. It's a sort of second home to me, and the dinners and apple pie you'd have to see lots of if you were married to me."

Lily laid her head gently on the heel of her pink-and-white slipper

"I shouldn't have said what I did about the women. She's probably just as nice as you say she is. . . . And Pat, you talk as if I were a snob. I'm not. I fell in love with you when you were in a chauffeur's uniform. I'm in love with you now when you're in a chauffeur's uniform. I'm in love with you the same if you were in a convict's stripes"

Pat took out his little French briar pipe and began to fill it. He stared down into the bowl as if he were reading a sand-diviner reading a future in its tobacco-scented depths.

"Lily," he remarked, slowly and thoughtfully, "but after we'd been married for a while, and all the novelty was gone from me, how would you like being married to a poor mechanic who worked all day in filthy clothes, and came home to cabs and touring cars, and came home at night with grease on his overalls and under his nails? Who couldn't take you anywhere but to the picture show or over to the Jettersons to play cards? . . . Sinley Drummond and his cars and that big house of his would look pretty slick to you then, eh, Sister?"

"I'm Going to Marry You or Know the Reason Why"

"It would not, and don't call me around walking on her.

"Sister," said Lily, "because I'll never be a sister to you, I'm going to marry you, Pat, or know the reason why."

"I'll have to have something to say about that," Pat replied gloomily. "I don't see myself letting you in for a load of unhappiness, and that's what I would be doing if I let you give Drummond the go-by and marry me. . . . I feel like a dog, as it is, coming out of here and making love to a girl who's all ready to marry the man she ought to marry."

He began to stack together the plates and cups that they had used and to fold up the tablecloth. He packed up the hamper and put it back into the automobile.

Lily watched him silently. It never occurred to her to help him; she was so used to having people scurry

She took a cigarette from a shell-pink case that matched her dress and asked him for a light.

"All right—catch!" Pat said, and tossed her a box of safety matches that he took from his pocket. Then he went on stamping out his tiny bonfire.

Lily struck a light from the box. "I'm used to having men light my cigarettes for me, I don't mind telling you," she drawled. "Instead of throwing a box of matches at me as if I were a tennis net or something like that!"

Pat flushed darkly once again. "Sure, I know you are," he admitted. "You're used to men who know all the nice little things to do for women—and I don't know them. I've been too busy making a living all my life to learn all the frills, and I'd just drive you mad with my lack of politeness all the time, if we were married. . . . Another thing, I think you ought to do some things for yourself. You're lazy. Do you know it? You could save a lot of time here with this fire. Why shouldn't you light your own cigarette, after all? I don't like to see you smoke them, by the way."

Lily raised her very beautifully arched eyebrows. She got up from the grass, shaking out her skirts.

"Let's go home, Pat," she said "You are quite right . . . Sometimes the list of things we see from two entirely different viewpoints, aren't

Advertisement

THEN SHE FOUND HOW TO WIN HIM

So many girls wonder why they lose out. You can't tell because you're used to it, and friends hate to say, but the smartest girl cannot be successful if body odor. Fat you can instantly neutralize every trace and keep dainty and sweet for 48 hours with Odor-No-More. Easy to use, a clear liquid that dries at once. Cannot harm skin or clothing. Try Odor-No-More today. Money back if not delighted. Recommended and sold by such good stores as Wm. Filene's Sons Co.; S. S. Pierce Co.; Leggett Stores everywhere, and at all good Toilet Goods Departments in all Department and Drug Stores.

PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS

Broke Out on Face. Healed by Cuticura.

"Blackheads and pimples broke out on my face about two years ago. The pimples were large and red and looked badly. They itched and every now and then I had to stop and scratch them. The irritation used to wake me up and spoil my sleep.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I helped it I purchased more, and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Philip Short, 134 Greenwood Pl., Dorchester, Mass., April 9, 1928.

Use Cuticura to clear your skin.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Sold throughout the world. Sample each free with Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. B, Malden, Mass. Cuticura Shaving Stick 25c.

'Good Girl'; Nancy Asks John Blair to Secure Her a Job in Boston

Continued from Page 9.

suspected that it might be from her own head, baby's hair.

The wedding certificate showed that Montgomery Deane, Jr., and Julie Abbott had been married in Manchester, N. H.

"Montgomery, is it?" grunted Darry O'Day. "You might be expectin'—"He-e-e's your talk now," said Mrs. O'Day. "And be answerin' that door bell!"

Darry did as he was commanded, and in a moment he came back into the dining room, John Blair towering over him.

"Sorry to intrude at this time," Blair said. "It's only that I'm leaving town tomorrow and I was wondering if there was anything I could do."

"I read the articles in the papers. They—like—"

Nancy knew what he meant. The papers had said that she was about the sole support of the O'Days and had elaborated on the struggle she was making to keep two old folks together.

"Now if there's anything I can do, I wish you would let me," Blair said.

"You can get me a job in Boston," Nancy answered, the words tumbling out before she realized what effect they might have on Mrs. and Darry. She was surprised in them herself for up to that minute she had hardly given a thought to a thing like that.

"You to in Boston, Mr. Blair! Don't you know someone down there who could give me a job?"

Her sudden request gave Blair a shock.

"That depends. What kind of a job?"

"Anything, anything at all," Nancy answered eagerly.

John Blair ran his fingers through his hair, thoughtfully, musingly. It and not seeming to care. He was no shelk, it occurred to Nancy. The way he mussed his hair seemed to give her an insight into the kind of a man he was.

Big, boyish, without vanity. The sort who would appeal to men, rugged, bronzed. An outdoor man, surely, yet he had all the earmarks of culture, of one who used his brain as well as his muscles.

While he stood there, pondering her question, Nancy thought how little she really knew about him. What his work was, what he was doing in Worcester. She knew that he home was in Boston. He had told her that much on the way to the circus the night Julie Abbott had fallen. She knew he had been to college. He had played football. Was it Yale? Nancy couldn't remember. Her curiosity was aroused now, and while he stood rumpling his hair, she decided she must know more of him.

"A job" Would you mind working in a factory—that is, in a knitting factory. I know a man who is managing knitting mills. That is, he is the head of it, really. Or will be. His father owns the mills."

"Will I? Oh, Mr. Blair."

"Perhaps you could take a night course at Burdett College and then, later, I could get you a job in some office."

In the excitement of the thought of going to Boston to work, Nancy lost her head completely. She jumped up and danced around the dining room table as though she was playing ring-around-the-rosy.

"Nancy!"

Mrs. O'Day's tons stopped her skipping as though she had been struck.

"Nancy! How can you act that way and your mother not cold in her grave."

"Nancy, Colleen!"

Nancy had decided that she must know more of John Blair. Now, some three weeks later, on the eve of her departure to Boston, with a letter of recommendation and introduction to the manager of the knitting mills, she had learned many things about him: He was doing field work for the National Geographic Society, studying Indian lore.

Archeology was the word he used in connection with the work he was doing.

Nancy was only vaguely familiar with the word

"Goodness. Isn't it spooky?" she asked. "Besides, I thought that only near-sighted professors and oldish men with wispy hair called themselves ar—arch—what do you call it—archeologists."

John Bar laughed. In these days since she had decided to leave Worcester, she had seen a great deal of him. Or rather he had made it a point to see a great deal of her, for he had called at the O'Day cottage nearly every evening. And in that time Nancy had learned to love his laugh. She enjoyed the way his three back his head. She liked the gleam of his white teeth. He and Darry had become great friends, and John evidently enjoyed the O'Day household.

"A fine lad that," Darry had said more than once, after John had spent an evening visiting with the three of them.

Mrs. O'Day kept her silence. One evening she read for sure what was in the heart of John Blair. She caught him studying Nancy, and Mrs. O Day studied him.

It was the first time that night. "Be good to my Nancy. An' God, don't let her be poor. . . . Don't let her marry no good for nothin'. Don't let her go marryin' anyone at all, yet—"

• • •

That night at the very time Mrs. O'Day was praying, Nancy and John Blair were sitting on a bench, not many blocks away, in a little park. Fortunately, through the trees, came the tinkle of a piano—it seemed so far away. Else, Nancy seemed distant, vague to Nancy. Tomorrow she was leaving Worcester, venturing out into a big world.

"Now that the time's really come, I'm kind of trembly," she said to John. "I think I'm afraid. I'm more afraid of a coward than I thought I was."

John Blair's strong, brown hand covered hers. Nancy could feel the strength of it, and this strength made her more trembly. All at once she felt little and insignificant and futile.

"Don't be afraid," John said "Everything's going to be all right. You'll—"

He stopped.

"I'm going to kiss you," he said.

He said it so quickly, cutting off so sharply whatever it was that he had started to say, that Nancy was surprised she was able to keep her eyes straight ahead, into the darkness of the trees.

He buried his face in the gold of her hair, and then, while she sat still unmoving, he lifted her chin and pressed his lips against hers.

It was the first time that a man had kissed her like that. The first time that she had ever been made love to, and she sat petrified.

"You're the sweetest girl I've ever seen," he said. "Tell me will—"

Nancy jumped to her feet.

"John, please—" she pleaded.

She started to walk away. In an instant he was beside her. She felt his arms about her. Her head was against his breast. She couldn't hold back the tears.

"I'm afraid," she repeated

By the time they had reached the O'Day cottage Nancy O'Day had told John Blair that she was afraid to think of marrying anybody now. Not for a long time, she said. She was too excited, face to face with the world. "to win something" from it

"I'm loving you, Nancy," John said. "How can one little girl be so sweet as you are? You're the only girl I ever knew who I wasn't a little afraid of—and I knew I wasn't going to be shy of you the first minute I laid eyes on you."

He told her, too, that he was willing that she should face the world, if she would, that she should "win something," but he asked her to remember he was loving her and that she must think hard if she couldn't say as much for him.

He said that he would take her out to his home in Newton, where the Blairs had lived many years.

She ran into the house, fear and happiness trying to crowd into her heart at the same time.

Copyright, 1928, King Features Synd., Inc.

Tomorrow—Nancy makes a couple of acquaintances.

Dr. Reed Tells of Speech and Efficiency

By Chas. A. L. Reed, M. D., Former President of the American Medical Association.

A STANDING joke, sometimes annoying, that the American traveler encounters, is the sign, which one never sees but of which one hears, but that is presumed to be displayed in Continental shops, reading "English spoken, American understood." There can be no mistake that we Americans, taken as we come, are very lax in speech. We use a patois, have no conscious pride of speech, although in the English language we have the finest cultural medium in the world.

So flagrant are our delinquencies in this regard that Professor Clapp has written a book on "Reformation of American Speech." In that book he urges that vicious speech habits are a serious handicap to national efficiency, for they impede the speed and accuracy of communication in business as well as in social life. They also increase the liability of a country to disease, for when a whole population habitually says "ner ly" for certainly and "mou n" or mountain, the victim of adenoids, bad teeth or cleft palate is not likely to be caught and cured. A people who have learned the importance of good teeth should early learn the importance of good speech.

This whole question has been brought anew to my attention in an article in the Medical Journal of Australia in which the statement is made that negligent speakers in America make up half of the millions of population. I would like to say as a matter of national pride that the estimate is too high but candor compels me to acknowledge that it is too low.

Refinement in speech is at least as important to a nation as refinement in manners and dress. To overcome negligent speech, teachers and parents should insist on clearness, distinctness, quality of tone, resonance, rhythm, emphasis and the use of breath. The slogan should be "Speak carefully and deliberately."

They should also eliminate baby talk, which mistakes that a child is learning to speak is taught two languages. No wonder its mind becomes confused. They should check the tendency to elide syllables, to use slang, and to give short replies or grunts instead of polite answers. They should make their children avoid saying "er" between words, and throwing in meaningless expressions such as "you see." When once these defects become established they are very hard to overcome and uproot.

Stammering and stuttering are disorders, not disorders of education and come into a rather different class. Children who are nervous and stammer at the transition stage from infancy to childhood (6-7 years) and at puberty must be treated with great kindness and tolerance.

Finally it is no use expecting perfect speech of a child who has actual defects like adenoids, tonsils, badly formed teeth or cleft palate.

Copyright, 1928, King Features Synd., Inc.

Amazing Beauty Test

A sure, easy way has been found to keep bony faces free from enlarged pores, that ugly enemy of skin beauty. The one ingredient known to science to reduce the skin has been combined with the new and improved La-Nay Face Powder. Every time you powder your face you refine the texture of your skin.

You can quickly prove this is true. Use any face powder on your smile face, except on your chin, at least three times a day. Put only La-Nay on your chin. Your chin will quickly be freed of any excess oil, enlarged pores or eruptions, almost as if by magic. The rest of your face will not improve in beauty. Then powder all your face with La-May. The more often the quicker the result. You will be delightfully amazed at the new beauty of your skin. This test never fails.

Examine your own face — your cheeks, chin and nose. Has your favorite powder prevented you from getting enlarged pores? Your doctor will advise you to use La-May—it insures the health and beauty of your skin. And it goes on smoother, looks better and stays on longer than any other. That's why thousands of New York women are discarding old-style powders for this new kind of face powder. La-May is sold at fifty cents and one dollar in white, flesh, brunette and tan by Liggett's and other dealers. Start the test today: it never fails.

WHY BALD? At 40?

LUCKY TIGER stops falling hair like Wayte-Fox knocks pimples. Both sold under Money-Back Guarantee by Barbers or druggists.

LUCKY TIGER

Advertisement

WOMAN SICK THREE YEARS

Helped By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Little Rock, Ark.—"I was sick for three years after my last baby came. I could hardly walk and could not eat nor sleep as I should because I was so nervous. I took seven bottles of the Vegetable Compound and used that number of bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and I am feeling just fine. I have a large family and do the work for all. Your Compound made me a well woman, and I have a happy home now. I always try to keep a bottle in the house and I tell everyone about it."—Mrs. H. A. Adams, R. F. D. 5, Box 53, Little Rock, Arkansas.

When your Children Cry for It

Baby has little upsets at times. All your care cannot prevent them. But you can be prepared. Then you'll know what experienced mothers would do—what most physicians would tell you to do—give a few drops of plain Castoria. No sooner done than Baby is soothed; relief is just a matter of moments. Yet you have stood your child without use of a single doubtful drug. Castoria is vegetable. So it's safe to use as often as an infant has any little pain you cannot put your finger on. And it's always ready for the crueler pangs of colic, or constipation, or diarrhea; effective, too, for older children. Twenty-five million bottles were bought last year.

Fletcher's CASTORIA

Are You Ready

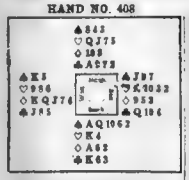
AUCTION BRIDGE

by WILBUR C. WHITEHEAD

The World's Greatest Authority

HAND NO. 408



South is the dealer. What is the proper bidding and play?

In the next issue Mr. Whitehead will explain the salient points in the bidding and play of the above hand.

Yesterday's Hand as Played by Mr. Whitehead

HAND NO. 407

E ♠J5 ♡A65 ◇109862 ♣A432
W ♠643 ♡KQ10972 ◇AK ♣96
N ♠KJ10973 ♡974 ♣KQ87
S ♠AQ6 ♡J83 ◇Q253 ♣J105

The Correct Bidding and Play

THE PLAY

(Bracketed card shows lead to each trick)

#	South	West	North	East	Won by N/S	Won by E/W
1	CA	C6	(C4)	C5		1
2	(S2)	S9	S4	SQ	1
3	HA	H2	H4	(H3)		1
4	CJ	(C2)	CQ	CK		1
5	H5	(H7)	(H8)	H9	1
6	(D6)	D5	D4	D3		1
7	H6	(H10)	S2	HJ		1
8	D2	(D8)	D7	DK		1
9	C3	(H5)	C7	H7		1
10	D9	S4	(C9)	C8		1
11	D9	H9	CJ	(D5)		1
12	C4	(H10)	S9	CT		1
13	D10	(H6)	S10	S6		1
				Total Tricks Won	4	9

Declarer ..... Opponents

Point Scores: ..24..

Honor Scores: ..40..

THE BIDDING

South Bids	West Bids	North Bids	East Bids
Pass	1H	1S	1NT
Pass	2H	2S	3H
Pass	Pass	Pass

Final Bid ..4 H.. Played by ..West..

THE BIDDING

East, though holding three cards of partner's suit, bids No Trump to show distributed high card values and stopper in Spades bid by North. West, having rabid Hearts, East assists on the second round.

THE PLAY

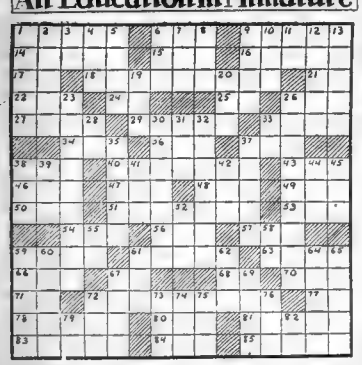
Trick 1 Although South establishes a Club trick in Dummy by covering North's King of Clubs with the Ace, it is by no means certain that the suit will go around three times. The cover was therefore justified because by covering and leading his singleton Spade, South sees that game can be saved, assuming that North does not hold five Clubs, which would leave West with a singleton.

Trick 5. Norta gives South the requested chance to ruff a Spade, South's lead of Spades up to Dummy's Major tenace evidently being a singleton.

Mr. Whitehead will answer questions concerning your Bridge problems. Write to him care of this paper, enclosing self-addressed envelope.

Copyright, 1928, Auction Bridge Magazine, Inc. Distributed by Bell Syndicate, Inc.

Daily CrossWord Puzzle
"An Education In Miniature"



HORIZONTAL.

1—hard exterior coating
6—beverage
9—roofing material
14—monetary unit of British India
15—propeller
16—man's name
17—correlative of either
18—made harsh
21—a gambling game
22—existed
24—toward
25—hypothetical force
26—placed
27—wheelless vehicle
29—wood-nymph
33—hobbies
34—name (Fr.)
36—goddess of dawn
37—ship channel
38—iota
40—title of dignity
42—vase
46—Brazilian birds
47—Greek letter
48—member of a sisterhood
49—deer
50—precious stone
52—etude
53—deed
54—cloth measure
56—wrongdoing
57—devour
59—aborigine of Japan
61—male ox
63—adherents of a creed
66—emmet
67—therefore 68—within
70—crow-like bird
71—sun god
72—pantomime character
77—jumbled type
78—edible root
80—malt beverage
81—silver coin
83—bird homes
84—a pike
85—to put forth, as strength

Herewith is the solution to yesterday's puzzle.

Copyright, 1928, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

VERTICAL.

1—a blackbird (pl.)
2—rustic
3—above
4—billow
5—trial
6—dight
7—organ of the body
8—constellation
9—to cast off
10—boy
11—metric unit
12—cornered
13—islands
19—seed covering
20—fox (Gt. Brit.)
23—expressed thought
26—soaked
28—accomplish
30—ask
31—pronoun
32—stupid
33—note of the scale
35—indestructible element
37—style of painting
38—projecting point
39—unit
41—rested
42—bitter herb
44—fabulous bird
45—meshed fabric
52—to prevaricate
55—behold
58—like
59—brother of Moses
60—silly
61—male child
62—river (Sp.)
64—mantle
65—contort
67—without (Fr.)
69—knot
72—cooking utensil
73—color
74—Mohammedan prophet
75—distance (naut.)
76—water sprite
79—exists
82—myself

BARNEY GOOGLE — All Set for Action — By De Beck

YOU BARNEY EVERYTHING'S GONNA BE OKMUK FROM NOW ON — I'VE HIRED THREE OF THE TOUGHEST EGGS IN TOWN TO ACT AS YOUR BODY GUARD — THEY'LL SHADOW EVERY STEP YOU TAKE AND IF ANYONE GETS GAY WITH YOU JUST GIVE THESE HUSKIES THE HIGH-SIGN AND THEY'LL CLEAN UP THE TOWN FOR YOU.
AHH! THIS IS SOMETHING LIKE IT! NOW I CAN GO OUT UNKNOWN-EVER 2 PLEASE AND OLD "HORSEFACE" KLOTZ ISN'T GOING TO GIVE ME ANY MORE ANXIOUS MOMENTS — JUST LET HIM TRY TO BEAT ME UP NOW. OH, BOY, IT'S GONNA SEEM GOOD TO GET OUT IN THE FRESH AIR ONCE MORE. FREE FROM ALL WORRIES!
SOYALLY SOYALLY
NOW GENTLEMEN, YOU UNDERSTAND WHAT YOUR DUTIES ARE — FIRST OF ALL, WE'LL GO FOR A STROLL AND IF I GIVE YOU THE SIGNAL, GO INTO ACTION!
THERE NOW, "HORSEFACE" START SOMETHING!
DE BECK
7-19

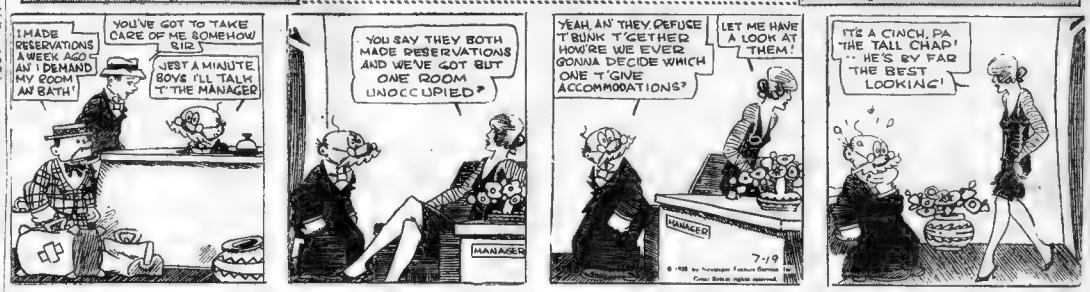
© 1928, by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved

GOOD TIME GUY — A Little Wager — By Frank Smiley

TRAVELING IS SO TIRESOME—LET'S BREAK THE MONOTONY! I'LL BET A KISS AGAINST A DINNER ON HOW MANY TELEGRAPH POLES WE PASS IN THE NEXT FIVE MINUTES!
THIS IS ONE BET THAT IF I LOSE, I WIN, OR VICE VERSA! MY GUESS IS THIRTY-NINE!
I GUESS TWENTY!
YOU LOOK HONEST—I'LL LET YOU DO THE COUNTING!
I LOSE—SO I'M PAYING UP!
I'M WILLING TO GIVE YOU A CHANCE TO GET EVEN!
FRANK SMILEY inDick Huemor
SO FAR THE PLAN TO TRAP THE LADY THIEF HAS GONE OFF ACCORDING TO SCHEDULE ····SO FAR!

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.; Copyright, 1928, by Newspaper Features Service

POLLY AND HER PALS — He Wins on Looks — By Cliff Sterrett



I MADE RESERVATIONS A WEEK AGO AN' I DEMAND MY ROOM AN BATH!
YOU'VE GOT TO TAKE CARE OF ME SOMEHOW SIR
JEST A MINUTE BOYS I'LL TALK T' THE MANAGER
YOU SAY THEY BOTH MADE RESERVATIONS AND WE'VE GOT BUT ONE ROOM UNOCCUPIED?
MANAGER
YEAH, AN' THEY REFUSE T' BUNK T'GETHER HOW'RE WE EVER GONNA DECIDE WHICH ONE T' GIVE ACCOMMODATIONS?
LET ME HAVE A LOOK AT THEM!
MANAGER
7-19
IT'S A CINCH, PA THE TALL CHAP! ·· HE'S BY FAR THE BEST LOOKING!

© 1928 by Newspaper Features Service, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved

GOLDBERG'S CARTOONS — He's Not a Bad Detective — By Rube Goldberg

Copyright, 1928, by R. L. Goldberg

MRS. PETTINGILL, DO YOU RECOGNIZE THIS PICTURE?
MY HUSBAND!
MAYBE THE STORY SHE TOLD ME ABOUT BEING DESERTED BY HER HUSBAND IS TRUE
PAPA!
DADDY!
MADAM, HERE'S THE RENT THIS POOR WOMAN OWES YOU—IS THAT CORRECT?
HONEST, MISTER—I WASN'T GONNA PUT HER OUT—I REALLY GOTTA HEART, I HAVE—BUT I'M ONLY A POOR WIDOW MYSELF AND EVERY PENNY COUNTS
NOW, COME ON—PUT ON YOUR THINGS AND I'LL TAKE YOU AND THE CHILDREN TO THAT HANDSOME HUSBAND OF YOURS WHO IS GALLIVANTIN' AROUND WITH THE ONLY GIRL WHO EVER MEANT ANYTHING IN MY LIFE
HE WOULD HAVE LET US STARVE IF IT HADN'T BEEN FOR YOU, MISTER
FIRST I THINK WE'D BETTER GET SOMETHING TO EAT BECAUSE IT'S QUITE A TRIP TO NEW YORK
OH, MAMMA, THE MAN'S TALKIN' ABOUT FOOD. WE HAVEN'T HEARD THAT MENTIONED IN A LONG TIME

McNaught Syndicate, Inc., N. Y. C.

SKIPPY — The Philanthropist — By Percy Crosby

MAMA, WILL YA GIVE ME A NICKEL FOR A POOR MAN AROUND THE CORNER WHO IS YELLIN' LIKE ANYTHIN'!
OF COURSE, SKIPPY, HELP HIM BY ALL MEANS. WHAT IS HE YELLING ABOUT?
HOT PEANUTS!

Copyright, 1928, Percy L. Crosby, Central Press Assn., Inc.

TOMMY TUCKER

Jimmy Is in for a Surprise

By Herman Thomas

WELL, WELL!! WE'LL SOON BE THERE! BUT I CERTAINLY WISH TOMMY WAS HERE!! IT DOESN'T SEEM RIGHT TO BE TAKING A VACATION WITHOUT HIM!!
AH, THERE HE IS!! HULLO, BILL!
WELL, JIMMY, YOU OL' SON OF A GUN!! YOU NEVER CHANGE A BIT!!
PAINTED POST 2 TAT
SAME TO YOU, BILL. YOU'RE LOOKING GREAT!!
WELL!! WELL! WELL! WELL! WELL! WELL! WELL!
WHO WOULD HAVE THOUGHT IT?
THE OWNER OF THE CIRCLE J RANCH TURNS OUT TO BE THE BROTHER OF TOMMY'S OLD BOSS!!
WHO WOULD HAVE THOUGHT HIS LONG SEARCH FOR OUR HERO WOULD END LIKE THIS??
© 1928 Premier Syndicate, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved.
7-19

BRINGING UP FATHER

Another Hospital Patient

By George McManus

IT'S TOO BAD CASEY- YOU'LL NOT BE AT DUGAN'S OUTIN'- THE DOCTOR TOLD ME YOUD BE HERE FOR TWO WEEKS- WHY DID YOU FIGHT WITH O'BRIEN? I FEEL SORRY FOR YOU.
DON'T FEEL SORRY FER ME - FEEL SORRY FER O'BRIEN WHEN I GIT OUT-CASEY- WHO IS THAT?
THAT'S ME NURSE-
MOVE OVER!
GEORGE McMANUS
© 1928, by Int'l Feature Service, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved.
7-19

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

No Room for More

By Verd

GEE, DADDY JIM, I LIKE THINGS COOKED OVER A FIRE!
I CAN'T THINK OF ANY OTHER WAY OF COOKIN' 'EM, ANNIE!
THESE BEANS IS SWELL!
CAMPERS SHOULD ALWAYS BE CAREFUL TO PUT OUT THEIR FIRES, OTHERWISE FOREST FIRES MAY DESTROY ALL THESE BEAUTIFUL TREES.
M-M-M- THESE IS TH' GOODEST BEANS I EVER ET!
I'M GOING TO PUT OUT THE FIRE NOW- ARE YOU SURE YOU HAD ALL THE BEANS YOU WANT NO- I HAVEN'T.
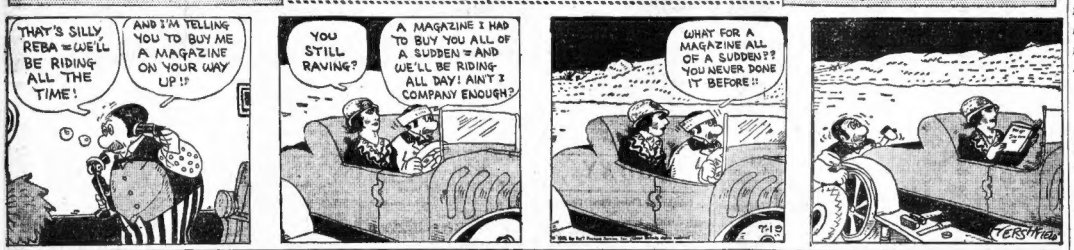
BUT I'VE HAD ALL I CAN EAT!!!
VERD
7-19

ABIE THE AGENT

She's Been Out Before

By Hershfield



THAT'S SILLY REBA - WE'LL BE RIDING ALL THE TIME!
AND I'M TELLING YOU TO BUY ME A MAGAZINE ON YOUR WAY UP!!
YOU STILL RAVING?
A MAGAZINE I HAD TO BUY YOU ALL OF A SUDDEN - AND WE'LL BE RIDING ALL DAY! AIN'T I COMPANY ENOUGH?
WHAT FOR A MAGAZINE ALL OF A SUDDEN?? YOU NEVER DONE IT BEFORE!!
HERSHFIELD
7-19

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

I WOULD have courage, so some times
I face life's darkest threats,
All things which mar its joyous chimes,
Follies and fears and debts.

I bring them from their native gloom
Into the sun to see
Why they can rob my days of bloom
And song of ecstasy.

They shrink, they fade before the light
Like mists by dawn dissolved;
Forgotten is the dreaded plight,
The long-feared problem solved.

I would have courage, so I dare
Not turn away my face
From ways grown dark; but sing, long fare
Through every shadowed place.

When Food Sours

Sweeten the stomach—instantly

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomach. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a teaspoonful dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 80 years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any druggists.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

THE DAILY DIZZY

BY HOBAN

THE BEST JOKE I EVER HEARD

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for "Best Joke" published. Address "Best Joke," Boston Evening American.

Officials—No, I can't find you a job. I have so many people hang after jobs that I can't even remember their names.

Applicant—Couldn't you give me the job of keeping a record of them.

S. DAVIDSON,
31 Harvard st., Malden.

MEDITATIONS OF A WIFE

By HELEN ROWLAND

THREE things which every man appears to think were made just to be broken are Christmas toys, traffic laws and wedding vows.

* * *

A man spends half his life in scraping something off his face; a woman spends half of hers in putting something on her face.

* * *

It's a terrible shock to wake up every other morning, these days, and discover that what you've been priding yourself on as a virtue was nothing but the hangover from a mid-Victorian complex.

* * *

All modern men seem to be divided into two classes—Galahads and Don Juans. Great lovers, like Lancelot, Abelard and Marc Antony, who were neither woman-haters nor woman chasers, are to be found only in history and the movies.

* * *

These small-time lovers don't park on any one woman's doorstep long enough to get a ticket. It's kiss as you go—and go fast.

* * *

In the average man's imagination, woman's chief indoor sport is sitting at home, waiting to forgive him.

* * *

A woman seldom has time to join a "Don't Worry Club," unless she has a hard-working husband somewhere downtown to do the worrying for her.

* * *

Most of these ideally happy old couples who have lived to celebrate their golden weddings never borrowed each other's cigarettes, took turns driving the car or were partners in a bridge game.

* * *

Nothing so quickly gives a man "that sicklish feeling" as to discover that a girl is just waiting to be kissed when he has spent hours trying to find the most effective way to "win her."

* * *

Now that women have gotten used to the blast of a motor-horn as "the call of love," it won't be long before we'll be listening eagerly for the explosion of a bomb from an airplane as the tender signal.

Copyright, 1928, King Features Synd., Inc.

SMART SAYINGS OF CLEVER CHILDREN

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for published smart sayings. Address "Smart Sayings," Boston Evening American.

Little Lucy: "Why do they keep lions at the central telephone office, mummy?"

Mother: "Why do you ask such a question, dear?"

Lucy: "Why, when I call papa sometimes the central girl says, 'The lion is busy.'" CLOVIS PERRON, 2 Bemis st., Spencer.

EPSOM SALTS TASTELESS TABLETS

DRUGGISTS SELL THESE TABLETS like BY NAME OF EPSUL

COOK-COOS

© 1928 LOS ANGELES EXAMINER

by Ted Cook

CONTINUED STORY
"London Society"

Strange thoughts, indeed, were creeping through Sir Harry's mind.

SYNOPSIS—Sir Harry Doncaster, having found a lady's glove at the Dragoons' Ball, accidentally comes upon an item in the Southdown Reporter and Devil's Gate Express urging the gent who found lady's glove at Dragoons' Ball to be at Zoological Gardens in London on Sunday at half after two.

SIR HARRY stopped in the street as though frozen—for he had reached to his kerchief pocket to see whether the lady's glove he had picked up at the Dragoons' Ball was still safely deposited in his kerchief pocket.

The glove was gone!

(Continued Tomorrow)

* * *

Farm aid suggestion, direct from the Republican national committee headquarters—

How to Give a Horse Medicine

* * *

Snappy comeback, 1911—

Go tie up a pretzel.

* * *

"Why is a wife just like a brand New car?" asked Neighbor Pike;
"I do not know," is my reply,
"Why are they both alike?"
"Because it's not the purchase price
That smacks of pain and gall,
But cost of daily maintenance
That drives us to the wall;"
Said I, "Perhaps, in general,
Your answer's not amiss;
But yet it's not infallible,
How do you figure this:
I give my car two gallons,
She'll go forty on the hop;
But if I give my wife a quart,
She don't know when to stop."
A. H. W.

* * *

Professor Zeno's
HOROSCOPE

A bride born on this day is possessed of natural talent and will doubtless become quite proficient at cooking with a can opener.

* * *

British scientist announces that milk can be made direct from grass, eliminating the cow.

"The udder way's best!" giggled Moronia.

* * *

OPTIMIST!

(Classified Ad)

FOR SALE

Reed Baby carriage, velvet upholstering, reversible gear. First class condition.
Omer McMurphy.
d5-22 Phone 306

* * *

The gal I'd like to tap
With a bat
Is the one who says,
"Whaddya KNOW about that?"
R. T. L.

* * *

Very snappy, 1912—

"It's a secret—only five girls know it."

* * *

Moronia's new sweetie weard a broad brimmed hat. She says he's a big two-flask man from Arizona.

* * *

ADAM SCOFFLAW'S JOURNAL

Early up, and bids myself in the planing to watch my poor moon-struck baggage, whose only words to me this week hath been "Abracadabra!" (a most cryptick worde). And I do finde that the saney doth talk natural and normal to the milch man and green grocer and to little Adam, but as soon as she cast eyes on me she look into mine eye and cry out, "Abracadabra!"

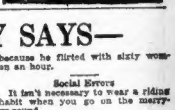
* * *

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

I don't want much to eat—just a little cold guinea hen and some imported caviar under glass.

* * *

Because it, please.



* * *

MEDBURY SAYS—

By JOHN P. MEDBURY

A SUCCESSFUL man is a fellow who can make enough money to satisfy his second wife and pay alimony to his first.

Vital Statistics

The modern father punishes his son by cutting off his gin.

Financial Note

A million dolars is the only thing that keeps some man from being wealthy.

Efficiency Experts

The man who bought a fast car so that he could beat his checks to the bank.

Ode To A Sidewalk Sheik

They called him A Minute Man because he flirted with sixty women an hour.

Social Errors

It isn't necessary to wear a riding habit when you go on the merry-go-round.

You're Right

Man is the one opportunity that the women are always embracing.

Pitiful Cases

The illiterate couple who couldn't call each other names without using bad grammar.

The Unfair Sex

The stenographer who kissed her boss after five o'clock and asked for over-time.

Our Own Vaudeville

He—I'm chilled to the bone.
She—Why don't you wear a toupee?

Copyright, 1928, King Features Synd., Inc.

BAYER

Genuine

ASPIRIN

SAY "BAYER ASPIRIN" and INSIST!

Unless you see the "Bayer Cross" on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer Aspirin proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians for 25 years.

DOES NOT AFFECT THE HEART

Safe

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proven directions. Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets. Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

Business Outlook Better Than Speculative Outlook

By B. C. FORBES

New York, July 19—Neither business men nor farmers need fear they will have to pay unfairly high rates for money. Any rate not over 4 per cent must be regarded as reasonably low. Although we hear much about the impending commercial and agricultural demands for funds, it is unlikely that any abnormal prices will be charged for money. Remember that seasonal borrowing by business has been greatly modified since it became a fixed habit to buy goods from hand-to-mouth and not twice a year.

B. C. Forbes

But if business and agriculture have little to fear from the money market, stock speculators are very differently situated. The financial powers that be—and they are powerful powers—have signified very clearly and forcefully that further expansion of loans for speculative purposes will be rigidly and effectively discouraged.

• • •

That the speculators will finally lose out in their fight against the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks must be accepted as certain. Already the three advances in the official rediscount rate have put an end to the crazy St. Peter's Day boom. We have not witnessed another 5,000,000-share day; even 4,000,000-share days have ceased. The decrease in the volume of speculation has been accompanied by a substantial decline in stock quotations as a rule, which means that the fever has substantially abated.

But it does not mean that the influential bull leaders have pulled in their horns. They are still sources to carry on operations for the rise.

• • •

In face of all that has happened it is doubtful whether the public can be incited again to clamor for stocks on an unprecedented scale and at unprecedented prices. The losses sustained in the first break could not have been other than heavy. And not since the war have quotations suffered as severely on any one day as they did on Wednesday, following the raising of the Chicago rediscount rate to 5 per cent. Representative industrial stocks then dropped an average of $7 a share. Although the railway list has held relatively firm, the decline for the whole market — industrial, railway, utility and miscellaneous issues—has exceeded $15 a share from the recent top.

The decline is in itself enough to take the edge off the public demand for stocks. Another limiting development has been the sharp marking up of interest rates charged those buying stocks on margin. When the call money rate in Wall St. ranges between 7 per cent and 10 per cent—6 per cent 5 per cent last week—the difference between dividends received and interest earned is calculated to put a damper on enthusiasm.

• • •

As I see it, the prospect resolves itself into this: The market cannot be boomed and will not without further expansion in brokers' loans. Further expansion of brokers' loans could inevitably be prevented by repressive action by the Federal Reserve authorities. Such action would have a very bad effect on business sentiment and the speculative sentiment and the stock market would again fall back.

It is worth noticing that the drain upon our monetary resources has continued heavy. In the last six months the flotation of foreign securities has broke all records, the total exceeding a billion dollars. Our loss of gold has reached $500,000,000, sufferings of home security-ties have been heavy enough to bring more or less congestion; shelves of many investment houses are uncomfortably loaded with undistributed securities. It is significant, too, that all Government obligations have declined to new low levels for the year.

Meanwhile, borrowing from the Reserve Banks has increased and brokers' loans are no more very far from their record-breaking peak. At New York the Reserve Bank's reserve ratio has fallen fully 20 per cent below a year ago.

• • •

Industry and business reveal little change. Railway car loadings still run behind last year, but trade reports on the whole are slightly more cheerful. Building holds up impressively. The automobile industry continues to thrive. Less is heard about unemployment. Warmer weather has helped retail trade in many sections. On the other hand, nearly all farm commodities have eased in price.

Thus far politics have not offended upon either speculation or business.

• • •

The outlook for business must be regarded as somewhat better than the outlook for stock speculation.

Copyright, 1928, by B. C. Forbes

Wall Street Gossip

CALL money renewed at 5½ per cent.

TEXAS & Pacific advanced 3 points on the first sale. American Linseed 2 and American International, Hudson Motors and Sears Roebuck moved up a point or so.

U. S. STEEL, General Motors, Radio and Anaconda opened fractionally higher.

NORTH American Utility Securities Corp. has called for payment on September 1 all of its outstanding stock of $25 on each unit consisting of one share of first preferred and one share of common.

Advice Is Free

Before you buy or sell stocks or bonds you ought to get unbiased expert advice. Send your investment inquiries with 6 stamp to Frank H. Meloon, financial editor, Boston Evening American, No. 5 Winthrop sq., Boston. No replies can be made other than by mail.

ADVERTISING TO BOOST KING COTTON

By FRANK H. MELOON
Financial Editor

As announced in the financial section of the Boston Evening American several days ago, southern cotton men are planning a big advertising campaign to "put over" their product. King Cotton faces a five-cents-a-bale levy. This is the amount urged by Judge C. H. Thomas, president of Southwide Cotton Council and superintendent of banks for Alabama. Judge Thomas says: "Through proposed contributions, which are to be entirely voluntary, efforts will be made to raise fund to $750,000 annually to be used in advertising and promoting the cotton industry and to defray administrative expenses."

• • •

New England potato and apple might be similarly boomed with contributions by large growers working in timely co-operation. As it is today, the coming crops of both apples and potatoes seem to be largest marketed merely as such, with comparatively few people aware of the unadvertised attractions of the various varieties.

• • •

I understand that Boston banking interests deserve a great deal of credit for helping the New England potato industry.

• • •

Several of the big railroads are considering replacing soft coal with hard on their crack flyers, among them the Pennsylvania. Recently the Pennsylvania was the first big railroad outside of New England to secure the advantages of Boston Stock

President Atterbury

Exchange listing. The president, Gen. W. W. Atterbury, accomplished this wise move several weeks ago. General Atterbury exemplifies "New England spirit" while attending Yale in 1852-1856.

• • •

I am told the Boston & Maine is constantly seeking to make its trains as comfortable as possible in all ways, and uses the best grade of coal it finds for this purpose. The B. & M. coal is furnished, by the way, by Island Creek, the big Boston concern, also interested on the New York Stock Exchange. In at least one year Island Creek was the biggest dividend payer listed on the "big board."

• • •

How to get something for nothing. Here's an interesting sidelight on the brokers' commission situation. A stock selling around $29 gives a collateral loan value of $10. It is proposed to exchange this stock, on a three, the reason being that, if selling around $60, the stock will have a loan value of $30. This is effected by a mere juggling of numbers of shares, the collateral loan value on the house will be increased about 60 per cent.

• • •

Since giving three shares for one is called a "stock melon," what would you call giving one for three? General Motors once made this sort of exchange and few knew why it was done.

• • •

It would be interesting reading if we could peruse the chance of business failures with the reasons assigned just as Registrar of Motor Vehicles George A. Parker reports. Perusing the new registrar's latest list of fatal accidents, I wonder if the causes of business fatalities might not be somewhat the same; for example, "cutting out of line," "head-on collisions," etc. In business, as in motoring, it is not always the fault of the man who suffers, but often the unoffending party. Incompetence in business and careless accidents that might bear the inscription: "He had the right of way."

• • •

A yield of 5 per cent on three high-grade investment railroad stocks, with a dividend check the first of each month, is offered in a flat drawn up by a leading house. The stocks are Union Pacific, New York Central and Atchison. Union Pacific pays its first dividend of the year on January 2; Central on February 1, and Atchison on March 1, so that the monthly income is maintained throughout the year. All three dividends appear quite safe in view of the comfortable margin of earnings over the rates paid by the respective roads, with the added incentive of dividend increase possibilities.

India's Rate Cut

London, July 19 (AP)—Imperial Bank of India today reduced its discount rate from 6 per cent to 5 per cent, a month ago the rate was lowered from 7 per cent to 6 per cent.

NEW YORK STOCKS

July 19 July 18

	High	Low	Latest	Close
Adv Rumely	43¾	43¾	43¾	43¼
Ad Rumely pf	54⅞	53⅝	54⅛	54
Air Reduction	64⅜	64	64	63⅞
Alax Rubber	8⅞	8⅜	8⅜	8⅜
All Ch & Dye	170⅝	169¾	170	169¾
Am Ag Chem	19¾	19¼	19¾	19⅛
Am Ag Ch pf	99¾	99¾	99¾	99¾
Am Bk Note	119	119	119	118
Am Br Shoe	41⅜	41¼	41¼	41
Am Can	84¾	84⅛	84⅜	84⅛
Am Car & Fy	98	98	98
Am Chicle	75	75	75	74½
Am Fdy	40⅜	39¾	40⅜	39¾
Am Ice	41⅜	40	41⅜	39⅝
Am Intl Corp	95½	94	95	94⅛
Am Linseed	110	109	110	109
Am Pow & L	78	77⅞	78
Am Republics	62⅜	61⅜	61⅜	62¼
Am Safety R	60	60	60	59⅝
Am Smelting	189	188⅞	188⅞	188⅞
Am Steel Fdy	42⅛	42⅛	42⅛	42⅛
Am Tel & Tel	174¼	174	174¼	174
Am Tobac B	158¾	158¾	158¾	157⅝
Am Type Fdrs	18¼	18¼	18¼
Am Wool pf	45	45	45	44⅜
Am Zinc	24	24	24	24⅜
Anaconda	66⅝	66⅛	66⅝	66⅜
Archer Dan	80	80	80	79½
Armour Ill A	13¾	13⅝	13¾	13⅝
Armour Ill B	10⅝	10⅝	10⅝	10¼
Asso Dry Gds	42¾	41⅝	42⅛	41⅝
Atch T & S F	182	181	182	180
Atl Gulf & WI	49	48	48	47½
Atl G & WI pf	56	55⅞	55⅞
Atl Refining	144⅜	143	144¼	144¼
Balt & Ohio	105⅞	105⅞	105⅞	106
Bangor & A	71	71	71	70
Bell Steel	55¾	54¾	54	54
Briggs Mfg	36⅛	35⅝	35⅞	35⅝
Bklyn Man Ry	64¼	63¾	63¾	64¼
Brunswk-Bal Col	42⅜	42	42	42
Brunswick Tr	43¾	42¾	43¾	42¾
Burroughs Add	173⅞	172½	173⅞	172⅞
Bush Term	50⅜	50⅛	50¼
Butte Copper	6⅝	6⅜	6⅜	6⅛
Butte & Sup	23¾	23¼	23¾	23⅜
Best & Co	67⅞	67	67⅞	66⅝
Booth Fish	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞	7⅝
Borg-Warner	45¾	45¼	45¾	45¼
Butterick	41	41	41	40¾
Byers	97⅜	96½	93¼	97
Calif Packing	94⅜	93⅝	94⅜	94⅛
Case Threshn	328	328	328	329
Cerro De Pas	74¼	73¾	74¼	73¾
Ches & Ohio	178¾	178¼	178¾	177⅝
Chi Gt W pf	25⅞	25⅜	25⅜	26¼
Chi Mil & St P	43⅜	42⅝	43	42
Chi M&StP pf	46⅝	45½	45⅝	45⅝
Chi & N W	79¾	79¼	79¼	79
Chi Rock Isl	74⅜	73⅞	74⅛	73⅞
Childs Co	44	44	44	44¼
Chile Copper	45	44⅞	45	44⅜
Chrysler	73¾	72¾	73¾	73⅛
City Stores	82	81⅞	82	81½
Collins & An	57⅛	56⅝	57	57
Col Fuel & I	69	68⅝	69	68⅝
Col Gas & E	106⅞	106¼	106⅞	106⅝
Com Power	76	73½	74	74
Continental	33¾	33¼	33¾	33¼
Containers B	14	13⅜	14	13⅜
Congoleum	23¾	22¾	23¾	23⅜
Consol Gas	145½	142	145	143⅝
Congress Cgr	72⅛	72⅛	72⅛	72⅜
Con Textiles	3¼	3¼	3¼	3¼
Cont Bakg B	4¼	4¼	4¼	4⅜
Contl Can	97	97	97	96⅜
Contl Ins	117¾	117¾	117¾	117¾
Corn Prod	70¾	70¼	70¼	70¾
Cuba Cane	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝
Cuban-Am Sug	23¾	23¾	23¾	23¾
Cudahy Pack	68¾	68¼	68¾	68¼
Curtiss Aero	106⅝	102¾	102	106⅛
Davison Chem	33⅜	32⅝	33⅛	32⅝
Del & Hudson	153⅜	153⅜	153⅜	153
Devoe & Ray	61¾	61	61
Drug Inc	92¾	92¾	92¾	92¼
Eastman Kod	174¼	174¼	174¼	174½
Elec Autolite	61	61	61	60¾
Elec Boat	12	11¾	12	11¾
Elec P & L	84⅜	84⅛	84⅜	84⅛
Elec S Battery	48⅜	48⅛	48⅜	48⅛
Fleischmann	68⅜	68	68	68¼
Fox Film A	77¾	77¼	77¾	76⅝
Freeport Tex	61¾	61¼	61¾	61¼
Gen Asphalt	73	72	73	71⅝
Gen Electric	145¾	145¼	145¾	145
Gen Motors	190¾	189¾	190¾	189¾
Gen Ry Sig	98	97¾	98	97¾
Gillette	95⅝	95⅛	95⅝	94⅞
Goodrich Tire	76	75	75	75
Gm Silk Hos	78	78	78	77⅜
Graham Paige	53⅞	52¾	53⅞	52⅞
Granby	52⅝	52⅜	52⅝	52¼
Gt Northn pf	96¾	96¼	96¼	96
Gt Nor Ore Sh	29⅜	29⅛	29⅜	29⅛
Greens Cop	100⅛	99¾	99¾	101
Houston Oil	134¾	134¾	134¾	132½
Hudson Motor	74⅜	73⅝	74⅜	73⅝
Hupp Motor	56⅞	56	56⅝	56¼
Indian Ref	31¾	31¾	31¾	31¾
Inter Cem	39	38⅞	39	38⅞
Inter Rubber	10⅜	10⅜	10⅜	10⅛
Int Harvester	266¾	264¼	264¼	264⅝
Int Mer Marine	134¾	133¾	134¾	133¾
Intl Com Eng	59⅝	59⅛	59⅝	58⅝
Intl Match pf	102⅜	102	102	105
Intl MerMa pf	36¾	36½	36½	36⅜
Intl Nickel	82⅞	81¾	82⅞	82⅛
Intl Paper	92⅛	91⅝	92⅛	91⅝
Intl Tel&Tel	166⅝	165⅜	166¼	166⅝
Johns Manvil	110½	110	110½	110⅜
Kelvinator	73	72⅝	73	72⅝
Kennecott Cop	92¾	92	92¾	91⅝
Kraft Cheese	62⅞	62¼	62⅝	62¼
Kresge Dept	47⅜	47	47⅜	47
Kroger G & B	97⅝	96⅝	97⅝	97
Lambert Co	82⅝	82⅛	82⅝	82⅛
Liggett Ser B	84¾	84¼	84¾	84¾
Liquid Carbo	69	69	69	68¾
Loew's Inc	52⅝	52⅜	52⅝	52⅜
Loose Wiles	48⅜	46⅜	46⅜	46⅜
Lorillard & Co	25⅝	25⅜	25⅝	26
Louisiana Oil	13¾	13⅜	13¾	13⅜
Ludlum Steel	57⅜	56	57⅜	56
Mack Trucks	89	89½	90	89¾
Manhat E Sup	36⅝	36½	36⅝	36⅜
Marland Oil	35	35	35	35
Mathieson	125	124⅝	125	123½
Maxwell Motor	20	20	20	19¾
Mid Cont Pet	28	28	28	27⅝
Miss Pac pf	213¾	213¾	213¾	212
M S P & S S M	44	44	44	44¼
Mo Kan & Tex	35⅝	35¼	35⅝	35⅛
Mo Pac pf	65⅜	65	65⅜	64⅝
Mo Pacific pf	114¼	114¼	114¼	114¼
Montgy Ward	162¾	160½	163¾	161
Moon Motors	17	17	17	17
Moto-Meter	16¾	16¼	16¾	16¼
Nash Motors	82⅝	82⅜	82⅝	82⅜
Nat Cash Reg	63¾	61¾	63¾	63¾
Nat Distil	33⅜	33⅜	33⅜	35⅝
Nat Enam & S	28	28	28	28
Nat P & L	33	33	33	33
New Cons Cop	22¼	22	22¼	21⅜
NY Central	161	161	161	161
NYC & Hst	126	126	126	125¼
N Haven pf	119¾	119¾	119¾	118½
Oils Steel	22¾	22¼	22¾	22¼
Pac Gas & El	47¾	47¼	47¾	48
Packard Motor	13¾	13¾	13¾	13¾
Pan-Am Pet B	41¾	41¼	41¾	42⅜
Pan-Am West	16⅞	16⅞	16⅞	17
Park & Tilford	37	37	37	37
Patino Mines	30¾	30⅜	30¾	29⅝
Penn Dix Cem	15⅛	15	15⅛	15
Penn R R	45⅜	45⅛	45⅜	45⅛
Phila & R Co	29	28⅝	28⅝	28⅝
Phillip Morris	17⅞	17⅞	17⅞	18
Phillips Petrol	37⅜	37	37⅜	37⅛
Pierce Arrow	11⅜	11⅛	11⅜	11⅜
Pierce Oil	4	4	4	4
Pillsbury Fl	39⅝	39	39⅝	39
Post Cereal	63⅜	63¼	63⅜	63½
Prod & Ref	23¾	23⅝	23¾	23⅝
Pub Serv NJ	54⅜	54¼	54⅜	54
Pullman Co	81	80⅝	80⅝	80⅝
Punta Alegre	24⅞	24⅝	24⅞	25
Radio Corp	17⅞	16⅞	16⅞	17⅛
Reading	99⅜	99¼	99⅜	99
Remington	30⅞	30	30	29⅝
Reo Motor	26⅞	26⅛	26⅝	25½
Reynolds Spr	11⅜	11	11⅜	11
Royal Iron & S	11⅝	11⅜	11⅝	11⅜
Royal Dutch	56⅛	56⅛	56⅛	56⅜
Seagrave Corp	18⅜	18⅜	18⅜	16

July 19 July 18

	High	Low	Latest	Close
St L & S F	110¾	110⅜	110⅜	110⅜
St L S'westn	83¼	82¾	82¾	83
Schulte Stores	56¼	56¼	56¼	56¼
Sears Roeb'k	118¾	118½	117¾	118⅝
Shattuck F G	108	107¾	107¾	107
Shell Union O	27⅛	26¾	26⅝	26¾
Simmons Co	59⅝	59⅜	59⅝	59
Simms Petrol	20⅜	20¼	20⅜
So Cal Edison	47	47	47	46⅝
So Dairy B	15	14⅝	15
Southern Pac	118½	118¼	118¾	118½
So P Sug pf	40	40	40	40
Southern Ry	144⅝	143¾	144¼	144½
Spicer Mfg	32⅝	32⅜	32⅝	33¼
Std Gas & El	64	63¾	63¾	63⅝
Std Oil Calif	58	58	58
Std Oil NJ	43¾	43¾	43¾	43¼
Std N Y	33⅜	33⅜	33⅜	33⅜
Stewart W Sp	89	89	89	88
Studebaker	68¾	68¼	68¾	68¼
Sun Oil	43	43	43	43
Sup Mot Gas	19¾	19¾	19¾	19¾
Tex Gulf Sul	68¾	68	68¾	67⅞
Tex Pc L Tr	23⅜	23⅛	23⅜	23⅛
Tex & Pc R R	171¾	170¾	171¾	170¾
T W Asso Oil	17⅜	17⅜	17⅜	17
Tobacco Prod	99⅝	99⅜	99⅝	99⅜
Transcont Oil	8⅞	8⅝	8⅞	8⅝
Underwood E P	66⅞	66	66⅞	66½
Union Carb	147¾	147	147	146⅝
Union Oil	69½	69⅛	69½	67⅝
Union Pac	192	192	192	190⅝
Un Fruit	136¼	136¼	136¾	136
Un Pipe Line	79	78⅞	79	78¼
Us Leather	48⅜	48	48⅜	48⅛
Us Leather A	69	64¾	64¾	65
Us Rlty & I	79⅝	79⅛	79⅝	79⅛
Us Rubber	30⅜	30⅜	30⅜	30½
Us Steel	138¾	137¾	138⅝	136⅞
Utilities P & L	27¾	27½	27¾	27½
Vanadium	72¼	70¾	72	70⅞
Va Car Chem	173¾	173¾	173¾	173¾
Vic Talk Mch	93¼	92¾	92¾	92⅛
Vivaudou	14⅜	14⅜	14⅜	14½
Wabash Ry	43¾	43¼	43¾	43¼
Waldorf Sys	20¾	20¼	20¾	20¼
Warner Pic	45⅝	45¼	45⅝	45¼
Warner Bros	114	114	114	110
Weber & Hlm	66	66	66	64
West Dairy B	29¼	29¼	29¼	29¼
Western Md	39¼	39	39¼	39¼
West Pac pf	85	85	85	85
Westing'e El	93⅝	91¾	92¼	92⅜
Westing'e M	98⅜	97¾	98⅜	97¾
White Motor	37¼	37	37¼	36½
Willys-Over	20⅜	20⅛	20⅜	20⅛
Woolworth	138¾	137¾	138¾	137¾
Wright Aero	152½	148	148	153
Youngstn S	86¾	86¾	86¾	86½

*Ex-dividend.

Boston Stocks

July 19 July 18

	High	Low	Latest	Close
Am Pneu	3	3	3
Am Pneu pf	15¼	15¼	15¼	15½
Tel rts	11¼	11¼	11¼	11¼
Am Tel	173¾	173¾	173¾	174½
Am Woolen	19	19	19
Bigelow Hart.	91¾	90¼	91¾	91½
Bos Elev 2 pf	105	105	105
Bos & Me Rail	21¾	21¾	21¾	21¾
Cop Range	17¾	17¾	17¾
East Butte	5¼	5¼	5¼	5⅜
Eastern S S	99¾	99¾	99¾	99½
E Mass Ry	22	22	22
E Mass 4d	52	52	52	50¼
Lake Copper	1¾	1¾	1¾
Maine Cent pf	82		82
Mass Gas	54	54	54
Mass Gas pf	78	78	78	77¾
NatMtrs &Str	37	37	37
New Haven	51¼	51¼	51¼	51¾
N E Oil	50c	50c	50c	40c
N E Tel	143¼	142¾	143¼	144
Pond Creek	45¾	45¾	45¾	45¾
Old Dominion	15¾	15¾	15¾	15¾
Rut RR	63¾	63¾	63¾	63¾
Quincy	49	49	49	49
Swed-Am Inv	142¾	142	142¾	137
Swift & Co	130	130	130
Tower	3⅛	3¼	3¼
Traveler Shoe	18¼	18¼	18½
Utilities Pow	18¾	18¾	18¾	18¾
Un Elec Coal	53⅜	53	53	53
Utah Metal	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
Venezuela	13¾	13¾	13¾	13¾
Vt & Mass	118	118	118	118
Waldorf	20½	20½	20½	20¾
Warren Bros	153¾	153¾	153¾	151½

PITTSFIELD ROAD TO CITY SAVINGS BANK

Pittsfield awarded $125,000 4 per cent public works bonds dated July 15 and payable 1929 to 1938 to City Savings Bank of Pittsfield at 100.34. Other bidders were: Stone & Webster and Blodget, Inc., 10.17; Curtis & Sanger, 100.13; Harris, Forbes & Co., 100.07; Estabrook & Co., 100.022, and Estabrook & Co., 100.007.

State Street Notes

CHRYSLER Corp. declared regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents on the common, payable September 25.

TEXAS Gulf Sulphur had June quarter profit of $1,586,809, or $1.41 a share; six months' net $2,574,520, or $2.62 a share, against $1,240,460 a share 1927 initial half.

CITIES Service Co. declared regular monthly dividend of 10 cents cash and 10 cents in stock on the common, 50 cents on preferred and preference "BB" and 75c cash on class A, 100.022, and Estabrook & Co., 100.007.

J. S. STRAUS & Co. have inaugurated practice of issuing periodic investment news bulletins.

LODENSKIN reports earnings freight for week ended July 7 totaled 136,605 cars, increase of 11,620 cars over preceding week and 1,620 over corresponding week last year.

PRESIDENT McCLEARY of Republic Iron & Steel says business is showing gradually improvement in all lines.

WALTER B. PEARSON has been elected president of Maris Stocking Co. to succeed Charles G. Guth, retired.

AMERICAN Woolen Co. will open lines of men's wear fabrics for next season's business in department 1, 2 and 7, next Monday.

New York Curb

New York, July 19—Amusement and mining stocks were in demand in the New York Curb Market today. An advance of 1⅜ points was recorded by Warner Brothers Pictures at 22¾, and Newmont Mining gained 1⅛ points to 157½. Noranda Mining at 73¾ was up 1⅜. Pfizer was generally were steady. Bancitaly sold at 11⅛, up ⅝. The oils were somewhat mixed, with Cities Service down ¾ at 71.

Stutz Earns More

Net profit of Stutz Motor Car for the half year was $388,024, after charges and Federal taxes, equal to $1.07 a share, against $123,024 year ago.

Cotton is Steady

New York, July 19 (AP)—Cotton futures were steady: July, 21.24; October, 21.57; December, 21.30; January, 21.10; March, 21.14.

COMMON SENSE IS VITAL NEED ON SAFETY

By FRANK A. GOODWIN

Highway Safety Editor Boston Evening American and Former Registrar of Motor Vehicles for Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Common sense in enforcement, not a change in speed laws, is what we need in Massachusetts.

F. A. Goodwin

What is speed and when is it a cause of accidents?

No one can define speed, because what one person might call speed, another would consider slow driving. Speed is relative, and so far as a definition is concerned, in automobile law it depends upon circumstances.

In analyzing 647 fatal automobile accidents, we find that there were 744 automobiles involved. Investigators, among other things, recorded the rate of speed at each miles an hour.

I suppose the average reader will think that the greater number of accidents occurred when the vehicles were going at a high rate of speed.

Let us see. In 132 cases the cars were going at a speed of less than 12 miles an hour. Three hundred thirty autos were going more than 12 and not more than 25 miles an hour. Two hundred and sixty-nine were going more than 25 miles an hour. In 13 cases the inspectors could not find out the speed, and in 20 cases the cars were standing still.

WHAT LAW SAYS

These records demonstrate clearly the absurdity of fixing any definite speed limit. As has been said in this column before (but it will bear repetition), our law requires that no person shall operate his car at a speed greater than is reasonable and proper, having in mind conditions existing at the time and place.

For a police officer to take the prima facie speed limit of 20 miles an hour on the State road seriously, snows him to lack judgment. With the great improvement in brakes today, a man going only 20 miles an hour on a State road is a nuisance and a road mope, causing more accidents than fast drivers.

Four-wheel brakes and larger tires, giving greater traction, have made it possible to stop an automobile in half the distance that a car could have been stopped in a few years ago. This means that cars may be driven twice as fast today with the same degree of safety.

What we need is a change in the mechanical construction of automobiles has not made it necessary to change the speed law of Massachusetts.

LAW IS APPROVED

If a car can be stopped in half the distance it could have been stopped ten years ago, then it is reasonable to suppose it can safely go twice the speed that was reasonable and proper ten years ago.

The real need, in addition to motorists brought before the courts for speeding, lies in the failure of courts to change their rules to fit changed conditions and to act accordingly.

All this talk of changing the law is out of order. The law is all right as it is.

All we need is a group of policemen and judges who will have common sense enough to take into consideration not only the time, place and conditions existing, but also the kind of car being operated. It is just as important to know the speed at which a car must be brought to a standstill as how fast it is going, in order to determine whether it is being operated at a speed that is not reasonable and proper.

TODAY

Continued From First Page.

each with cancers artificially produced, bigger than the animals' bodies.

The chicken may yield the growth prevention substance.

• • •

In Europe the thermometer has risen to 140. Had it risen to 240 everybody would have died, the blood boiling in their veins.

Temperature at the sun's surface equals many thousands of degrees, and deep inside the sun, under frightful pressure, it is hot beyond our imaginations.

• • •

We should be grateful that our heat and cold are so well balanced, grateful especially for our wonderful bodies that keep the blood at about 98 degrees, on the Equator at 120 above, or in the Arctic at 60 below.

• • •

The International conference of Communists at Moscow has an important idea.

Communism must get ready for a great war shortly coming between the imperialism of Britain and America.

America and England, you see, will each want the whole. When they fight communism will have its chance.

• • •

A few generations back, the idea might have been sound. But great nations and big business have learned that war does not pay, and what does not PAY does not interest them. If communism waits for its chance until British and American imperialism fight, it will wait some time.

BOSTON RADIO AMERICAN

FRED TOVE ... VOICING THE IDEAL ... DEMOCRACY OF THE AIR ... EDITOR

Tonight's Local Radio Programs

461 M.—WNAC	508 M.—WEEI	333 M.—WBZ	288 M.—WBET
6:00—Juvenile Smilers.	6:00—Waldorf Astoria Concert Orchestra.	6:00—Recent Trio	6:00—Silent.
6:30—Dinner Dance.	8:30—Waldorf Astoria Orchestra.	6:30 — Time; weather; Playlist Concert; baseball; Alden Radio Advice.	6:30—Silent.
7:00—News. "Amos 'N' Andy." Studio.	7:00—Studio program.	7:00—Next Love's Atelier Orchestra.	7:00—Baseball; financial summary; events of the day; farmer music.
7:30 — Interview with Pete Playsted, Red Sox center fielder. Radio Sweethearts.	7:30—Coward Comfort hour.	7:30—Bradley Beach Casino Orchestra.	7:30—U. S. Navy Band.
8:00 — WNAC Players present "Stune."	8:00—Hirer Chesters.	8:00—Hotel Statler Orchestra.	8:00—Re-bold Talks.
8:30—WNAC Players.	8:30—Hoover Sentinels.	8:30—Jack Albins' Orchestra.	8:30—Jack Albins' Orchestra.
9:00 — John Landers, tenor. Sandy McFarland and Eddie Dunbar.	9:00—Wag Furriers.	9:00—Wag Furriers.	9:00—Serenade.
9:30—Studio program.	9:30—Goldman Band concert.	9:30—Maxwell House hour.	9:30—Billy Coty; Mme. Jane Hemiup; Marion Jardin, violinist. Palace piano.
10:00—Lowe's Orpheum Theater.	10:00—Halsey Stuart hour.	10:00—Michelin hour.	10:00—Keney Grove Orchestra; baseball; weather; news.
10:30—Lowe's State Theater.	10:30—Weather forecast. News. Franklin Airmen.	10:30—Fit Soldier Show.
11:00—News. Baseball. Billy McBride and Orchestra.		11:00—Weather; time.

NEW ENGLAND

348 M.—WBSO—WELLESLEY

6:00 p. m.—Children's Hour Concert; Bedtime Reading. "Treasures." Poetry. "Net Results." Stories. Musical Selections. 12:00 mid.—Midnight Ministry.

275 M.—WEAN—PROVIDENCE

6:00 p. m.—Studio program.
6:30 p. m.—Benay Rich and orchestra.
7:00 p. m.—Studio program.
8:00 p. m.—Continuation of dinner dance music.
7:40 p. m.—Information service.
8:00 p. m.—Dixie Days Minstrels.
8:30 p

700 FROLIC AT A. & P. OUTING

Seven hundred attended the annual outing of Lynn North Shore Great Atlantic & Pacific Managers' Benefit Association at Lake Idlewild, South Hamilton.

A baseball game was played between teams headed by J. L. Leete and D. A. Ryan, which resulted in an 11-11 tie. The ball players would still be playing to break that tie judging from their determination at the end of the ninth inning, but other sports were on the program and they were forced to quit the field.

In the managers' 100-yard dash Clarence Sweeney won, with Bruce Morse, a close second.

Louise Sweeney won first in the 50-yard dash of the fair sex. Hse was closely trailed by Mrs. George Cornish. Mrs. Eva. Connolly and Mrs. Evelyn Morse were first and second respectively in the baseball throwing contest. Edward A. Veale and William Grinrod were first and second in the 100-yard dash for clerks.

Shirley Reynolds won the 50-yard dash for girls under 12 years of age while Josephine Waidron won the 25-yard dash for girls under five years. Junior Conway won the race for boys under four years.

These races of the children were watched with much interest by the adults.

A turkey diner and dancing brought the outing to a close.

Among the company officials present were L. W. Thompson, vice-president of the New England district; Miss Frances Kammerman, private secretary to President Davidson; C. A. Beck, Boston salesman; F. H. Smith, association counsel, and five W. L. Walker, general superintendent of the North Shore section. Supt. J. L. Leete and Supt. D. A. Ryan.

WORCESTER MAN BUYS RAPHAEL'S "MADONNA"

Worcester, July 19 (AP)—American art collections have been enriched by the purchase by Theodore T. Ellis of Worcester of the famous Raphael "Madonna," from the Earl of Northbrook. This addition to the Ellis collection of art treasures was made on a recent European trip. The price was not made known, though it has been favorably compared with the "small Cowper Madonna," reported to have brought $80,000 when purchased in 1913 by the Duveens and now a part of the Widener collection in Philadelphia.

INVESTIGATE ATLANTA PRISON BREAK PLOT

Atlanta, Ga., July 19 (AP)—Roy Gardner, California mail robber, and Joe Urbanpus of Ohio were in solitary confinement in the federal prison today, while investigation was under way into their attempted escape. Both attempted to shoot their way out. Warden John W. Snook declared his belief that guns were smuggled into the prison in yarn shipments for use in the prison mills.

CHAMBER PRAISED FOR AIDING AIRPORT

The Aviation Memorial Committee, composed of various organizations interested in the development of aviation, passed a resolution commending the Chamber of Commerce for important work it has played in locating the lease by the city of the F Boston airport and for the earnest efforts for the development a better airport.

PERSONALS

M. MADIE KEENE, please call at Boston American Classified Desk for important letter.

WILL, adopt infant, week to two months. 146 D St., South Boston.

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND BY THE POLICE

Boston terrier, ch. female and white; Germans police dog, male, tan and black; Boston terrier, female, black and white; large roll of paper; Framingham bicycle. Call MINE JAMES, Liberty 6600.

CHAIN OF GOLD, LOST AT NANTASKET; reward. HANCOCK 0740.

DOG—Lost, Boston bull terrier, female, collar has N. J. license. Reward. Reg. 4427.

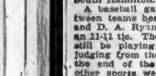
DOG—Found, collie, female, vicinity Dorchester. Call or write Porter 3700-M.

FOUND—Sum of money at entrance to beach from Hingham Sun. a. m., man's diamond ring. Reward. Grenada 2784-J.

FOUND—At Lynn beach, Sunday, July 15, lady's ring watch. Write article description to Mrs. A. Rodger, 24 Bartlett St., Lynn.

THE person who found lost suitcase (black), containing yellow silk dress, near Dedham Polo Field, Sunday evening, write Boston American, D-562; $25 reward.

BEAUTY AIDS



Every method of permanent waving done with perfect results; beautiful work; moderate prices.
IDEAL BEAUTY PARLOR
BERNICE RECORDS
67 WINTER ST. HR. 305 2nd floor 6718

Permanent Waves
$10 KEEN STEAM OIL $10
PERMANENT
AMERICAN PERMANENT PROCESS
A wave that guarantees satisfaction
Beauty Introductory Prices
BRACE SYSTEM 8 Winter St., rm. 611; Lib. 3

PE $10 PERMANENT WAVE
Tonic Compound. Why bother
Shoppers' FINANCE PLAN
ves assures a soft, lovely wave
ing, styling, curling, shaping
LILA MUNSEY
Taylord St., Melrose. Highland 2402

HAIR COLORING
Perfect color guaranteed, also permanent waves, $5 up or the a cent. Will stay in 12 hours or 20 years' experience. Open 7:30 A. M. Parlor Rm. 2nd floor, Lenthel Bldg., 7 Winter Pl., Boston.

PERMANENT WAVING
Frederic's Vita Tonic Process, $10
Shampoo, Finger Wave, 50c
Scientific Scalp Treatments
8 Winter St., Room 1108

HAIR Bobbed, Dyed or Shingled to suit
Marcel. No Pain or Soft. Physicians' references. MISS HELEN RAYMOND, 125 Tremont St., Sq. 310, Keswick 7286

PERMANENT WAVE, $5
GUARANTEED TO LAST 6 MONTHS
WINTER ST., RM. 710, LIB. 8282.

PERMANENT WAVE, complete, $50; 3c days only; said for 12. Studley Beauty School 7 Tremont St., Rm. 508, cor. Bromfield.

SPECIAL for July, complete permanent, $5; shampoo, set, free. Charm Beauty Shoppe, Winter St., Rm. 906, Hub. 2192.

Permanent, finger ends, Miss Dell. Winter St., room 1105. Hub. 8068.

DANCING

STAGE DANCING Tuesday Eve. Self-PROF. RITTER 230 TREMONT ST. TEL. CAPITOL 6819

For Latest Roll Room Dancing Go to PROF. WISEMAN 306 Tremont St. Capitol 6819
Fox, Waltz, Argentine, Tango, Apache.

2 LESSONS $1
MODEL SCHOOL — Modern Dancing
MISS FAWCETT—MISS HOYT
173 Huntington Ave. Back Bay 8153

5 PRIVATE LESSONS $2
FLORENCE KELLY
240 HUNTINGTON AV. Back Bay 7905

LOOMIS 96 MASS. AVE. TEL. KENMORE 9782
TEN 2-HOUR CLASS LESSONS, $8
Private, Encore or Stage. Any Time

LERNER 230 MASS. AVE.
Tel. B. B. 8383-9393
All Types of Dancing Taught
Special Summer Rates! Socials Wed. Eve.

WINTHROP CHAFU. Strictly private lessons, 4 afternoon Rd., Nantasket. Hull 1426-W.

INSTRUCTION

BARBERING—BOBBING
Expert instruction, modern school, success assured. Call or write Clarence Vaughn's Barber School, 1038 Wash. St., Boston. (Near Dover St. El). Branches all principal cities in New England.

BARBERING, bobbing; complete courses $25; day, eve., Saturday. Boston's best equipped school; N. E. Old Reliable, 800 Wash. St.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE

WANTED GIRLS FOR STAGE!

Tryouts for musical comedy and revue daily between 7 P. M. and 10 P. M. Managers and producers will be present to select performers. Unusual opportunity. Bring practice clothes. Lenox Dramatic Studio, 110 Massachusetts Ave., Boston, Mass.

WAITRESSES

3 girls wanted immediately to work in cafe; must be experienced; $18 week. 11 Tremont St., Revere 0797.

HELP WANTED—MALE

ICING FOREMAN—Man capable of taking charge of icing department in cracker factory; write, stating experience, age and salary desired. Address Mr. R. F. McManus, 619 North Broad St., Philadelphia, Pa.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

UNUSUAL opportunity; $300 total investment; $500 to $1,000 monthly income; financially known manufacturer backs this offer, no canvassing nor, stands; easy earnings at once; give age and exp. Wm'a Fleckert, 2615 Cortland St., Chicago, Ill.

MONEY TO LOAN

AUTO LOANS

"CAR REMAINS IN YOUR POSSESSION"
We Pay Your Bonds Unless Satisfactory
ATLAS FINANCE CORP.
Hundreds of Satisfied Clients
Room 630—333 Washington St. Boston 3760
Uptown Office—Realty of Parking Loans
620 Commonwealth Ave., Boston Tel. Lib. 56

AUTO LOANS

While you run your car
We pay your bonds notes.
Lowest Rates GLOBE Quick service.
In Boston Terms to suit.
DISCOUNT and FINANCE CO.
401 PARK BG. BLDG. TEL. LIB. 9-0-3-8

$50 TO $300 TO EVERYBODY
600 Wash. St. Boston
No Fees or Fines Ever. Tel. Lib. 6033
Lic. 128

FURNITURE LOANS

ANY AMOUNT QUICK SERVICE
EASY TERMS LOW RATES
ATLAS FINANCE CORP.
Room 630—333 Washington St.—Bch. 3760
Uptown Offices—Realty of Parking Loans
620 Commonwealth Ave., Boston Tel. Lib. 56

Money To Everybody on Autos, Furniture and Notes
Low Rates—Easy Terms. Lic. 118
Tremont Finance Co.
32 Hanover St. Haymarket 6017

DORCHESTER LOANS

Loans up to $300 to housekeepers. Easy terms. Confidential. Call or write. Beneficial Loan Society of Dorchester, 761 Dorchester St., Opposite Columbia Square.

QUICK LOANS

Up to $300 to housekeepers. Easy installments, lowest interest. Beneficial Loan Society, 73 Tremont St., Lib. 7870, Room 305.

IF you cannot borrow what you want to on Collateral or Indorsement, call C. E. RANSOM, 1 Salem St., Boston. Est. 1858. Lic. 1. Tel. Lib. 2017-J.

$50 to $5000 loaned on furniture, real estate under $300 licensed by state. No fee. Personal Finance Co., 31 Bromfield St.

Loans on Furs—No Storage Charge
Rich Gems, Jewelry, etc. GREAT NORTH-ERN LOAN CO., 373 Washington St., next North Station.

LOANS up to $300 to householders; easy repayment terms; only party interest. Security Loan Society of Boston, 31 Cambridge St., Room 211. Lib. 2017-J.

LOANS up to $300 to householders. Personal Finance Co., Somerville Branch. Easy. Snow Bldg., Somerville. Tel. Som. 0350.

SEWING MACHINES

DROP-HEAD SINGER—First class condition, $12. 8 Berkeley St., Boston.

GOOD SINGER—Sell you one as good as new, $5 36S A Somerville Ave., Somerville.

REFRIGERATORS

THE S. E. WHITMAN COMPANY
FLORENCE, MASHESTA, ARISTOCRAFT
Pullman Square Tel. Charlestown 0070

TRUCKING—CATS—PETS

18 PRETTY pups, different breeds, nice pets for little children, $3 or $5. Grove Hall Animal Shelter, Irish terriers, Wm. H. Ostler, 1317 Broadway, Everett, Mass. Tel. Everett 1306-M.

Real Estate

HOUSES FOR SALE

What you get for $95

A large lot, high and dry, with stately pines bordering on a forty foot street overlooking the Concord River. The path homes, pavilion and float are for the exclusive use of lot owners. Reasonable restrictions made for the purpose of protecting YOUR investment.

You are invited to inspect River Pines any day or evening this week. Salesmen on property. You assume no obligation whatsoever by inspecting this development.

ALL LOTS $95.00 $2.50 a Month (Except water front sites) 20% Down

Directions to Property: From Boston—Massachusetts Ave. to Arlington Center, turn left on Rt. 3, crossing, then follow Route 3 to Billerica Centre. Turn left on River St. across Concord River. River Pines signs prominently displayed just beyond.

E. B. HAMILTON, Trustee H. M. HIRTH, General Manager
294 Washington Street, Room 801, Old South Bldg., Boston
Tel. Lib. 9255

CAMBRIDGE, $7500
(NEW 2-FAMILY)

10 rooms, 5-5, tub, tiles, steam heat, cement mation white enamel sink and tray; large lieu, ma. Bring for quick sale. Open 2000 cash.

CARTER BROS.
330 Somerville Ave., Near Union Sq., Somerville
Tel. Prospect 1030 or 0238 Eve. Somerset 2538

NORTH WEYMOUTH
$7000—$7000
3 beautiful rooms, all modern impts., tiled kitchen fixtures, excellent condition, American neighborhood; handy to churches, schools, cars and beach; price reasonable. Owner and builder, C. J. Rogers, 200 Bridge St., North Weymouth. Tel. Weymouth 0026-M.

MALDEN
2-family of 5-6 rooms, all modern improvements, garage, 14,000 feet of land, fruit trees of all kinds, slightly location; very little cash necessary. Price $7500. Apply —

BENJAMIN LODIE & CO.
Maplewood Sq., Malden Tel. 2319

A FOOT
A number of lots, high, slightly land in one of the best sections of No. Reading; easy terms; fruit trees go with land. F. J. Moloney, 19 Baldwin St., Cambridge.

WINTHROP
6 rooms and sun parlor, 1-car garage, all burner, in Court and section. This is absolutely a bargain in a Winthrop for quick sale; small amount of cash required. WILLIAM M. EMERSON, 1 Pemberton Square, Room 1501, Opposite the Court House. Lib. 8561.

MEDFORD
Fair Offer Takes It
2-family, 6-6 rum.; exclusive neighborhood; extra corner lot; hot water heat, oak floors, beamed ceilings, fireplaces; open view; off Fellsway, 22 Middlesex Rd.; Myrtle 2418-J

WALTHAM—NEW 5-ROOM
Semi-bungalow, lovely home, $300 down, balance small monthly payments. Cost $4600. Workingmen's best chance. Bank payments only $24 per month. See Philip Arnaud, 22 School St., Room 605, Boston

READING ATTRACTIVE BUNGALOW
Central location, 6 beautiful rooms, bath, nice floors, hot water heat. Cost $7000; only $6100. $500 down, Morris Co., 155 Main St., Reading, tel. 0360

ARE YOU SELLING YOUR PROPERTY? ARE YOU BUYING A HOME?
Consult a specialist for your particular need. Charles H. Greenough, 1000 Real estate, 384 Roxbury St., High. 6084.

$29 Buys eighty camp lot in hills of No. Reading; 50 boys four and 25 fruit trees; termsr F. J. Moloney, 19 Baldwin St., Cambridge.

WINTHROP BEACH
$500 Down, Balance as Rent
10 rooms, every convenience; best location. Tel. Liberty 3360.

EVERETT — $500 DOWN
Now 5 family, 5 and 6 rooms, separate entrances, all modern impts., near cars. $9000. J. Rosen, 99 Vine St. Tel. Revere 2996.

WEST SOMERVILLE
2-apt. house, 5-5 rooms, all modern impts.; garage; fine residential section. Call Gowen, 3 Harvard Sq. Univ. 2253-J.

BURLINGTON, MASS.
Single house, store and garage, $7500 cash. Easy terms. John P. Trudin, State Rd., Woburn, Mass., R. F. D.

CITY POINT
7 rooms, single, modern impts., near bus-ch, good location. Bonin Boston 2680-M.

CHARLESTOWN bargain, 14 rms., central location; garage; $9500. Mallon, 60 Allerton St.; N. N. 1387-M.

DORCHESTER—6-family, 5-5 rooms, modern impts., 2 car garage; price $35000; good location. Apply 13 Bowdoin St., Dorchester.

MALDEN—New bungalow, $5500, terms; 5 rooms, bath; gumwood in dining room, oak floors, steam heat, set tubs, improvements. A. Bradford, Everett 2072-M.

NEWTON CENTRE—6-room, stucco bungalow; hot water heat; $7000 ft. of land, 6 miles from Boston, on Boston & Worcester carline. Will sacrifice for quick sale, $6000. West Newton 0016-J.

QUINCY—$4100 down, balance as rent, 5½ 6-room single house, modern improvements, large lot. Price $5000. Thomas, Lib. 56

BUSINESS PROP. FOR SALE

ROXBURY—Two stores and 8 apts.; all modern impts.; lot 50x87; income $1524 yearly, price $11,500. Will trade for small business. Mr. Morrison; Univ. 9892.

LOTS FOR SALE

NO. READING, 77,200 Sq. Ft., $395
Large lot of high, dry land and 40 fruit trees; terms; ideal for big camp site or home. Inquire Owner, 19 Baldwin St., Cambridge.

WEST ROXBURY OAKS
Hundsomely priced lots, $300 up, automobile land afternoons and eve'ns; Spring St. car to Cleveland Circle. Call Owner, Silver, Univ. 1672.

MEDFORD—Single of 7 rms. and sunparlor, fireplace, steam heat, tiled bath, 2-car cement garage; fine lot of land; originally $9500, $7500 for estate of deceased owner. Leonard, Mystic 2001 or res. 2719-M.

$50 FT. Fronting on Dudley St., 100 deep front, 230 ft. above front on Sudbury river Wayland, $750, cash or terms. Give party to built ramp. J-27, Boston American.

FIFTY-FOOT LOT IN ROOM situat at beautiful Greenlake Beach in Marblehead. Good for cottage, leasing, leasing only. Federal St., Boston. Tel. Liberty 6871.

FARMS AND LAND FOR SALE

EQUIPPED FARMS, business chances; catalog free. Strout Agency, 615-B, Old South Bldg., Boston. Hanc.

SUMMER COTTAGES

NO. BILLERICA camp for sale, 5 rooms; furnished; cold-screen; 5 lots land, all planted; all for $1,000. Apply Mrs. Lucy Woodiawa Ave.; except, barg.; terms. Univ. 2191.

SCITUATE—7 rms., all impts., near water, beach immediately. Hyde Park 1218-R. 0030-M.

DUDLEY TERMINAL STORAGE WARE-HOUSE—FOR FURN. RUGS. PACKERS, MOVERS, 2870 WASH ST. ROX. 4283.

OFFICES—STORES

STORE TO LET—Suitable for barber shop, cleaning, or any other business; reasonable. For full ref. Lee, 2073 or Dunn 0850.

STORE TO LET—Mass. Ave., Cambridge; excellent location for auto accessories or any business; rent reason. Univ. 0020-J.

REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES

F. E. MOYES—Second mortgage money, 20 Only in 1 State St., Rm. 643. Hub 0340.

$5 MORTGAGE—Second mortgage money. Call gage Co., 18 Tremont St., Rm. 815. Hub. 7262

ROOMS WITH BOARD

CHILDREN to board, private family, good mother's care, good care. Mrs. Hale, 8.

LARGE, attractively furn. rm. on bath rm. floor; also other rooms; near Beaver Field; cent. Brighton 2042-J.

PLEASANT rm.; board optional; home priv. 23 Gould Ave.; Malden 2533-M.

WANTED—Infant to board in private home by experienced nurse. Saugus 2844-M.

WANTED—Baby to board, prov. fam.; best of care; reference exchanged. Milton 2762.

WILL board 2 children, school age. Private family, best care reason, Arl. 2227-M.

YOUNG men to share with same; Canadian family; reas. Somerset 2092-W.

ROOMS WITHOUT BOARD

BEACON ST., 1083—Large and small furn. rms., permanent; ref. reas. Gerrit 0436.

COMMONWEALTH AVE., 1062; cool room, bath, gentlemen; ref. exch. Ken. 8159.

DORCHESTER—Nicely furn. rm., 8; home privileges; lady location business or couple preferred; reasonable. Gen. 7270.

HOPEDALE, NOW 30—Nice lt. housekeeping room; private fam.; ref. exch. Hope 4015-W.

REVERE—Newly rmmr., airy rooms, tuitable for gentlemen; ref. exch. Rev. 1900-M.

ROXBURY—Large front rm., beautifully furn., 2 beds; impts.; $7. Dudley 2418-J.

WINTHROP—Furn. rm., private bath, plenty of hot water, gentleman preferred. Quest 1408.

FURNISHED room, private family, take elderly lady to board. Col. 7270.

ROOMS FOR HOUSEKEEPING

BRIGHTON—1 or 2 front rooms, suitable couple; kitchen, privileges; near cars and trains. Aubur 0616.

CAMBRIDGE—18 Lancaster St., near Massachusetts Ave.; 2 large furn. rms. with kitchenette; 1 side rm., running water. Tel. Kirk. 9.

CHARLESTOWN—2 furn. rms., lt. hskpg. all conv.; 17 Lincoln St., Charlestown 1870.

CHARLESTOWN—2 furn. rms., bath; private entrance; light housekeeping; $18. Call evs. or Sun. Univ. 0353-J.

DORCHESTER—Large, sunny, furn. sitting room, bedroom, kitchenette; bath; furnished; 4 minutes to Park St. car. Neponset 0299.

SOMERVILLE—Lower flat, 4 rms., furn. or unfurn.; suitable for 2; $15. Call 7 to 9 Sun. 7705-M.

FURNISHED 3-room apartment, $5 a week; 2 Pitcher pl., off Washington St., near Columbia Rd. W. J. Paul, Dorchester.

UNFURNISHED APARTMENTS

BELMONT

We have some exceptionally good apartments, 5 rms. and bath, steam heat, hot water supply. Open Sundays and evenings, 139 Trapelo rd., Belmont.

2-3-ROOM SUITES

KITCHENETTE AND BATH
FINE CONDITION. RENTS $16-$18
ANNUITY BLDG., WEEKEND AVE.
BRIGHTON—Attrac. 4-rm. apt., good neighborhood, all mod. impts., adults; $40. Stan 7112-W.

CAMBRIDGE—5-room apt., st. heat, elec. cook, hot water; $70. Apply Janitor, 200 Mass. Ave., Porter 1372-J.

CAMBRIDGE—5-rm. sunny apt., modern, bath, $35. 229 Huron Ave. Univ. 6452-M.

DORCHESTER—Sunny 4-rm. apts.; all impts.; reasonable. Tel. Geneva 0000.

DORCHESTER—Templeton Way, 3-4 rms., all impts., $30-$35. PHOF 2 Modern Conch Co., Inc.

JAMAICA PLAIN—3-4-rm. suites, near Park St. car; very sunny; $30-$35. Jam. 1000.

EVERETT—5 ROOMS, NEAR BOULEVARD. IMPTS., $35. PHOF 2 Modern Conch Co., Inc.

MATTAPAN—13 Tampa St., off Oakland, 4 rms., impts., gas, new house, $31. 8242.

NEWTON—SUMMER 6 rm. attractive new 8-room apartment; all modern; ideal location; $60. Newton Corner, Newton 0168.

QUINCY—$50; new 2-room apt., bath, all impts.; 4 min. Quincy Sq. Stan. 1007-R.

ROXBURY—4 AND 5-ROOM SUITES, $16-$20. HAYMARKET 0092.

SOMERVILLE—Heated 4-rm. apt., all impts., sunny, summer $40, winter $45. Som. 7112-W.

SOMERVILLE—Winter Hill, Derby St., 4-3 rms., bath. $33-$35. Phof 2 Mod. Conch Co., Inc. Som. 6435-J.

SOMERVILLE—5-rm. modern apt., good location; reasonable. Som. 6134-J.

SOMERVILLE—Modern 4-rm. apt., prem., reception hall. All impts. Som. 8559-J.

SOMERVILLE—3 rms., all impts., convenient heat; near beach, cars and subway.

WASHINGTON ST., NEAR HOLLIS ST.—4 rms., all impts., electricity, steam heat. $40 month. 795 Wash. St.

JEWELRY—DIAMONDS

FOR DIAMONDS
CASH HIGHEST PRICES PAID PAID
BUYERS OF ESTATES
MAIL ORDERS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO HIGHEST PRICE PAID
EAGER BROS. 333 Washington St., Rm. 617

CASH For Diamonds, Watches Gold, Silver, Watercrum, Middlesex 1672.

L. LUFTIG, 333 Washington St. Rm. 618, Boston.

CLOTHING

Foreclosed Men's Suits, $2, $5, $10 up. Coats $2.50. Pants $1.50. Latest Models. Suitcases and Bags $8c. Trunks $4.50.

MAX'S LOAN OFFICE
170 Broadway, Boston Near Wash. St.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

100 PIANOS $25 up; $5 monthly. Brooks, 110 Summer St., over Marston's.

Automobiles and Accessories

Great Clearance Sale OF USED CARS

PRICES SLASHED!!

All Makes—All Models—All Years Every Price Range

DON'T MISS THIS SALE!

See Any of These Dealers

Noyes Buick Sales Company
857 Commonwealth Ave.
Boston, Mass.
Tel. Stadium 3600

Buick Sales Co. of Boston
92-94 Massachusetts Ave.
Boston, Mass.
Tel. Kenmore 6725

Arlington Buick Company
801 Massachusetts Ave.
Arlington, Mass.
Near High School Tel. Arl. 5321

Cambridge Buick Company
1728 Massachusetts Ave.
Cambridge, Mass.
Tel. Porter 2305

Dorchester Buick Company
692 Blue Hill Ave.
Dorchester, Mass.
Opp. Franklin Park Tel. Tel. 8900

Everett Buick Company
568 Broadway
Everett, Mass.
Cor. Hancock St. Tel. Everett 2314

South Shore Buick Company
Summer St., Hingham Harbor
Hingham, Mass.
Tel. Hingham 1073

Medford Buick Company
23 Salem St.
Medford, Mass.
At Medford Sq. Tel. Mystic 3285

Newton Buick Company
371 Washington St.
Newton, Mass.
At Newton Corner
Tel. Newton 7150-6180

South Shore Buick Company
Hancock Sq., Quincy, Mass.
Tel. Granite 4521

Roslindale Buick Company
24 Belgrade Ave.
Roslindale, Mass.
Opp. R. R. Sta. Tel. Park. 3258

Somerville Buick Company
418 Highland Ave.
Somerville, Mass.
At Davis Sq. Tel. Prospect 1066

Winthrop Buick Company
7 Cottage Park Rd.
Winthrop, Mass.
Tel. Ocean 1244

HENSHAW DODGE CARS

We are organized to handle thousands of motor vehicles annually. Full value — good service—low cost are our objectives. With us it is a matter of pride to attain them.

2 Examples—96 Other Fine Cars
1927 Dodge Cabriolet ...$725
1925 Essex Coach ... 195
1927 Dodge Spt. Rdstr.... 575
1927 Chevrolet Landau... 485
1926 Victory Touring 100
1926 Ford Touring 100
1926 Dodge De Luxe Sed. 425
1923 Cleland Coach 110

Easy Terms—Open Evenings
HENSHAW MOTOR CO.
985 Commonwealth Ave. Sta. 5390

GROVE HALL CHEVROLET

ROXBURY HIGH.6400
460 BLUE HILL AVE.

PRICES STILL LOWER
'28 CHEV. COACH, $315
Splendid condition throughout. Priced low for quick sale.
'27 CHEV. COACH, $295
2 to choose from; rebuilt and guaranteed.
'27 CHEV. LANDAU, $335
Completely reconditioned and is now like new; guaranteed.
'28 DODGE SEDAN, $485
Clean upholstery, good tires, splendid motor. Paint very good.
'28 OVERLAND SEDAN, $280
Price reasonable for quick sale. It is a bargain.
'24 FORD 4-DR. SEDAN, $90
TRUCKS
1927 CHEV. ½ TON, $285
Express body; good clutch. Completely overhauled.
SEVERAL FORD TRUCKS
All at New Low Prices
OPEN EVENINGS TERMS

JEFFERY NICHOLS MOTOR CO.

BUY USED CARS WHERE IT'S SAFE CHARGER
'27 Chevrolet Coach..$475
'25 Dodge Sedan 345
'25 Roo Sedan 395
'24 Pilot Tour. 195
'23 Hupp Coupe 95
'25 Ford Coupe 95
Open Evenings Easy Terms
971 COMMONWEALTH AVE. TEL. BRIGHTON 1000

10 1928 Essex Coaches $295
10 1928 Hudson Coaches $395

JUST OVERHAULED and re-Dunned, now new. Guaranteed. Terms. LYNN MOTOR MART, 184-197 Broad St., Lynn. Jackson 298.

1927 HUDSON COUPE

Perfect condition, $250 down, balance on easy terms.
Everett Knight Whippet Co.
305 BROADWAY, EVERETT
Tel. Everett 0023 Open Evenings

AUTO SAVE-YARD

Largest distributors of used auto parts in New England. Parts for all makes of cars.
1363 River St., Readville
TEL. HYDE PARK 0290

BUICK 6-cylinder Sedan, paint job just 1th, new, tires and mechanical condition of 1th best; upholstery very fine; only $250. Dunkin Chevrolet Co., 647 Mt. Auburn St., Watertown. Middlesex 1672.

CHANDLER Chummy Roadster, fine shape, st. good tires, Price $100. Studebaker 6 Touring, a bargain at $250. Ed Elmwood St., Newton Corners; tel. Ver-non North 8180.

1927 CHEVROLET Landau, with very low mileage; fire brand new oversize tires; mechanical condition guaranteed; upholstery very clean; price $675. Daniels Chevrolet Co., 647 Mt. Auburn St., Watertown; tel. Middlesex 1672.

'28 ESSEX COACH, Duco, latest colors, overhauled, price $215, terms. 430 Parker St., Tel. Roz. 2650.

IF YOU WILL COME OVER HERE WHERE RENT IS CHEAP WE WILL SELL YOU AN OAKLAND CAR OF ANY MODEL FROM $100 TO $150 OFF THE LIST PRICE.

(No car driven over 50 miles)

NEW CAR GUARANTEE
Will give you very liberal terms and more service than can be obtained from larger companies.

WE ALSO HAVE over FIFTY used cars ranging from CABRIOLETS to FORDS which we have taken in trade for Oaklands and Pontiacs.

We will sell them at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

CHARLESTOWN MOTOR SALES, INC.
402 Main Street, Charlestown
(Between Thompson and Sullivan Squares)
Tel. Charlestown 0034

Mid-Summer Clearance Sale at the Washington St. Garage
216 Washington St.
Tel. Granite 0000

'28 Ford Roadster, excellent condition, tires and motor fine $75
'28 Overland Sedan; a good buy at $175
Another Overland Sedan, '28 model, in A-1 condition; very clean; good running condition; balloon tires..... $295
'27 Chevrolet Sedan, good as new, looks like new $485
'27 Ford Tudor Sedan, in excellent condition throughout $295
'26 Chevrolet Landau Sedan, fine shape, used very little $600
'26 Chevrolet Imperial Landau; used as a demonstrator. Price right.
'26 Chevrolet Coach, new tires and tires; all equipped $450
1924 Chandler Sedan, real buy.
Your present car taken in trade. Terms.

AUTOMOBILE TRUCKS

FORD EXPRESS
1926 Ford Ton with closed cab and open express body, in mechanical condition, fine tires, new paint. Terms, $100 cash, balance in small monthly payments.
LINSCOTT MOTOR CO.
661 BEACON STREET
MR. ORR KEN more 6614

TAXI—MEN — ATTENTION

1924 Buick 7 pass sedan, has full equipment, including front seat partition; will sell cheap; will go on part payment. 20 Elmwood St., New. Cor.; tel. N. N. 8180.

FRANKLIN TOURING CAR

Equipped with 5 wire wheels. Model 9B, $125. GERMAIN MOTOR CO.
123 Eastern Ave. Malden 2106

NASH 1926 ADVANCED 6 COACH

Price right; terms
GERMAIN MOTOR CO.
123 Eastern Ave. Malden 2106

1926 STANDARD 6 Buick touring, fine upholstery, motor and tires in exceptional-ly good condition; price $375. Daniels Chevrolet Co., 647 Mt. Auburn St., Watertown; tel. Middlesex 1672.

4 USED CAR IS A GOOD BUY WITH MISREPRESENTATION REMOVED CLEVELAND SEPARATOR CO. STORE
USED CAR SALESROOM 795 BEACON St.
Good selection of used cars, very low prices. Zandtos Motor Co., 137 Wash. St., Dor. Tel. Lib. 2242.

$95.00 DOWN buys a dandy '26 model 4-door coach, full price $245. 713 Brighton Ave., Allston. Sta. 0032.

USED CAR bargains; best selection; all styles. H. G. A. Motor, 120 Main St., Malden.

USED CAR bargains; Oakland, Pontiac, Commonwealth Ave. at Amory St.

SELL us your car for cash—Park Square Auto Co., 288 Columbus Ave.

Roads, new, 1st. $5, 2 for $7. order now Royal Tire Co., 800 Columbus Ave.

GENUINE PRICE Reductions

SUBSTANTIAL SAVINGS
1926 DODGE Coupe. This car has been thoroughly overhauled and newly refinished in our own shop. Tires and motor are in A-1 condition; really clean. Extra equipment $415
1925 FORD Tudor Sedan. In good running condition. A very clean car throughout. Upholstery and tires are good $115
1926 OLDSMOBILE 4-Door Sedan. Thoroughly reconditioned. The original finish is like new. Equipped with four new first quality tires. Sold with a 30-day written guarantee $495
1925 DURANT Touring. This car has had but one owner and has always had good care. It is very good shape throughout. Tires are $125
1927 OLDSMOBILE 6-Passenger Sport Roadster. Thoroughly reconditioned in our own shop. A very attractive car $575
1925 JEWETT 4-Door Sedan. Thoroughly overhauled. Can hardly be told from a new car. Exceptionally good buy at... $495

45 OTHER FINE CARS RANGING IN PRICE FROM $75 UP

Special Easy Payment Plan
Boston Oldsmobile Co.
940 Commonwealth Avenue
Opposite Braves Field
KENMORE 6090
OPEN EVENINGS

USE US

BEFORE YOU BUY
We have 155 reasons or cars that must be sold. All have been reconditioned and are in good shape. No reasonable offer refused.
CARS, TERMS or TRADE
Central Sq. Motor Mart
232-236 Mass. Ave. Cambridge
Corner Windsor and Mass. Ave.
Phone Porter 1460 Cars Seen Any Time

STUTZ
Sport model tour., motor in excellent condition, tires in good shape. Price $145.W.
TOW ROPES—50 strength quality and very handy. At any Shulman store; 6 stores in Greater Boston.

BOSTON AMERICAN

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice at Boston, Mass., under act of March 3, 1879, also at the Postoffice Department, Ottawa.

Published daily (except Sunday) Washington Square, Boston 9, Mass., by HEARST NEWSPAPER PUBLISHING COMPANY.

AUTOMOBILE SCHOOLS

15 AUTO LESSONS $10
LICENSE COURSE GUARANTEED
2 ROAD LESSONS $5—CLOSED CARS
L. VINCENT, 926 Huntington Ave.
Cor. Calumbus St., Sta. 2, Centerway, Jam. 2779

8 AUTO LESSONS—$5
Expert instruction; guaranteed. Hard Bay auto school, 65 Huntington Ave. Boston. Tel. Back Bay 1225.

REL. AUTO SCHOOL—7 LESSONS $5
Tel. LICENSE COURSE—$10 OPEN EVGS.
313A HUNTINGTON AVE. BACK BAY 2902

MIT AUTO SCHOOL—8 LESSONS $5
362A TREMONT ST., ASK ABOUT OUR LICENSE COURSE. CAPITOL 9600

We guarantee to teach you until you get a license. 675 Tremont St. Org. 6807

Real estate values are growing steadily in Boston. If you ever intend to own your home, buy it now! See the home bargains offered today in the Classified Ads.

MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news credited to it or to any of its members not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are reserved.

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE ☆ ☆ BOSTON ~~EVENING~~ AMERICAN ☆ ☆ BOSTON, JULY 19, 1928

NATIONAL POLICIES OF THE HEARST NEWSPAPERS

1. An agreement of English-speaking peoples to preserve peace among themselves and promote the peace of the world.
2. A constitutional amendment to provide for the election of United States Senators in numbers proportionate to the population of each State, but no State to have less than two Senators. A reapportionment of Congressional representation immediately after every census, or in case of the failure of Congress so to act, to make the apportionment automatic at the end of the first Congressional session, the proportion of population for each representative in each case to be that of the existing Congress.
3. A separate Department of the Army, of the Navy and of the Air Forces, all united under a Secretary of National Defence.
4. Federal action to the limit of Federal Government powers to abolish illiteracy among the people of the United States, and the creation of a Secretary of Education.
5. Necessary measures to secure the election of Congress in November and its installation on the 1st of January following, and the inauguration of a President on the 1st of January immediately following his election in November.

At Last, an Airport

A REAL Airport, BEST IN THE U. S. A.!

The politically minded will be excused if, rubbing their eyes over the unexpected announcement that Governor and Mayor finally have been brought together on the subject of the Airport, they give to the Honorable James M. Curley at least a little credit for the happy ending.

As recently as a month ago the problem of the Airport was ONE of the subjects upon which State House and City Hall were as far apart as the Poles.

While business men, army officers, flying men and air-way organizations pressed for action, officialdom backed and filled, hummed and hawed, proposed this and objected to that, in the manner of politicians NOT exactly "air-minded."

In June a year ago this newspaper, day after day over a considerable period, placed before the people of Boston and their representatives in the Government the story of What the Airport Needs.

It was made plain by these articles that the Airport needed just about everything.

It needed lighting facilities. It needed larger landing areas. There was a call for the rearrangement of hangars, for facilities for the use of seaplanes in the adjacent waters, for automobile parking space for visitors.

These things still are needed.

The American Legion pressed for a thorough investigation of the Airport situation throughout the State and a Special Commission was appointed.

A Municipal Air Board helped to keep the subject before the public.

In December, last, Vice-President E. C. Johnson of the Chamber of Commerce led a committee of 12 to the Mayor's office and presented Mr. Nichols with a petition signed by 411 of the city's foremost men of business. The Airport was then nearly five years old. The time had come, they felt, for a definite program of development. The Mayor "neither promised nor refused to do something," we were told. He would have his Law Department "study the matter."

Mr. Nichols at one time was of the opinion that the Airport is as much a ward of the Metropolitan District as a charge of Boston. If it MUST be taken over by the city—and throughout the country municipal fields are the rule—he wanted permanent tenure rather than lease. The land is owned by the Commonwealth.

Governor Fuller, knowing that if the State should GIVE all this terrritory to the City of Boston other cities and towns would expect like generosity, insisted upon a "lease."

Finally, one week ago today, something happened.

The Crosscup-Pishon Post of the Legion, in co-operation with the National Aeronautical Association and the Chamber of Commerce, opened a drive for $50,000, with which to build a memorial control tower at the Airport.

There was a luncheon, and one after another the speakers stressed the importance of State and City "getting together."

One of the speakers was former Mayor Curley, who likes to describe himself as "on vacation from the City Hall."

The former Mayor electrified the gathering by declaring that if the controversy were not settled before 1930 HE would settle it.

Mr. Curley urged:

1—That at least $15,000,000 be spent on the Airport.

2—That the entire area between Airport and Governor's Island be reclaimed for Airport purposes.

3—That a railroad be built to the field.

4—That the Airport be made big enough to accommodate the largest dirigible, or the biggest plane, which may be built in the next 25 years.

In the newspapers next day the "Curley" Airport plan was given due publicity. WITHIN ONE WEEK, the Mayor of Boston and the Governor of Massachusetts, only recently so far apart on the subject, came together on a joint plan to make Boston's Airport the "finest thing of its kind on the Coast."

How this happy ending WAS brought about we are not told and we do not pretend to know. Mr. Curley's Chamber of Commerce speech may have had much, or little, or NOTHING to do with it. Recalling that upon a day in January the former Mayor was himself accusing the State of trying to "dump" the Airport upon an unwilling Boston, it is our opinion that the men who have "put the Airport across" are the men who have been with and for the proposition from its inception.

They are, first and foremost, men active in the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

They were Chamber of Commerce men who, somstime in 1921, it will be recalled, first suggested a Boston Airport. When, urged by the Chamber, the Legislature appropriated $35,000 for the improvement of these Jeffries Point mud flats, the Chamber added $15,000 to this amount, raised by popular subscription.

The Boston Evening American sincerely and heartily congratulates Governor Alvan T. Fuller and Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols upon this week's Airport good news. Mr. Nichols says we are to have the finest airport in the United States. Strength and power and all success to that determination!

The State has LEASED the port to the city for a 20-year term, the first 10 years at $1 a year. Should the State recover the property at the end of 20 years the city will be reimbursed for such moneys as have been expended in development.

His Honor the Mayor is asking the Legislature for au-

Continued in last two columns.

$250,000 for the Airport

By FRANKLIN COLLIER

THEY ALL MUST THINK I HAVE HALITOSIS!
OWING TO MANY REQUESTS THE CITY MAY PLANT A LOT OF YOUNG PINE TREES ALONG THE SIDE OF THE RUNWAY FOR STUDENTS TO LAND IN AFTER THEIR FIRST SOLO FLIGHT.
REALLY NEEDED TO PREVENT VISITORS FROM BEING SUBJECTED TO PROP DUST SAND STORMS.
IT HAS BEEN SUGGESTED THAT THE CITY USE A PART OF THE PROPOSED $250,000, FOR A SPECIAL OUTDOOR STUDIO WITH BACK DROP, KLIEG LIGHTS, &c. FOR FUTURE CITY RECEPTION COMMITTEES TO USE IN WELCOMING DISTINGUISHED FLIERS TO THE AIR PORT.
ARE PLANES ALL STANDARD GEAR SHAFT?
ARE FLIERS ALL NEAR-SIGHTED THAT THEY ALL WEAR GLASSES?
AN INFORMATION BOOTH IS BADLY NEEDED AT THE AIRPORT.
THAT DOUBLE O XO IS A BUNDLE OF HAYWIRE. SHE WON'T REV-UP TO 1200 R.P.M.
THE CITY SHOULD PROVIDE AN INTERPRETER, ALSO.
PROPOSED DESIGN FOR THE AIR BEACON.
DENSER GROW WHO WANTS THE CITY TO INSTALL A RUBBER LANDING FIELD CAPABLE OF BEING BLOWN UP.
DENSER IS IN THE RUBBER BUSINESS.
NAUGHTY MECHANICS WHO THROW ROCKS AT PRESS PHOTOGRAPHERS AFTER A SPECIAL RADIO TIP TO THE PRESS PHOTOGRAPHERS THAT THEY ARE URINO CONTAINING ASSORTED STONES, BRICKS &c &c.
BEAT IT!

New York Day by Day

O.O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 18—New York is slowly becoming slumless. Great block-long chunks have been taken out of the teeming East Side tenement district to make way for livable apartment house quarters at reasonable rental. A great change comes to what O. Henry called the submerged tenth.

While the greatest of economic problems has not been solved, the progress in the past 10 years has been startling. Uptown New York with accustomed smugness scarcely realizes the insecurity and uncertainty, which have been the heritage of the poor, have almost vanished.

The people of the East Side no longer sit about in a state of inarticulate futility. There is a wave of briskness and energy. Where once stood the dingy shop, there is now the magnificence of a plate glass window display.

Even the abiding smell of the East Side has changed. Once it had a stuffy mustiness like the dry and odor of an old prison. It assailed the nostrils with a feeling of depression. Today there is the fragrance of cleanliness. The streets washed clean and floors scrubbed white.

There are very few flats not equipped with a bath. There is a constant succession of potted plants on the window ledges and that squalor which used to hide in the alleys and byways is gone. There is bloom to the cheeks of the anaemic, spindle-legged children.

I can remember when East Side children would slink away to shadowy doorways when a stranger passed. It was a striking illustration of class and its consciousness. Now they romp on the sidewalk with abandon and arrogance. There are few tattered gamins in rags.

The sweatshop, too, with wan figures toiling over sewing machines in a grumpy light was once one of the depressing sights for the slummer. With few exceptions, they are now well lighted and airy lofts. The workers are well dressed and to all appearances happy.

OLIVER HERFORD and a friend were crossing Gramercy Park when his companion noticed the flag half staff at the Players. "I want to stop in a second," he said, "to see who is dead."

"O, come on," replied Herford. "It is never the right one."

WHEN a popular actress had her nose bobbed some time ago, Charles Hanson Towle observed: "She has cut off her nose to spite her face." The craze for nose-bobbing, incidentally, has not been confined to any particular race. Six out of eight of such operations performed on stage folk were for upturned, snub, retousse or whatever they call them.

HE is one of the most adroit of the American comedians. He has poise, diction, an excellent singing voice, a marvelous sense of both high and low comedy, a handsome face, magnificent physique and (I'm not thinking of marrying him) lots of that indefinable quality known as personality. Also he has the most expressive hands of anyone on the speaking stage. Yet he has never clicked in a great big way. He gets across the footlights the feeling he is entirely content. And nothing is so disturbing to an audience as an actor satisfied with himself. Incidentally, the comedian's name is Frank Fay.

THERE are other actors whose attitude is somewhat like that of the average cafe proprietor who hostless license he gives the impression he has gone to the ends of the earth to get you the drink and despite the fact he is charging you $1.25 for a 15-cent drink you get the idea he is expecting you to remember him in your will.

FROM an Arkansas paper: "The average New Yorker imagines the only music we hear in Arkansas is the howl of a lonesome hound." Just a little Bach, as it were. I know, but there wasn't much material for a pun to work with in the first place.

Copyright, 1928, by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

At Last, an Airport

Continued from first two columns.

thority to borrow $250,000 outside the debt limit. His Excellency the Governor asks legislators to give this request "due consideration." Boston will grade and fill the flats, as needed, will erect such buildings as may be required, will put in the needed lights and, in a word, will equip the Airport for SUCCESSFUL operation.

More than one or two or three citizens are entitled to honorable mention today, as we contemplate the Airport's past and consider its future, and, even at the risk of forgetting someone, the Boston Evening American must mention:

Gardiner H. Fiske, Howard Coonley, R. T. Raymond, Jr., W. Irving Bullard, Major Ira Longnecker, Captain Horace N. Heisen, U. S. A.; Porter Adams, Andrew J. Peters, Arthur L. Richmond, Crawford H. Hollidge, Raymond Baldwin, Major Charles A. Wooley, Paul J. Bertelsen, E. C. Johnson, Lieutenant Donald Duke, U. S. A., and Daniel Rochford.

Honor and praise be theirs, one and all.

And now, to work!

We are singularly blest in the situation of this Airport, which is within a ten-minute drive of business and hotels.

Improve the approaches, make it a SHORT ten minutes.

Let us prepare NOW for the AIR COMMERCE of the future.

Our worthy Mayor says he intends to provide here the best port in all the country for ships of the air.

Let him know you APPROVE of that determination.

The call is for PROGRESS!

SOME THOUGHTS ON BLACK SHEEP

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A WOMAN has written to me, wanting to know what to do in the case of her son. She says he won't go to school, he won't do useful work and tends generally to consort with dissolute companions.

I may as well confess right now that I cannot answer her question. I know all the arguments about love and kind treatment and psychological study and patience and so on, and I know also that there are cases that none of these things fit.

I do not suppose there is one family among my readers unable to confess to some sort of black sheep; some boy or girl that persists in going wrong in spite of everything.

Much is said of preachers' sons who turn out badly and the implication is that they have been treated too strictly in their youth, so that in later years they rebel.

Some say that children should be carefully disciplined and rigidly instructed, but such children have not always done so well in later years.

In fact I have known the children of utterly loose and careless parents to turn out to be strict models of propriety, and others who have had every advantage of favorable environment go swiftly to the dogs.

Some say that children should be given their freedom and allowed to do as they please, but that does not always work.

When I was young and my children were little I had some very fine theories about child training, but now that I am older I am willing to confess that the whole problem is too much for me.

You may talk about your heredity and about a child inheriting the bad traits of his grandunecle and about environment and about the whole trouble with children being that they are not properly disciplined. All this is very interesting reading. But the fact remains that the irresponsible and wayward sheep is in almost every family of my acquaintance.

Not long ago a prominent banker showed me a letter he had from his son, telling him that if he did not receive some money immediately he would commit suicide. The reply of the banker may not have been judicious, but it was interesting. He said to his son, "I have no money to send you, but don't let that deter you."

Reproduced, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

AGNES is jealous again. That girl's tonsils are actually swimming in venom, she's so mad. For Jim's been driving that Rogers girl home from the office and she's positive — POSITIVE — that there's Something Doing.

About once every six months Agnes goes on one of her jealous orgies. The rest of the time she spends recovering from her seizure and telling Jim how sorry she is that she doubted him. Some day, if Jim has the gumption of a gooseberry, he'll call her bluff and really give her something to worry about.

The whole case against jealousy is this—

WHAT DOES IT BUY YOU?

NOTHING BUT GRIEF.

Jealousy isn't a civilized thing. It's a hangover from our primitive, brute equipment of fear and greed. Brutes are jealous. When we're jealous, we're brutes. Frightened, unreasoning brutes. And unreasoning frightened methods won't get you very far in a civilized world.

Jealousy is bad medicine, any way you take it. If there isn't trouble, it will surely start some. And if there is a real problem, it will make it worse.

If you want to cope with a problem in the year 1928 you must use your head. The time has passed when you can tackle life with tooth and toenail. Jealousy spasms are not civilized tactics. THEY'RE TOENAIL TECHNIQUE.

Is love slipping from you? Then be sure of this—YOU YOURSELF, ARE PRIMARILY AT FAULT.

No man or woman can take from you anything that really belongs to you—anything that really needs you. That love which you fear to lose may never have belonged to you. A wedding ring doesn't necessarily mean a wedded soul. Or your love may have been built on the weak foundation of infatuation which you have never tried to strengthen. Or you may have been so sure of love that you have fallen down on your job. In either case, jealousy will not help you. Spying and suspecting, nagging and storming will avail you nothing. The only constructive method is to get busy.

GET BUSY AND BUILD.

Strengthen that weak foundation. Improve that sloppy service.

Will that always hold slipping love? No, it won't. And some slipping love isn't worth holding. But it will hold YOU strong and steady against the pain and peril of life. And YOU will emerge from your trial victorious, even though you have lost that thing on which you had set your heart. Whereas if you give way to jealousy you will lose your own strength as well as the object of your affections.

"But I know an awfully jealous woman who keeps her husband in his place," you say.

No doubt you do. And I know a woman who has a trained flea. If you like trained fleas or husbands who are kept-in-their-places by jealousy, by all means go in for that fretful vice. But if you want the love and respect of free, friendly humans, LAY OFF THAT TOENAIL TECHNIQUE!

Copyright, 1928, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

Wealth is to be used only as the instrument of action; not as the representative of civil honors and moral

The most certain sign of being born with great qualities is to be born without envy.

What Do You Know?

BOSTON'S ORIGINAL KNOWLEDGE TEST

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Do you know:

1—Where is Westminster Abbey?

2—What author said:

"O to be in England
Now that April's there"?

3—What is an adz?

4—Who composed "Il Trovatore"?

5—In what book is Dolly Varden a character.

6—Where is Bangkok?

7—Who was a Greek writer of fables?

Match correctly the quotations to the right character:

8—"What's in a Cardinal Woolsey"? Richard III.

9—"Double, double, toil and trouble"

10—"Alas, poor Juliet Yorick"

11—"Farewell, a long farewell to all my greatness"

12—"My kingdom Hatniet for a horse"

What is the opposite of 13—Omniscient

14—Sobriety

15—Acrid

"Macbeth"

See tomorrow's paper to verify your results. Answers to yesterday's test:

1—Scottish poet. 2—English actor. 3—Austrian composer. Norwegian dramatist. 5—American composer. 6—American naval officer. 7—Cordelia. 8—Temperance. 9—New Brunswick. 10—Mathematics. 11—Haemoglobin. 12—John Keats. 13—Mediterranean. 14—Feet. 15—Mother of pearl color.

Copyright, 1928, Boston American and King Features Syndicate, Inc.